Original Poetry.

THE WIDOW'S SOLILOQUY.

Whilst I gaze upon his picture, off i what memories throug my brain
of piesant hours I spent beside him,
Which can no'er return again
How it pams my heart to linger
(Tongue of mine can never reft.)
On the thought, that my dear husband,
Pierced with rebet builets foil.

With the gory sward beneath him, With no covering for his head But the cauchy of heaven. There has a large spirit field. Hard methanis was the land of yield he haven the large to yield he haven to reall. Far away from wife and lavyounes. None to close the eyes indexth.

God heard, I know his aupplication, While his fig- moon eaber away; While his the blood chief away: 1 And on auge! Wing his spirit Scared to testing of a fless day: And I know he subtes upon me. With a tender hisband care. While his children kned around me. When we breathe our evening prayer.

became app anders of the vilest apologists of treason.

The saddest exhibition which the wrantforded was, undoubtedly, the growtheouters on in the North and the transformation of good citizens to rebels. Lee's surrender did not come a moment to early. Another verify of the moment to early. Another verify of the saddest exhibition of good citizens to rebels. Lee's surrender did not come a moment to early. Another verify of the saddest exhibition. Regiments and the "Cow hoys" would have made the "neutral district" more dangerous than the Plate Valley or the Smokey Hill route; and tories would have must tipled in Pennsylvinia until human life would have become the drug it was in hand before making her soup.

chances of war alone, create to a period when they have deased. Mr. Greete is better times and with more horrid from the rebels when proclaimed it is from the rebels and through the words of the Dominion:

Traitors have often been pursued with unrelenting severity until the peace of desolation gave security to the average.

— A daring elemency, unbesidatingly, promptly given, has disarted every formulated the magnitude of a rebellion promptly given, has disarted every formulated and converted hostile subjects to zealous friends and the state of the pursued every distempered soul and converted hostile subjects to zealous friend states upon marked; that the former type of the pursued every distempered soul and converted hostile subjects to zealous friend states and the first words.

Whether to variellate from extreamest rigon to first general to the pursued that the latter was intended and and has emanaging and the guilt gift was the state of the property of t will convert our Philistic into a land of promise. But we decide ourselves if we base the act on any other ground. The Editor of the Tribine, whose impulses led him beyond the pale of propriety in shaking hands with a blood-stained, unl repentant traitor, has been driven to his repeniant traitor, has been driven to his defence by the Julgment of the nation. Having erred in usurping the privilege of a traitor fellow to Jeff Davis, in so liciting to become his bond-mun, and transgressed in classing, in the eye of the nation, a hand which consigned thousands coolly to death, he is tung by reproaches to justification. His ill temper poured out on the New York League indicates a mind capable of vindicating its soil by rudeness and to take shifter in sophistry. In the Teilonce of Monday, June 31, the warping, of which we om.

tive parties which, armly in each stage contended, or are now contending for the m sety; but first in well as list it led good men astray, inducing them to follow at first the faint vestiges of sympathy or histy and cride opinion, and leading them at length into firmly settled, even acrimonious opposition to the natural dictates of their hon set judgments. Thus, at the outset patriotic men at the South, as ardent lovers of their land in the abstract as fived under the flag, were won away through a systematic regard for State and neighbor, and ill considered assent to glittering abstractions, to the enthusiastic apholding of treason and murder. Democrats, pure and true men in the North, by force of party drill and to the day of the partial successful of the proportion of the reson and murder. Democrats, pure and true men in the North, by force of party drill and to the day of the partial successful of the proportion of the North, by force of party drill and the day of the partial successful o State and neighbor, and ill considered assent to glittering abstractions to the enthasiastic upholding of treason and marker. Democrats, pure and true men in the North, by force of party drill and entited by hopes of party advantage, were restrained from stepping forth from the ranks from the hist which so long hearted itself, and in truth was, the governmental were in the wrong and their local leaders were not used to the intervent of the restrained by cupidity. Perversion followed stifling, and vacillating voters soon became apparaders of the viets application of the contract of the restriction of the restriction

Rebellion against constituted authority is not without pracedent—pacification, after repression. Is illustrated in every conceivable mode in history. Rebels have been tremblingly deaff with by those who had the power, who wished to wound and were yet afraid to strike, and treason survived only to break forth in better times and with more horrid front. Traitors have often been pursued with the rebels who proclaimed to the proclaimed with the proclaimed to the proclaimed with the rebels who proclaimed to the proclaimed with the rebels who proclaimed to the proclaime no more lives shall expiate the sin of treason, let us not afresh be led into error by seeking to defend our policy upon entenable grounds: Wide reaching, all embracing, elemency must be given as a boon—as an act of simple grace—to the conquered. God forgives man for his sin out of his love. Where he might destroy, he simply pardons. If Ohristianity is to be carried into our policy, let the Bivine dealings be imitated. On this high, clear ground of gra'n ty time s revenges are certain, and a decade of yars will convert our Philistin into a shand at posmiss. But we deceive ourselves if we whould cause—they would nime the manner of the and eleminary of the and eleminary of the and eleminary of the simply manner of thought will come in.

