call a halt on the payments. It has been shown by recent events that the foresight of the gang was excellent, and yet it is hard to reconcile it with the evident belief prevailing last summer and into September that the cat would not get out of the bag before the election. Perhaps that false sense of security was due in some measure to the fact that Berry, as he admits, was the fact that Borry, as he admits, was fooled by the "smooth fellows" on the first bill that reached him—the one for the $90,000 balance on "parquetry," but after that Mr. Berry got "wise." But Mathues makes a poor fast of it by saying that "Berry is liable to do by saying that "Berry is liable to do anything. He lied about the treasury in saying that he found the books in chaos, and therefore nothing that he says now surprises me." Mathues may be half right if he means that the pub-lic has already learned so much that it would not be surprised to find out that Berry is too low in his estimate of the total graft.
