THE AMERICAN CITIZEN.

Butler, Pa. Wednesday, Oct. 31, 1866

☞ An Adjourned Court will be held in Butler, on Monday, the 5th of November, 1866, for the purpose of transacting Road business. All persons interested will give their attendance.

Among the good results of the October victories is the change of mind by a good many Democrats—some of them leading ones—in favor of the Amendment. Gov. Seymour, of New York, is a noted instance; and there is a report that a general movement will shortly develope itself among the Democrats. That party has been out in the cold for a long while, and the idea is gaining ground, that there it will remain so long as it adheres to the notions to which it has tied itself.

NOTICE.

The undersigned, Physicians of Butler, compelled by the cash system adopted by merchants, farmers, tradesmen and others, to bring our business down to the same system, will hereafter require the prompt settlements of our accounts. After rendering which, interest will be charged if not paid within thirty days, and those who persist in letting their account run without settlement must expect collection to be enforced.

THD. FRICKENSTEIN,

"Dead," &c. There is also a splendid Steel Engraving, entitled "The First Step," which alone is worth half its price, and a large double-sized Fashion Plate, Children's Fashions, Fashions for November, Miscellaneous Receipts, &c.