The rebess were wrong then in warring without cause—they would nime be not seen.

without cause—they would move been wrong in warring for any cause. A stoam boder again to prist on exploiting at there be an ample safety valve in good order. Should any one introduce a key of ganpowder and a match he should suffer for the consequences.

But Mr. Greeley, flounders still worse in a succeeding paragraph, where he at tempts to construe the constitution.— Italicising "only" in the definition of treason, he, rightly excluding all constructive treason as having no foot-hold in this land, successively enumerates for-eigners, Indians, and some owing allegiauce (naturalized citizens) as not guilty of treason by levying war against the government. That British and Mexican soldiers, who Irish precedent, it is insinuated that som Irish precedent, it is insinuated that some who owe allegiance, may make war against one. A more destructive heresy never was counciated. Allegiance and loyalty is are inseparable. But who are they who may war against as? Our own citizens? Then they must quit the land and enlist sunder a foreign banner. It too must protect them if we threaten punishment —that is all the case cited suggests. Why was it cited? Plainly, that as some, to wing allegiance to a foreign power, who shad quitted their land and renounced, its protection as well as its allegiance, were one time protected by as when they lought for us, that under cover of the shighting allusion to the circumstances. singoting attusion to the circumstances, it might be informed that jother circumstances are circumstances, it might be informed that jother circumstances are circumstances. In the circumstances are circumstances, it might be informed that jother circumstances are circum cotteens might war against us, on our own soil, seeking redress for fincied griefs by farce when they had redress at law. Such unfolded is the inference—its result the justifying of all who chose to argo it for themselves in the South Under the shifting-shield of the word received. when the factor of the factor ares of the week are all ende , toils and its labors are o'er,

SATURDAY NIGHT.

Ob, well four leads have been lightened.

By words of affection and love,
And well if the ways have been brightened by light from the rall in the 80 to.

O've, the treasures ungraved and find;
And many a hart that is seeping.

Its my t w tr a love that is dead.

Idle Sons of Wealthy Parents.

We cut from an exchange a short par agraph stating that the wealthy purents of two young men of New York who were tired out by seeing their boys do Soft by practices and to take shifters as we know the weak may be the weak of the working of which we can be a with a state of the working of which we can be a weak to take shifters and to take shifters and to take shifters are with the weak of the working of which we can be a with a weak to take shifters and to take shifters are with the weak to take shifters and to take shifters and to take shifters are with the weak to take shifters and the weak to take shifters and the weak to take shifters are with the weak to take shifters and the take shifters are weak to take shifters and the take shifters are weak to take shifters and the take shifters and the take shifters are weak to take shifters and the take shifters and the take shifters are with the weak to take shifters and the take shifters and the take shifters are with the weak the wea loss of that which they would otherwise have created, and because such idle lives are usually always sure to lead to vice and demoralization of various kinds. Even overlooking the evil influences of such matters upon society at large, and regarding them solely in a money roint of view, how much cheaper it would have been to the fathers of these young men to have spent a few thousand solurare of the twenty thousand squandered in two weeks at having them so taught and trained that money would have been safe in their money would have been safe in them hands; so as to make both it and them selves useful to their follow men! In these days, when so many men are be caming sud lenly rich, and when there ety of brothers and sixters; their affections last, while those of a rich young with this sensible conclusion he ventures an are lost in the wane of the honeymoon. Tis true.

— I know no manner of speaking so offensive as that of giving praise, and selves—advice which is harmless, howev.

— I know no manner of speaking so offensive as that of giving praise, and selves—advice which is harmless, howev.

— I know no manner of speaking so try, but to stand magnificently by them selves—advice which is harmless, howev.

— I know no manner of speaking so try, but to stand magnificently by them selves—advice which is harmless, howev.

— I know no manner of speaking so try, but to stand magnificently by them selves—advice which is harmless, howev.

The Democratic State Platform.

