MR. EDITOR:-Three severe elec Mil. EDITOR:— Three severe electric storms visited this section on Saturday and Sunday, doing a good deal of damage. A barn on the Fruit farm, near Turbotville, and occupied by Charles Miller, was struck and burned. He succeeded in getting his horses and some harness out, but lost his farming, implements, grain and horses and some harness out, but lost his farming implements, grain and hay. He had an insurance, but I did not learn how much. During the same shower, a barn of Ben Savidge's was struck and damaged, but did not burn. A barn on the Peter Harmon estate, near North Bend was struck and began burning, but as the fluid did not come in contact with highly inflammable material the fire was put out before it had gained much headway. A barn belonging to H. M. Smith, at Schuyler was struck. The lightning entered at the apex of the Smith, at Schuyler was struck. The lightning entered at the apex of the roof at the western end and followed the rafters to the conductors and then to the ground. It splintered both rafters into kindlings, damaging the shingling, and ripping the weather boarding all loose. A locust tree standing near George Keller's house was struck and the chicken house on the lot of Mr. Karshner had one end torn out. On Sunday a large barn torn out. On Sunday a large bar

The seventeen year locusts have made their appearence in this vicinity. They are especially thick in the trees along the streams and in the twoods. In some places they are so thick that branches of trees can hardly be seen. They attack almost any kind of tree, beginning at the bottom they ascend the branches, sinking their swords in to the tender twig continuously until the end or top of the twig is reached and at each insertion eggs are deposited. Their sting seems to be poison to the trees, a short time after the trees are punctured the leaves curl and die. It is not thought that they will cause much destruction on vegetation, all though they will be hard on the fruit trees. The farmers are glad they only consequence of pullided lable.
