"Arthur," for September, is on our table. This number fully sustains the well earned reputation of this excellent periodical. A copy of it should be found in every intelligent family.

-A one hundred dollar ($100) U. S.bond of the first series of the 7.30, dated August, 15th, 1864, was lost in or near the Borough of Butler last week. Any person finding the same will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at the Bank in this

We would advise all those who expect to be engaged in the very laudable occupation of imparting "ideas" to the youth of our county, during the coming winter, to pay strict attention to the notice of the county Superintendent, Rev A. H. Waters found in another column Let all attend these public examinations and thus they will avoid the inconve nience to, both themselves and the 'Superintendent, of having special or "private" examinations. Again we say give heed to this notice in time.

Soldier's Monument Meeting. A meeting will be held in the Court House, on Wednesday, the 23d inst., at 4 o'clock P. M. relative to the erection of Monuments to the memory of those soldiers of Butler, who fell in the service of their country. A general attendance, especially of the ladies, is requested.

We call attention to the advertisement of the Duplex Elliptic or double Spring Skirt. Though a recent invention, it has become very popular, and is rapidly obtaining the preference over other kinds in use. The rods in it are each of two delicate and well-tempered steel springs which are ingenuously braided together edge to edge, the lower rods heavier, and having a double covering. This peculiar ity of construction makes this skirt very strong and durable, and also very exceedingly flexible that it readily adapts itself to the form of the wearer, and allows any amount of doubling and crushing without injury to its shape. These skirts are unquestionably the lighest, most desirable, comfortable and economical ever made. These are advantages which ladies, who have experienced the discomfort and inconvenience of single springs, will duly of the Law of Nature applied to the Affairs of Nations and Soverigns," first published in 1758,) in which he treats "Of Civil War," he distinctly states how such great, public criminals as Jefferson Davis and colleagues may be justly treated. He says. "When the Sovereign has subdued the opposite party, and reduced them to submit ond sue for peace, he may expect from the amnesty the authors of the disturbance, the heads of the party; he may bring them to a legal trial, and punish them if they be found guilty. He may act in this manner particularly on occasion of those dist rbances in which the interests of the people are not so much the object in view as the private aim of some powerful individuals, and which rather deserve the name of revolt than of civil war."

MEMPHIS. August 20.—Some soldiers who left Jackson, Tennessee, a few days ago, to hunt up horses that had been stolen, were attacked by a large number of guerrillas and driven back. They were obliged to abondon their horses. their horses. It is reported that three soldiers were killed after falling the hands of the gueraillas. Two of the guerrillas have been capt-

Figure 1 Schenck spoke at Chillicothe a few evenings since, in which he made some statements of interest of the President's views regarding the South. The General said two courses were open in the dealing with the South after the war closed. The President might have held the rebellious states in subjection as a conquered people until satisfied of their entire loyalty, and until reinstated in their former positions by legislative action; or he might have withdrawn the military force over their ividit functions logally and in their relations to the other States. From the start there were objections to each of these courses, and the President combined them holding a military force over them at the same time that he allowed them to reinstate these civil powers, and begin again the exercise of their loyal functions. This latter privilege, however, was only an experiment, and the speaker assured his hearers that President Johnson so regarded it. Only ten days ago, in a full and free interview with him. tion, referred to the course that had just been pursued in reference to the Rich-mond election, where the citizens manifested their rebellious spirit by electing to office the very men who had recently been in arms against the Gevernment. It was with his sanction that the military ## authorities set aside that election, and gave this as an example of what might be ex-pected in other cases of a similar kind. SPECIAL NOTICES.