If a new theory of the remarkable coolness of the season were needed, we respectfully suggest that a plausible one might be constructed on the ground of the approach of the Democratic Convention and its comically cool platform. That a parry which has been traditionally opposed to a Protective Tariff law an arry, that has had the varied experience of both standing and flaling, of success and defeat, for its support of free trade, should denounce the Republican party for the failure of the Tariff law in the last Coestrois, the recent in proves nothing else, that whatever of sterling masterial the Democracy has lost of fate years, it keeps its stock of a severation baser metal undiminished. The Tariff, often a test question on which the two parties have divided, this been invariably supported by the Republican party and opposed by the Democratic, the few exceptions being easily accounted for by the predominance of local considerations. And the specific matter of a proposition in the Senate of Pennsylvania, no longer ago than last winter, to instruct our rep-accounted for you will appease the collect yourselves, and come appearance at this counter, that nothing short of a sight of you will appease the collect yourselves, for valuable as you in the Senate of Pennsylvania, no longer ago than last winter, to instruct our representatives in Congress to favor the passage of the Tariff law, the action and vote of the Democratic members were opposed to the proposition. Once, we are aware, as an election trick—admitted to be such after election—a banner was paraded in some counties of this State. our porting that the Democratic party was in favor of the tariff of 1842. But the convention's denunciation of the Repub-ican party on Tuesday tast, is a trick of rass that quite outshines the former one Again, the Democratic convention as-umes a martial tone and says, it "wil esist to the last resort the threatened uensures of the Republican party in the lective franco'se in Pennsylvania.' his fierce attitude is taken against i an of straw set up by the Convention man of straw set up by the Convention itself, a No threat has been made and no measure proposed by the Republicans, touching the elective franchise in Pennsylvania. If the bugbear of negro suffrage is referred to, as we presume it is, every person of average sense and information knows that, this is not, has not been and during the conjunction across the configuration of the configura nation knows that this is not, has not been, and during the coming curvass, cannot be under subject at issue between the parties. It can only be approached under a proposition to amend the Constitution of the State on the suffrage question, and any amendment is precluded for a definite time, far enough in the future to carry it beyond the next election. The negro suffrage question is used therefore by this grave State Convention merely for the usual purposes answered by bugbears and scare-crows. As to another point in this extraordinary platform of the Demorcacy—the feature of the reconstruction plan that admits the freed people of color to the right of suffrage—it is sufficient to say.

ight of suffrage—it is sufficient to say, is it is gratifying to know that the wisemen of the South, who are certainly a good judges as the mass of the Northern Democrats, are approving the manner of econstruction that embraces negro suffrage, while at the same time they are declining the counsels, the sympathic and, most mortifying of all, even the party alliance of the Northern Democrats arty alliance of the vortners pencera-ieneral Longstreet says, in express and is by significant words, that, "the bouth has no interest with the Demo-rate party, because of its opposition to longer suffrage." Similar sentiments have been expressed by others.

lify to a protective tariff on the Repub-can party which is and has been its mly true friend — Pat. Commercial.

NEVER KISSED A WHITE GIRL.—
Some time ago a planter a short distance from Mempins gave a party to the young folks in the neighborhood. It was a gay we would particularly warn boys, who one and in the course of the evening the folks in the neighborhood: It was a gay we would particularly warn boys, who beys and girls paid to reits. While this was going on it chanced that the son of the planter, a nice, modest follow had to relation between transgression and the train a fortest of some of the girls, but penalty is invariable, and the analytic and the planter, and the planter, and the planter is nothing about which ahead, John, said the planter, and kiss and demand with such good reasons, your appearance at this counter, that nothing short of a sight of you will appease them. Collect yourselves, for valuable as you are in the aggregate, single, you will never pay the first cost of gathering. Come in here, in single file, that the printer may form you into batallion, and send you forth again, to battle, for him, and vindicate his credit."

Beader, are you sure you have to Reader, are you sure you havint a ouple of the printer's dollars sticking bout your "old clothes?"

POPPING THE QUESTION.—The Chimagy Corner has the following on "chargoristic proping."

verlstie popping :"
Yankee: Jonathan—"Sal, der yer ve doughnuts?"

Sal-"Yes, Johnathan, why?"

Sal—'Yes, Johnathan, why?''
Johnathan—'Oh, nothin'; only jus consider me one o' them doughnuts.''
Western: Juqueious Individual.—
"Holle, old gal—see here! I've seatterlofisticated full over the equinimity of this 'ere country, looking for just such a criter as you. Whatsay, will yer hitch?"
Western gal—'Oh, strucks, I calkerlate; so let's git up and git.''
Lutch: Hans—'Coh will haben you, Johnathad, I'loves you more better than Johannas, I loves you more better than dos mien lager beer.

Johanns 4:0h ya, Hans, datis goot.

Johanns 4:0h ya, Hans, datis goot.

French: French Gallant 4:0h, Madmoiselle, you will do me ze very much noor to accept ze hand?

Mademoiselle-"Oh, Monsieur,

Mademoiselle—"Oh, Monsieur, you ake my face very much rouge. Ask adam. Voulzevous?"

