THE AMERICAN CITIZEN. Herper's Monthly, For January, 1867, is on our desk. It is Butler, Pa. Wednesday, D c. 26, 1866 full of interesting matter. among which

For the Cirizen that is to decide the contest for Senator, with the Dead,' 'Three Days of Terron I hope you will permit a voice to be Three Hundred a year.' Medical Delu heard for Thaddeus. None of the other candidates who have that respect for age, talent and public services to which Mr. Stevens is entitled would pretend to be his competitor. If Mr. Stevens is des riodical. Each number has about 130 icated, it will be under pretext that he is more servicable where he is,

But there is an honor to be confered in this election, and let it fall where per & Brothers, Franklin Square, N. Y. once fell the scoff, the scora, the jeer and the contemptible cry of radical. Let us, as a great and just Commonwealth, improve the present opportunity, to atone for our past misapprehension of true issues, and reward the master intellect that despised the scorns, and buffeted the waves of error, and like the faithful vidette, fought the enemy single hand, ed, until the slowly moving line of bat-tle reached the summit. Let not those gray hairs go down to the grave unhonored. Let the representatives of a grateful commonwealth reflect the sentiments of a grateful people, and do an act of justice in which history will ever glory, and which if not done, history must evor mourn. Let not the venerable sage and patriot have to pass the outposts of time to learn that there is a reward for fidelity to principle, but let the humble voice of a grateful republic be heard to say well done, they good and faithful servant." How much more noble would the State and its representatives feel ver such a choice than any other which can at present be made. But little you can add to his glory. He who noble ends by noble means attains, Or failing, smiles in exile or in Chains, Like good Aurelins, led him reign or bleed Like Sorrates, that man is great indeed. A HUNDRED YEARS HENCE.
