Honors to Gen. Sickles. The Union Central Committee in New York are making arrangements to give Gen. Sickles a fitting reception at Cooper Institute. This is right. The General has done his duty well, and is a victimwhom even General Grant could not save -to the desperation of Andrew Johnson. At a meeting of the Committee Monday evening, a large committee was appointed to execute this purpose, with Charles S. Spencer at the head. Having done this the Committee waited on General Sickles at the Brevoort House, and were introduced, thereupon Mr. Spen cer stated the object of the visit. He concluded his brief speech as follows:

We ask you to address the people a the Cooper Institute at such time shall select. As friends of yours, we do not expect, and shall not ask you to speak as an exponent of our peculiar political views; but merely in vindication of your administration and policy as the Com-mander of the Second Military District of the South.

Gen sickles replied ·

Gentlemen — I need not assure you of the pleasure I feel in receiving you, and the gratification I derive in the assurance you give me that my course has met with your approbation. I will prepare to take into consideration the polite offer you have made me to meet my fellow-citizens. It is not nossible for me at this moment. this not possible for me at this moment to signify my formal acceptance of this offer. I have taken pains to ascertain from the Government the particular grounds of accusation which have prompted mp removal. Pending the formal answer to my communication, it would not swer to my communication, it would not be proper for me to discuss (in public assemblage) the measures of my administration. But I presume, at an early day, it will be in my power to name a time when I can meet my fellow-citizens to discuss before them questions that most interest the country at this time. As soon as it is in my power to do so I will communicate with you further.

The officers and soldiers of the Excel sior Brigade are also making arrange ments to give their old commander a fitting reception. But General Sickles de sires to avoid all public display at pres-His rank in the regular army is that of a Colonel in the Forty-Second Infantry.

SHAME.-We had thought that our neighbor of the "Herald" had more respect for truth and character than to give utterance to language like the following.

The Governor of this State. John W. Geary, has been over at Washington City to see Grant about disloyal Maryland. He had better stay at home and Grant what little sections is 40, to him. save what little reputation is left to him. He never held a situation in his life that he did not prove a failure.

A man who did his du ty so well and faithfully as Gen. John W. Geary, during the severe ordeal through which our Country passed in the late struggle which was brought about by Democratic misrule and intrigue, to be stigmatized as a "failure" and of "little reputaion" is stooping very low. If he had remainthe ranks of the Democratic party, and subscribed to the boous Democratic principles, and consented to have been their candidate, he would have been all right, but because he fought "SCHNAPPS."-Since the Court refused o grant License, several persons in the of various kinds, or anything that smells or tastes of whiskey or alcohol. In fact if madam rumor be correct, mechanics who are compelled to use alcohol in their trades must take the precaution to keep the same under lock and key for fear Washington during the war. The milithese sick individuals take too much. We have even been informed that printers sometimes use alcohol mechanically, not, we presume to clean the type but to wash down the Cobwebs that sometimes get into the throat.

Ex-Printers are especially hard up for Schnapps when they are compelled to employ persons who are laboring under the effects of fighting whiskey or some the effects of fighting whiskey or some other poisonous drug, to visit the Drug up the question most threatening to the nation. Of course, the motive enters into the discussion. No one can question what that instrumental in getting up a general row is—the vitalization, so far as it can be done, because they were refused the Schapps.

Lovers of Schnapps are not the kind of Representatives that the peopeple of Butler County intend to send to the Legislature.

Schapps of the "dead cause." The spirit at the bottom of the proceedings is the same as that which animated Johnson in reinforcing Beauregard at Bull Run. And it is thus hat the President is to be judged. Representatives that the peopeple of Butler County intend to send to the Legislature.