Jew: Hamman—"Matilds, I have five cold watches, almost as good as new, you could be of second hand clothing, and con good camel hair shawl, which I will ve to you if you will be mine bride?' Matilda-"Dear Hamman, I can't re sist; but let me see the camel hair shawl Irish: Patrick-"Biddy, darling, would ez like a new house, a cow, a pig, and oself in the bargain?"

Bridget—"Och, Paddy, don't be tazing ne l'Tis the praste we're after wanting.

THE BEST INHERITANCE.-The following paragraph we clip from one of Henry Ward Beecher's recently of Henry Ward Beecher's recently published sermons:

"Not money, not knoor, not even a good name is the best inheritance of a child. Far above all secular gifts is a parent's good name; but there are some good things that are better than that, namely, those transmissable moral qualities which put the sole, from the first, under the dominion of the higher instinct.—From my mother I had a legacy which I would not be able to thank its A boy who smokes early and frequently, or in any way uses large quantities of to ahead, John, said the planter, and kiss some of the girls. John hicheda from the confocto the other blushed, and finally blurted out: I—I never kissed a white girl, inthe." The laughter that ensued may be imagined. Punishment for a violation fo natural laws is just as certain as that the sun itself shines, and none can violate a law of his body, or any part of it, that there is not carried in him a nearly to be supported in and discrimination.

Our boasting of privileges without duly improving them, is like pleading for our own condemnation.

The remains of the backelor who "burst nto tears," on reading the description of sarried life, have been found.

—It is remarkable that the words in all European languages which express for giveness, or pardon, all imply free gift.

-We see, in a recent statement; that the Census embraces seven million of women. Who wouldn't be Census!

Gen. Fremofit has purchased the late residence on the Hudson of Gen. Watson Webb, cur Brazilian minister.

Beauty is a great gift of Heaven; not for the purpose of female vanity, but a great gift for one who loves, and wishes to be because

There is no policy like politeness; and a good manner is the best thing in the world, either to get a good name, or to supply the want of it.

-Wonderful I that the Christian rollingion, which seems to have no other object that the felicity of another life, should size constitute the happiness of this.

-Attach not thy heart to those treasures with which this fleeting life is adorned. If there enjoyest, learn to love, and, if happiness is with thee, remember grief.

A waggish editor says that the streets of one of the Western cities are to be lighted with red-headed girls: We'l like to hug the lamp-posts:

A contemporary suggests that a lady on putting on her corset, is like d man who drinks to drown his grief, because in so lacing herself she is getting tight. -Wonderful ! that the Chri

Young ladies, now-a-days, when they are preparing for a walk, ought not to keep their overs waiting as long as they used to do, or now they have only to put their bornets

A lady took her little boy to church for the first time. Upon hearing the organ ho was on his feet instacter. Sit down, said the mother. 'I wont,' he shouted, 'I want to see the monkey.'

A wag seeing a lady at a party, with a low necked dress and bare arms exressed his admiration by saying she outstripped the whole party.

-Hon. Ben Wade is the favorita.

Presidential condidate of many Obio politicians, and Senator Chandler is said to have promised to exert his influence to secure him the delegation from his State.

"* of my existence, will you give me an —," asked a young printer of his aweetheart. With an latsuch an? she madea — at him, and planted her. So between his II's. "Such an outrage," said Faustlooking †† at her, "is without a ||."

Spend your time in nothing which —Spend your time in nothing which you know must be repented of. Spend it in nothing in which you might not pray for the blessing of God. Spend it in nothing which you could not review with a quiet conscience on your dying bed.

—A text of scripture, verse of a hymn, or a sweet song of Zion, often proves to the weary and timid Cristian like the sprig of moss in the desert which animated and inspired Mungo Park. Let Christians often speak in psaims, and hymns, and spiritual songs, on the pilgrimage of life,

HEART RELIGION. Religion is in an eminent degree, the science of the heart, and he who does not receive it into his heart studies it to very listle purpose: Every Christain ought, there-fore, to study with the heart as well as with the head; letting light and heat increase with an equal progression, and mutually assist each other.

NEVER make use of a woman's improper time, or in mixed company. Never make assertions about her that you think are untrue; allusions that you feel she herself would blush to near. When you meet with men who do not scruple to make use of a woman's name in a reckless manner, shun them, for they are lost to every sense of honor.

INPLUENCE OF WOMEN .-- If wo wish to know the political and moral condition of a State, we must ask what wank women hold in it. Their influ ence embrace the whole of life. wife, a mother, two magical words comprising the sweetest scource of man's felicity. Theirs' is the reign of love, of reason. A man takes counsel with his wife, he obeys his mother, even long after she ceased to live, and the ilea which he has received from her become principles stronger even than his passion.

He is the most thoroughly educated man who derives his knowledge not from books alone, nor from men alone, frailty and compassionate towards failure. Only the ignorant and half educated are dogmatical dilliberal and