IN RESPONSE TO HER "FAREWELL TO SCHOOL-MATES AND TEACHERS"

Farewell! my heart responds to thine,
To each kind word you've treasured;
Farewell! but ever bear in mind
That time cannot efface

The thoughts of bygone days and hours
Mid pleasures, grief or pain,
For Hope's bright star doth seem to lower,
And whither—"we'll meet again!"

But, for a while, we'll say farewell!
Where oft we met each morn,
To each dear one I say farewell,
Not time to number on.

I'll not forget a girl or boy
That came three days by night,
That Learning's wealth they might enjoy
Ere youth be passed away.

THE RESULTS OF COPPERHEADISM.
We do not see how any man, who has a spark of patriotism yet, is to fire his blood, and read the proceedings of the late Illinois rebellion without at least admitting to himself, if he does not declare openly, that the men who initiated these proceedings are, in every sense of the word, traitors.

Friends of prisoners arriving here, may have the assurance and satisfaction of knowing that they are well cared for from the moment they arrive here, but life is so far gone in many instances, that all efforts are hopeless.

May God and all who love him, haste the day.
The 100th Pa. arrived here yesterday. Two hundred paroled prisoners, belonging to regiments living in the West, were sent to Camp Chase and Benton Barracks, Mo., to-day. Yours truly,
AMERICAN SOLDIER.

COMMUNICATIONS.
For the Citizen.
A Word of Counsel to Children.
Permit me to say to you children, I always have a great interest in your welfare. Ten years of my life were passed almost exclusively in the society of children, and the remembrance of them is mingled with many a pleasant association.

That the Illinois riot was produced entirely by Copperhead teachings is not putting the fact strong enough. The purpose of the intense school of Copperheadism is treason and treason only. Time and again have prominent leaders of that party shown their sympathy with the rebels by words and acts, the disloyalty of which no sophistry could conceal; time and again have bands of their deluded followers, with arms on their shoulders and blood on their hands, defied the officers of the United States and attempted to nullify its laws.

The government at Washington has not been severe enough with these domestic traitors. Had it two years ago hung the first dozen of them who were found in arms against its authority, we would not now be called upon to chronicle this Illinois "riot." We hope that every copperhead engaged in that "riot" will be pursued until caught, and when caught will be meted to suffer the fate which should be meted to all traitors.

How THE REBELS STEAL SUPPLIES SENT TO UNION PRISONERS.—A letter from Annapolis, Md., says:
"The reminiscences of the returned officers from Libby are in the main similar, and mostly a repetition of the old tale. The officers explain the dodge by which they have been made to believe that the boxes sent from home and by the Sanitary Commission have been or are being delivered, thus: When a flag of truce boat arrives, the rebels distribute a few boxes, but stop the moment the next batch of released prisoners are off. These men seeing the distribution going on, announce that fact at home. It is availed by more than one officer cognizant of the facts, that there have been at least two thousand boxes received by the rebels, but never distributed, some of which are now on hand. The method of giving the contents of a box to its owner is somewhat ingenious, but quite destructive. The fortunate prisoner is required to bring his blanket and spread it on the ground. The box is opened, and package after package taken out and examined. Cheeses are cut into inch pieces and pitched into the blanket. Cans of condensed milk are perforated with a steel pointed baton and follow suit. Packages of coffee, tea, sugar, salt, etc., are torn open and poured into the conglomeration. Cans of butter are treated in a cans of milk, and so on through the whole category of goodies. The unfortunate owner is then told to take up his blanket and walk, which he does, cursing the brute who spoiled first his luxuries and then his comfort.

What Pennsylvania has Done.
We are indebted to Hon. Alfred Slack, of the House of Representatives, for a copy of the annual report of Adjutant General Russell, for the year 1863. The following brief summary exhibits what Pennsylvania has done in the way of contributing men to put down the rebellion:

The first levy of men was twenty-five infantry regiments for three months' service, numbering 20,970 men. This was followed, under act of Congress, July 22, 1861, by the organization of four independent regiments, numbering 4,711 of them.

Thirteen regiments of infantry, one of cavalry and one of artillery, numbering 15,896 men, were raised under the act of May 15, 1861.

Under the act of Congress, July 22, 1861, and upon direct requisition of the President, seventy-three regiments, including three of artillery and twelve of cavalry, were organized. They numbered 80,946 men.

Under the call of July 7, 1862, forty-three regiments were organized, including eighteen regiments of nine months' men, sixty regiments of six months' men, six regiments of three months' men, and one of artillery. They numbered 200,900 men.
