WE are authorized to announce the name of ANDREW J. STEINMAN as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer...

—THERE are honest men, and plenty of them, but they do not have their deeds and affairs blazoned to the world like the rascals do. In this fact alone is found proof that it is the dishonest rather than the honest man who is out of the ordinary...

—We would not for a minute appear in the light of approving the doings of an Iowa girl by the name of Bessie Aggroves; in fact we unhesitatingly declare our utter disapproval, and we think nearly everybody will agree with us in saying that Bessie is a bad, bad girl...

Pertinent. An honest man will not overwork a borrowed horse. The road to trouble is all down grade and always nicely shaded...

That Speech of Barney's

By Ina Wright Hanson

Copyright, 1906, by Ina Wright Hanson

Had Irinda been beautiful or had she known that there were times when she was very charming indeed it never would have happened. Irinda's worst fault was morbidness when she remembered that she was sallow and pale eyed and had sandy hair...

HER EYES WANDERED TO THE OPPOSITE SIDE OF THE CAR.

Francisco and a week of grand opera. Jim, her satellite, was along, not because he appreciated grand opera, but because he appreciated Irinda.

So much for the hero and heroine. Next the villain, to whom his Celtic mother and given a ravishing pair of blue eyes and a tongue tuned to soft words. Barney was not a villainous villain at all—just a warm hearted boy who loved everybody and wanted to be loved by everybody in turn.

As the train sped along Jim went to the smoker—not to smoke, for he had never learned how, but because he feared Irinda might be trying to kill him. Barney immediately took his place.

"Oh, Barney," breathed Irinda, "isn't the bride lovely? Do look at that butterfly in her veil just at the corner of her sweet red mouth! See that perfect curve from her forehead to her chin as she looks out the window. Now, quick, Barney, she is trying to kill me!"

Happy thoughts fluttered around Irinda for the rest of the journey. Barney left her, and Jim came back. She smiled at him. He didn't know it was an impersonal smile, born of Barney's words. She remembered the day when she had cried out nervously at her lack of beauty, and Jim had answered:

—I have been noticing the ladies in this car, and I don't believe I ever saw so many beautiful ones together. Don't you know it is rare to find a really beautiful woman? If her eyes are fine, something is wrong with her chin; if her nose—

UNCOOKED MEAT IS VERY DANGEROUS

Fearful Suffering Caused by Eggs of Parasite Which it may Contain—Statement by a Priest.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 21. Probably the most unusual feature of the excitement that has been created by L. T. Cooper's visit to this city is the removal of parasites or tape-worms by his preparations.

During the early part of Cooper's stay in Cincinnati individuals who were taking "New Discovery," as it is called, brought either to himself or to physicians throughout the city immense quantities that had left the system after using the medicine.

Many of these people were frightened, and cases of this sort became so numerous that Cooper finally made the following statement for publication:

He said: "In every city I visit these things are brought to me within a few days after my medicine is sold. They are what is known as the tape-worm, and grow to an enormous size."

"Few indeed realize how prevalent these creatures are. I think I have been the first to demonstrate what a large factor they are in the poor health of this generation. I believe that fully one-half of the chronic stomach trouble so universal is caused by these parasites."

"Individuals may have them for years and not be aware of the reason for the continued ill health but attribute it to many different diseases, when in reality one of these creatures is robbing them of their vitality."

"These parasites are taken into the system in uncooked food or raw meat, in the form of an egg, which hatches almost immediately. People suffering from them experience a feeling of lassitude and are extremely nervous. The action of the 'New Discovery' seems to be fatal to these great worms, and in most cases a few doses of the medicine will kill them."

Jim, her satellite, was along, not because he appreciated grand opera, but because he appreciated Irinda. So much for the hero and heroine. Next the villain, to whom his Celtic mother and given a ravishing pair of blue eyes and a tongue tuned to soft words.