DISGRACEFUL. -On Saturday evening that part of our quiet town, on Main Street between Sykes' Photograph Carr and Charles Weisemaa's Jewelry and Shoe Store was very much annoyed by the bad Conduct and profane language of a young man who was laboring under the effects of fighting Whiskey. So fully was he under its effects that he considered himself insulted by everybody that could not and would not comply with his requests, and was for pitching into everything in the shape of a man old or young, and was only saved from getting whipped because he was intoxicated. It is but justice to say that when not intoxicated he is one of the most civil and inoffensive young men in our Borough. It is a pity that he drinks and a shame for any man to give him drink. Our advice is, Taste not, Touch not, Handle not, the unclean thing.

THE Hon. Mr. Boutwell, member of each copy or sheet. the House of Representatives from Massachusetts, spoke in Boston, on Friday evening. As one of the foremost men in Congress, his lauguage has some significance. He said :

The times, Mr. Boutwell declared, were as critical as in 1861. The question of Mr. Johnson's impeachment must come before the House of Representatives.— There was no escape from it. This country could not remain passive and submis sive, while every patriot in the land tho't there was danger from the man who oc-cupies the chair of Washington and Lincoln, and who, it was so generally be-lieved, was endeavoring to restore the "lost cause" to power. All subordinate interest should be laid on the altar of the interest should be laid on the altar of the country. The President's conduct should be investigated, and if guilty he should be punished. The grounds for the accusation against him would soon be laid before the country. If innocent he would be acquitted; if guilty he would be convicted; and if convicted, the country would acquiesce and would pass. try would acquiesce, and would pass through the trial safely, and would yet go on in a prosperous, free, united and happy career.

DEBT STATEMENT .- Secretary Me-Culloch has issued a corrected state-ment, which shows that the debt, less cash in the Treasury, has decreased in 3,523,000 96, of less than six millions as shown in the erronous statement. The corrected statement also shows that the debt has been reduced since the 1st of September, 1865 $264,806,206 38. If this rate of reduc tion could be kept up, the entire debt would be paid off by July 1, 1867.

THE year seems to be favorable to Copperheads. To the horde already in the field, Judge Woodward is now added he having been nominated by the Shars-wood Democracy in the Luzerne district. His nomination is the latest illustration of the fitness of things. During the re-bellion he was on the side of Jeff. Davis. THE Democratic party this year pre sents an anomalous appearance. So far as its leaders exhibit it in Allegheny county it has no important principles of its own to maintain and no general benefit to the community even to promise.-Having nothing to defend' its strategy is wholly aggressive, and, being without the slightest chance of success, is as reckless as it is hopeless. The party may be said to have a tripod form. On its three legs it stands, walks and staggers; or, as the late lamented Artemus might have expressed it: "The pints of argument first and foremost and forever, the nigger, secondly, the licker; third and lastly, the DEMOREST'S "YOUNG AMERICA."-The present (October) number closes the first year of this popular juvenile periedical, which in that short space of time has won its way tothousands of children's hearts. Its toys, and colored illustratrations, its "puzzle" pictures, and other quite original and attractive features, render it unique among periodicals for children; and we would advise them to children; and we would advise them to lose no time in renewing their subscrip-tions. Something very novel and at-tractive is promised for the Christmas holidays. Subscription price, $1.50, with a microscope, book, pocket knfe or other handsome premium. Address, W. DEMOREST'S ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY -The October number of this favorite parlor periodical comes to us rich as ever, in that peculiar array of attractions which render it so welcome in the family circle; and with additional recommendation to the favor of ladies, in the shape of an extra fashion plate of large size, which gives the fashionable promenade dresses for this sesson. This feature is to be continued, without any abatement of othor distinctive and popular features—an evidence of enterprise on the part of the publisher which is characteristic, and tells the secret of success. Subscription price, $3, with valuable premium. Address, W. Jennings Demorest, 473 Broadway New York.

