The Adliagtes Trial.

Some weeks ago, we gave a notice that we would publish in pamphlet form the proceedings, in full, of the trial of John B. Adlington for the murder of Sidney B. Cunningham. The work is now complete, and ready for delivery. It is printed in do ble columns and makes a book of ninety 8vo. pages. Those ordered will be delivered with as little delay as possible We advertised this pamphlet at twenty five cents per copy, supposing at the time that the size would be much less than it has turned out to be. It comprises the preliminary motions; arraignment; empanneling the jury; evidence in full; synopsis of the pleadings; charge of the court in full; verdict of the jury; mo-tion for new trial and argument of the same. Also, a diagram of the Oliver House, which in connection with the evidence, makes the proceedings of this interesting trial, much more intelligible and satisfactory to the reader than is otherwise would be. Those desiring copies will send in their orders.-Price 25 cents per copy.

We are informed, by our late exchanges, that Jeff. Davis, instead of having been confined in the Libby Prison, on his late arrival in Richmond, was provided with rooms at the Spottswood House, the best hotel in Richmond, and furnished with every dainty and luxury his friends e suld provide. He was taken before Judge Underwood, discharged as a military prisoner, re-arrested on an indictement for high treason, and admitted to bail in $100,000-Horace Greeley among the bondsmen. This is the way "to make treason odious," and avenge the treatment of the Andersonville prisoners!

A Card.

Maj C. E. Anderson—
Dear Nor: After repeated and carnest solie tations from different parts of the county,
I have at length consented to become a candidate for county Commissioner; and I desire to say to my friends, that it will be utterly impossible for me to canvass; and, at this late day is the campaign, even to write to them; but that if, under these circumstances. I be nominated I shall feel under still greater obligations.

Your truly,

Buffalo, tp., May 13.] Your truly,

I caused an advertisement of the Hamilton Gold and Silver Mining Company, of Nevada, to be published in the papers of this county, but refused to disse of the Stock until the Superintend. ent who had been sent to Nevada to as certain the productiveness of the mines. should return. He has now returned and the ore having been tested, and proving to be as rich as that of the best mine ing to be as rich as that of the best mines in that State, the Company, at its last meeting in Philadelphia, concluded not to sell Stock but to issue bonds with cou pons attached bearing ten per cent inter-est, payable in coin. The bonds are redeemable in five years from date, and may, within that time at the option of the holder, be converted into Stock. If those persons who desired to take rtock. wish to have bonds, they can signify their intention by application to JAMES their intention by application to JAME T. M'JUNKIN, Esq., of Butler. J.
