WALLED HIM UP ALIVE. Man Sentenced to be Crucified for Killing 36 Women Meets Other Horror.

Tangier, June 15.—According to advices received from Marakesh, the Cobbler Mesewi, who had been convicted of the murder of thirty-six women whose bodies were found buried under his shop in his garden, has expired his crime.

Instead of being crucified, as had been ordered, at the last moment it was ordered that he be wall up alive. Previous to the final act in the tragedy, Mesewi was subjected to daily floggings. While the masons were working they were surrounded by a mob, who jeered Mesewi.

The first two days of his entombment the cobbler screamed continuously, but the third day the living tomb gave forth no sound. It is presumed the murderer died of exhaustion.