Sabbath School Convention. MR. EDITOR :- On the 10th inst. . ac cording to previous arrangements, a Sabbath School Convention of the following M. E. Sabbath Schools was held in the beautiful grove East of the village of North Washington, viz: West Sunbury, Farmington, Maple Furnace, and North Washington Schools. At an early hour the different roads leading to the place appointed for the Convention were thronged with wagons and carriages, loaded to their utmost capacity; while great numbers were seen on horse back. Delega-tions of the North Washington School were sent out on the different roads to escort the visiting schools to the place of meeting, and it was truly a grand sight to see the different schools as they arrived. From the great number in attende ance, one would have supposed that the whole surrounding country had turned

At 12 o'clock, M., all had arrived in the Grove. Seats had been provided to accommodate 1000 persons which were closely packed, while a great number mpelled to stand or sit upon the grounds.

The grounds were beautifully decora, ted with Evergreens and wreaths. A large stand was erected for the officers and speakers, upon the right and left of which two platforms were erected for the music. Two large and excellent Martial: Bands were present in full uniform, viz: the West Sunbury and Clintonville, the former upon the right and the latter on the left of the Speaker's stand. Everrything being in perfect order the Convedtion was organized by electing Joseph Hamilton of Farmington School, President, and C. E. Anderson of Butler, Secretary. The exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. D. W. Wampler; after which the Convention was favored with a sweet Sabbath School song appropriate to the occasion by the North Washington S. S. Quire. Rev. A. H. Domer then addressed the Convention Subject : "To the Parents." This was followed by an address to the children by Rev. J. Perry. Music by the Bauds.

During the time of the speaking mmittee of ladies and gentlemen had been busily engaged in arranging the table. The Convention now formed in procession, preceded by the Martial Bands, playing, and marched in complete order and took position on the four sides of a large square, four deep, and the crowd being so much larger than was anticipated the North Washington School took position on the West side of the square outside of the regular line. The Divine blessing was then asked by the The Committees who had been appointed for the purpose, then served the gathering with the good things that had been provided for the occasion. It was truly astonishing and none the less grat ifying to behold the vast amount and great variety of Sweet cakes, Light cakes, Pies, and sweet meets that had been pro vided for this occasion, and vast as it was I am not aware that many baskets full of fragments were gathered up after the multitude had been fully satisfied. The repast being over the Convention marched back to their respective places in the same order in which they had approached the table; and while the audience were being seated the martial bands favored the audience with some excellent music. Rev. Thos. Graham made a few remarks to the audience on the "Sabbath School Cause." Mr. Graham would have extended his remarks to a much greater length but time would not permit. Music by the Sunbury Band. Exercises closed with prayer and benediction. We would not do justice to the occasion to close this article without noticing some of the banners and mottoes. There were several, of which we notice the of Asbury and Hedding. 2d. "M. E. Sabbath School;" "The world is my Par- the man that steals, swears and lies. ington M. E. Sabbath School," decorato: "Feed my Sheep." 4th. North Washington M. E. S. S., "Youth is the time to serve the Lord." 5th. "North Hope, O. K.," "E Pluribus Unum;" "In God we trust."

These banners were all tastefully and been all right, but because he fought against Rebels and their sympathiters, and was elected Governor by the loyal voters of Pennsylvania, and is honest in the execution of the laws and uses his influence for the good of our whole Country, he is celled a "failure" and of "little reputation." C. E. Anderson, Sec'y. Sabbath School Convention

