The farmers tell us, to our sorrow,
That cows are very dry this year;
But who from this can comfort borrow
While butter is so extremely deer.
Should you offer them but forty,
They'd kick up a precious row,
So I mistir in loudly bawking—
Who can pay for butter now!

Around the market I am marching.

Asking who will tell me how,
In the name of all that's dreadful,
Who can pay for butter now?

Ob. I'll soak my bread in gravy!
Or any other kind of grease,
Thus making all the greedy farmers
Gladly sue for terms of peace,
But will they keep up their prices,
To imposition I'll ne'er how,
And tell them plainly to their faces,
"I'm blowed if I buy butter now!"

CHOR.—Around the markets I am marching.

Asking all to tell me how,

In the name of all that's fearful,

Who can pay for butter now?

A Law Against Weeds.

I have an abhorrence of weeds. They are defined as "plants out of place;" and although there may be some that are useful in the economy of nature, their presence upon our farms is sadly "out of place," and we should but regard them as a great

My prejudice against them may in a measure have arisen from the fact that in early boyhood my occupation was that of unceasing warfare against them—the task of their cradication being assigned me by my father—whose command generally was, when nothing else demanded particular attention "go pull weeds". Thus the word weed had the unpleasant significance of a task, its very utterance growing painful to the ear. But though I am confident I have caused the destruction or non-existence of millions of these pests, it can scarcely be observed that there are now any less upon the farm than twenty years ago. What there would have been by this time, had my practice of weed lestruction not been continued, many farms now almost overrun by them and abandoned by the owners, might indicate. Though some of us are criminal neglect, suffer every breeze which blows across the lines of your properties to carry sufficient seed to stock our adjoining farms and the whole neighborhood.

whole neighborhood.

Why cannot our county agricultural societies or township associotions bring public attention to bear upon the subject of a legislative enactment againit the existence and propagation of noxious weeds? We have recent laws against the pilfering of fruit, trespassers, &c.,the destruction of insectiverous birds—the penalties of which are very triffing; and yet the very fact of the existence of such laws, even without severe penalties, has proven extremely beneficial.

Our forests, orchards, and groves have again become musical with the songs of the feathered tribe. The enchantment of a law against anxious weeds would be perfectly consistent with right and justice, and I hope not far in the distant future.

It is for the purpose of directing the attention of my brother farmers there, that I submit this communica-

About Buckwheat Cakes.

BUCKWHEAT CAKES WET WITH WATER.—Take a quart of buckwheat flour, and nearly an even tablespoon-ful of salt. Stir in warm water till the consistency of thin batter. Beat it thoroughly. Add two table-spoonfulls of yeast, if distillery, or twice as much if home brewed. Set the batter where it will be a little warm through the night. Some persons never stir them after they have risen, but take them carefully with a sour. Sift it over the surface, and stir it well. Some persons like to add one or two tablespoonfuls of molasses, to give them a brown color, and their unjustifiable cause? more sweeteness of taste.

EXTEMPORE BUCKWHEAT Cakes. Three pints of buckwheat, one tea-spooufull earbonate of soda dissolved in water enough to make a batter, and when mixed, add a teaspoonfulls of tartaric acid, disolved in a few spoonfulls of hot water. Mix it in and bake immediately. Use salt pork to grease the griddle Resignation of Gen. Hawley.

NEW YORK, Nov .- A special to the Tribune from Washington on the 31st says: Brevet Major General Joseph R. Hawley, late chief of staff to General Terry, commanding at Richmond, has resigned his commission in the army and returned to the editorship of the Hartford Press.

Mr. Cushing's mission to Europe for the Government is purely and entirely professional and not diplomatic, as has been extensively circulated.

A special to the Times from Washington seys: To day the President pardoned Pierre Soule.

Brigadier General swayne, commissioner of freedmen for Alabama, is in Washington, accompanied by Governor Parsons, with a view to obtain the Executive sanction to certain measures of policy relative to the affairs of that State. and also to obtain teachers for freedmen, who are loudly demanded and in short supply.

Gen. Swayne represents the people of Alabama as being favorably disposed to the introduction of Northern capital and energy, and that the opportunities for favorable investments are very great .-Large numbers of the officers and soldiers returning from the army are purchasing plantations and becoming permanent resi-

By an order from the Quartermaster General, the attention of officers on duty in the several military departments is called to the great number of animals belonging to the Government, in the possession of persons who have no legal title or rightful claim thereto. Such animals will be seized whenever found, and turned over to the nearest Quartermaster .-In case upon the affidavit of parties from whom the property is taken that they have reason to believe their title valid, and they will produce evidence to prove it, the property will be detained in custody till a thorough investigation is made. The person in possession of disputed property must show his title thereto by vir tue of some authorized Government sale, indicated by the brand "J.C." or "S," or by the receipt of some duly authorized Government officer.

The Washington Monument Association will go before Congress this winter for another appropriation in payment for the shaft. The last annual report of the treasury showed the receipts of about $11,000 in popular subscriptions from all sources; about $300,000 are required to carry the monument to the proposed height.

The case of Jeff. Davis.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 .- The Tribines Washington special says: The trial of Jeff. Davis, announced in a New York paper as positively determined or, was true in August, but is not true now. Public opinion has changed since then, it is said as a fact that any trial in a Southern State would be a mere farce; that the Southern States unanimously desire his pardon; that the majorit of the Democratic party hold the same opinion, and now that the leaders of the radical wing of the Republ can party have expressed the same wish, it is believed it will be taken for granted, that a majority of the nation are op-posed to his punishment.

Test Questions.

If any of our readers take any of the seif styled Democratic papers, or get the opportunity of reading them, we urgently ask such for an answer to these questions:

Did you ever see in one of them an ear nest, hearty appeal for volunteers, since the fall election of 1861?

of hearty condemnation of the rebels, or

Did you ever see in one of them a word of cheer and encouragement to our brave G. & H. KRUG soldier boys?

Did you ever see in one of them one word in advocacy of any practical measures to benefit the Union soldiers? Did you ever know of one of them to Examine your files of the self-styled "Democratic" papers, and see what has been their position upon these questions.
