> FOR AUDITOR CEREBAL BICHARDSON L. WRIGHT. TOR SUBVETOR GENERAL JOHN BOWS. The Constitution Sustained.

The Detroit Free Pros calls attention to the fact that in every: decision of a State Supreme Court yermade, in which the positions assumed by the SupremeCourt of the United States upon the Slavery complication has been called in question, its decisions have been sustained. It says: Upon no one thing have the opposition here at the North been so persistent in their attacks as upon the United States Supreme Court, and from no other source have they derived so much political capital as from two or three of its decisions. These decisions have been upon the fagitive slave law and the Dred Scott case. Bleeding Kansas was scarcely of more benefit to them than this latter decision, and Sumner's broken head was not a comparison to it, although that one thing gained them thousands of votes in 1856. It mattered not that both those decisions were based upon a plain construction of the constitution itself; that was denied, and inflammatory appeals made to the passions and prejudices of the people. and the decisions decried as unconstitutional, unsound, usurping, and even despotic. In fact, the Supreme Court has of late been the great depository whence the whole republican host has drawn both meat and drink. Now, strange as it may appear, both these decisions of the United States Supreme Court have been confirmed by the Supreme Courts of two States whose judges are every one republicans, and so soon as the same principles are brought before other Supreme Courts, they will be again confirmed. We repeat that the decisions relative to the fugitive slave law and the Dred Scott case have both been confirmed by the republican courts themselves; they are forced to accord in the very principles which have been so vehemently denounced. Indeed, it could not be otherwise, where opinions are formed in accordance with law and the constitution, and not to pander to sectional feelings and prejudices.-The decisions in both these cases were right, and the republican courts are so de claring them. First, we had the decision of the Supreme Court of Michigan in the case of Day vs. Owen, in which even broader ground was taken against the negro than was done in the Dred Soott case. The Supreme Court of the United States passed of the al to the whites, and the other that he was not socially; the one made him politically inferior, the other socially inferior. The United States Circuit Court said that as a citizen he had not certain rights, but the State court denied him rights as a man. The one degraded him as part and parcel shooting her in N.J.; he was tried, the jury of the body politic; the other has abased failed to convict him, on the ground that he him as part and parcel of the social fabric. The one dealt with him as a citizen; the Asylum at Tienton, he swearing that he other as a man. Who will say that the would yet fake the lives of ourtain relatives Supreme Court of the State of Michigan, and acquaintances of his. On Thursday composed wholly of gentlemen elected by this man removed the gratings from the the republican party, did not go farther window of his cell, and made his escape than did the Supreme Court of the United from the asylum. Hence she was left unguarded. To political capital. The other decision of the United States Supreme Court, relative to the furitive tol from his pocket shot her with two balls slave law, has just been confirmed by the Supreme Court of the State of Ohio, composed wholly of gentlemen elected by the black republican party, as in Michi-gan. In refusing to dismiss Businell and Langston from the custody of the United States Marshal, the whole validity and constitutionality of the fugitive slave law is acknowledged, and it is more than probable that it was so definitely stated in the decision rendered. The State court plants itself upon exactly the same ground as the Federal court, and so it is regarded by all parties. It will be remembered that a short latures by party drill-how every Demo time since the Supreme Court of the United States rendered a decision in the Wisconsin case, in which the power of a State court to grant a writ of habeas corpus in the case of persons held in custody under a Federal process was granted, but the right to discharge them was degled; and this hibition-and finally that it has received decision was foreciously assailed by the the sanction of the people at the polls in a whole black reupblican host as a usurpation of State rights. Now, however, the If all these facts go for nothing -if they Ohio court follows this decision in all re- only prove that the republicants are not spects, varying from it not a jot, nor a tittle, leaving the Wiscommonurs to shift for itself, alone and unheeded These points are sufficient. They are sufficient to show that the stand taken by the chief Federal court has been right in every case, and the republican courts are affirming the very principles laid down by it. They are sufficient to show that all the assaults made by the partisan press and orators upon the Federal judiciary have been made wholly for political purposes, and founded neither upon any sense of justice nor regard for the constitution and laws. Will that court be longer stightatised as the citadel of slavery, or 'will' the Courts of body else, that Mr. BUCHANAN declared in Michigan and Otto be called upon to share, his inaugural address, that in no event a portion of the approbrium ?