In response to an invitation extended by a committee, representing the U. P. S. of Varnum, and the Lutherea S. S. of North Washington. The Morn ing of the 10th, saw the usually quiet village of North Washington overflowing with people, of all ages, and both sexes enroute to the appointed place of meeting in Mifflin's Grove, where preparations had been made for their reception. On as-sembling in the grove, the convention was organized by calling J. W. Christy Esq. of the West Sunbury U. P. S. to the chair, supported by a Vice President, form each of the other schools rep resented, and appointing Chambers Scott and Samuel Glenn, See'ys.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. E. H. Stevenson, returned Missionary from India. The convention was addressed by the Revs. Messrs. Coulter, Bredin, Shade, Marshall, Stevenson and Jamison. Each school entered the grove, led by persons bearing beautiful banners, accompanied by bands discoursing delightful music. The mottoes of some of the banners were so appropriate to the occasion, that we cannot forbear mentioning them. The German Reformed banner of Fairview was rendered noticeable, by its contrast with the others; the ground of the banner being dark, lighted up with the short sentence in bright letters "God is love." The banner of the U. P. S. S. of Sun. bury was very beautiful, having various oppropriate inscriptions, among which were "Suffer little children to come unto me &c." and "Lo children are God's heritage." The Annisville O. S. P. S. S. had a tasty banner with this motto; "They that seek me early shall find me. The Concord O. S P. S. S., and the North Washington Lutheran S. S. each had a very neat banner with the motto; We are the hope of the church. There was a very pretty banner borne by to, "In the name of our God, we will set up our banner." With regard to the Fairview U. P. Banner, we can say noth. ing as we have lost our notes.

The convention passed off pleasantly this vast concourse of people, numbering from 2,500 to 3,000, were sumptuously feasted by the ladies connected with the different schools. The interest, manifested by such conventions as this, is an evidence of the waking up of the people to the importance of the Sabbath School cause. When we see people leaving their daily avocation and flocking by the thousand, to the place of meeting and spending time, and money, in bring ing thither and entertaining, Sabbath School children, we may cherish bright hopes for the future.

MR. EDITOR :- I have always been friend of education, and take delight in seeing the cause advanced. And I have frequently spoken a word in its favor and at all times endeavor to throw my influence in such a direction as I think wil' assist in rolling on the ball that has been so long in motion. I have frequent ly stepped into the common school house on the road side, as I passed along on my journey, to see and hear if perchance I might learn something that I might put to account. Once, as I was traveling in an adjoining county, I stepped in a school house by the wayside, for I was well acquainted with Mr. M., the teacher, and was invited by him to remain and hear some of his classes recite. I complied with his request, and saw and heard what; perhaps, I will never forget. I distinctly recollect a little incident which occur following, viz: "West Sunbury Sabbath red during my stay, and which I propose here to relate. When the roll was callthe Scriptures;" "Those that seek Me ed, each scholar might respond by giving early shall find me; "O, how I love a motto or sentiment, and some of these a motto or sentiment, and some of the Thy law;" On which were the portraits were very good, but there was one that rather " took me." It was, " God speed ish,' Portrait of Wesley. "Never say

"God speed the man that steals, swears and lies, and here he made a long pause, as if his conscience was checking him and his tongue refused to utter such revolting nguage; but he at last proceeds what as follows: "God speed the man that steals, swears and lies,-that steals away from vicious, vain and idle company; that swears the truth at all times, and lies in his own bed at home, while others spend their nights in revelry and de bauchery. I leave your readers to judge how I got over my surprise. Prospect, Sept. 5th, 1867.

Judge Sharswood on Legal Tenders.

Extract from his Oplnion in the Case of Borie vs. Trott.

"On the whole, then, I am of opinion

"On the whole, then, I am of opinion that the provisions of the act of Congress of February 25th, declaring the notes is sued in pursuance of that act to be lawful money, and a legal tender, is uncon stitutional."

"This renders it unnecessary that I should consider the other question which has been made, as to the effect of the special agreement to pay in lawful silver money of the United States. I am in favor of entering judgment for the plain tiff, but as a majority of the court are of a different opinion, judgment for the defendant."—Copied from the Philadelphia Age of 23d of February 1864, where the opinion is published in full.

It may also be found in the Legal Intelligence of March 18, 1864 page 92 In the same copy of the Age is a care ful prepared eulogy of the judge and this opinion, in which is the following:

"Judge Sharswood reasons upon and decided the case as if he were some lofty spirits sitting far above and out of the contentsons and strifes of the world."

Will not the holders of greenbacks and Government bonds consider that judge as quite too elevated and etherial for such earthly honors as a seat on the Supreme Bench?
