On Thursday evening, Oct. 24th inst. the inhabitants of Butler and vicinity were permitted to enjoy a rich feast in istening to the soul stirring strains of sweet vocal music. The occasion is one that will long be remembered by all who were present. In accordance with previous arrangements, Rev. R. B. Roberts son of Freeport, and twenty-five ladies and gentlemen of his singing class visited our quiet town for the purpose of giving a musical Concert for the benefit of the furnishing fund of the splendid new U. P. Church of Butler, Pa. Expectations run high and antici pation was on tip toe, for those who were privileged to know the Musical ability of Mr. Robertson and his class felt satisfied that we would have a rich entertainment; and when we say, that the expectations of those who were best informed, were more than realized, we but faintly express the deep sentiments of admiration and ecstasy which were sic who were permitted to listen to the rich, sweet and elegant music of the oc-their worthy teacher. So well did each and all perform their parts that we would not be excusable if we were vain enough to undertake to particularize. The se lections were good, and of sufficient va-riety to make the entire performance entertaining and instructive. The lady, who performed upon the Piano is an excellent player and deserves great credit. The two leading, Soprano singers are leservedly held in high estimation for the part they took in the performance. This Concert has given an impetus to the musical talent of Butler, which was very much needed and it will no doubt do us good.

It has been intimated that we may possibly be favored with another visit by his class shortly. Come, one and all. "Friends, of my youth," bring your rich apparel, and we will welcome you o our "old Fireside."

onger an open ene. It was settled by careful examination of the case; they vanced by each. The issue was clearly Congress strong enough to defy the ook for the restoration of the States lately in rebellion, and they hold it reponsible for the manner in which it hall be done. The plan it has determned upon, and which it has submitted to the Southern people for their adoption, is the only one that need be expected from that body. Its rejection by the South may delay the work of recontruction but its final consummation on this basis cannot be prevented by any oppower for two years to come, and it is idle to suppose that any of these States most beautiful of all. present status for that length of time. It is just as idle to suppose that Congress will in any respect yield or recede. Even should there occur that reaction in Northern sentiment which the enemies of Congress so ardently hope for, but which to-day is as far removed as ever, it could avail nothing. No revolution in public sentiment could change the political character of Congress within the next two years, and without this, it would amount to nothing so far as re- lar of the last campaign; it so fitly rep. construction is concerned. FREEPORT, Oct. 28 1867 MR. EDITOR :- Permit me through the columns of your paper on behalf of Mr. R. B. Roberston's Music class to return to the citizens of Butler our heart felt thanks for the kind attention shown us and the hospitable manner in which we were entertained during our short stay with them. They seemed to vie with each other in mking our visit a pleasant one, and they more than succeeded. I once heard a celebrated divine remark that "Butler" was famous for talents and starvation the former we endorse; but tarvation, the former we endorse; but the latter we do enter our protest against.
The worst wish we have for this divine is that he may fall into the hands of the Buttorians sometime after having fasted ten (10) or twelve (12) hours and if he don't change his mind I am not a Proph et, that's all. And now in closing thank you again, people of Butler; and our earnest wish and prayer is, that, you kindled in the hearts of all lovers of muy may not only be blest with an abundance of the good things of this life; but that you may always be characterized by the same generous spirit which was shown to you fight for the Stars and Stripes. Do you love the Union of our fathers? When the Tocsin of War was sounded, and the recruit presented himself, there no ques-tion of Whiskey, or License, or any thing of this kind was asked. Let it be so again, and say, as a party, to every legal man that has 10 cents, all right. If you ouly believe in the truth of those great principles of Iluman Freedom, that were ealed with the blood of Four Hundred Thousand, Republicans, that is all we isk. If you, on the contrary, believe that a man should never indulge more than 6 cups of coffee, 3 cups of tea. 4 ounces of tobacco, and half a dozen cegars in a day, that Apple butter should e made without eider, and whiskey should never be sold by less measure than 10 gallons, to be kept in the cellar for the daily colic, all right if you can only vote to keep the murderers of your fathers and brothers from place and power over us.

Now, Good Templars, Read the above circular and let it satisfy you that no liquor issue can save our country. This Circular was a regular campaign document, and at the same time an argument, direct in favor of indiscriminate and unres trained traffic in ardent spirits; an ar. gunent in favor of disorderly houses, and of Sabbath breaking; nevertheless, take that to the private room of your Democratic Deacon, on Sunday morning, and pray with him until the Tuesday morn ing of the election, and he still will vote the Democratic ticket and laugh at your foolishness The above document should be safficient to repel every christian man from the Democratic party, but long experience has proven that party spirit will often overcome moral convictions. The country and the interest of humanity demand that a Republican President be elected in 1868. This is work enough for one day, and to this every other purpose must be subservient. All are welcome to give to loyalty a crown, and in the language of Andy, the Apostate, once more "Make Treason Odious."-And in this, let all be assured that they And in this, let all be assured that they shall be protected in their rights, and that they support a party pledged to one and only purpose, immediate salvation of our country from the hands of its enemies. They have won by fraud a temporary victory. The hosts will be marshalled for November, '68. Then shoulder te shoulder let them be met, and a 2nd Gettysburg will send them reeling to the Rapidan, or some other dam.

TALLEYRAND once gave as his coin-ion that language was intended not to ex-press but conceal ideas. In American press but conceal ideas. In American polities this theory seems to have been accepted as correct. For instance we have in this country a great national party advocating the doctrin that the government belongs to a particular class of its citizens, and that none outside of that class should have any voice in its direction or control, and it is called the Democratic party. Now either Talley, rand was right or else this party is guilt by of an unwarranted pervisions of languague. We don't admit the correctness of the theory, the party may and most likely does. According to our notion it is an improper use of the English language, a prevision, a fraud. Democracy, think the Legislature and the Republican party, acted very injudiciously in passing any such act. What we want to be successful (without which our organization is a dead letter), is, that every Republican voter should know that this question of Temperance, Good Templars, or bad Templars, Good Whiskey or Bad Vhiskey, License or a fact of the Whiskey, License or no License, Rot Gut or no Rot Gut, has nothing to do with the political issues of the present day. When that Whiskey Question becomes a political security of the property of the consent of the government, derive their just powers from that consent of the government. hat Whiskey Question becomes a point all sales, we shall expect every man to ake whatever side pleases him.
