THE DIFFERENCE.

There is no one thing that the two great parties of the country differ so radically upon as that of the Judiciary.

As a citizen I would not deliberately violate the constitution or the law by interference with fugitives from justice.

The Buffalo Commercial says "it is a pitiful commentary on the beauties of an election judiciary that Judge Sax has been thrown aside by the Republican State Convention of Ohio."

The Commercial is right—it is a pitiful commentary upon that system of a commentary upon the authors of such a commentary—the Republican party.

The Democracy, having in 1852 given Texas to slavery and giving the Fugitive Slave Law upon the country.

The Oberlin gentlemen who are now in prison in Cleveland, and who style themselves "Christian Filians," and who to impress the people with the belief that they are suffering persecution at the hands of the officers of the United States government.

From Washington we learn that a correspondence has been going on for some months with the British Government relative to the manner in which the United States were carrying out the provisions of the Ashburton Treaty touching the suppression of the Slave-trade.

KANSAS ELECTION.—It will be collected by our readers that HORACE GREELEY, the chief of the Tribune, and the "all-in-all" of the Republican party, went to Kansas a few weeks ago to attend the first distinctive republican convention ever convened in that territory, and to organize the party preparatory to the election for delegates to the Constitutional convention which took place on the 21st of June.

The mission of the white-coated philosopher of the Tribune; but what is the result. The election has been held, and the telegraph has been remarkably silent as thereto.— This is not generally the case when a Republican victory has been achieved.

The Republicans of Connecticut are not quite so bold as their brethren in Massachusetts. "The fish is willing, but the split is weak."

The Gazette has an article this week, in which the Editor undertakes to define the position the Democratic party will occupy on the slavery question in 1860.

The Democratic State Convention yesterday re-nominated Gov. Brown by acclamation. The Convention also re-affirmed the Cincinnati platform, expressing confidence in the ability and patriotism of President Buchanan, and an approval of the principles of his national and annual addresses on the subject of slavery.

Letter From The Alleghenies.

By THE YONKIOBER, June 13, 1857.

Did you ever take a trip into the Alleghenies? Did you ever see the principal industry of the Monongahela? Taking the cars of the Pittsburgh & Chesapeake Railroad on Saturday afternoon of the 31st, I was soon speeding rapidly toward the Laurel Region of the Allegheny Mountains.

The last case of absence of mind occurred in Ohio lately. A man there, like the Republican party in this State, actually forgot his own name.

What has got into the women? There's Mrs. Sophronia Bandle. She eloped from a small town in Michigan with a wight named William Wightman.

DEATHS. In Buffalo, on the 8th instant, after a lingering and painful illness, in the 61st year of her age, Mrs. MINERVA LYDIA, wife of Capt. Stephen Champlin, U. S. Navy.

Executors Notice. WHEREAS, letters testamentary upon the estate of James Stewart, late of Erie Co., deceased, were granted to the undersigned, as executors, on the 10th inst., and the same have been duly qualified, and the same have been duly qualified, and the same have been duly qualified.

PIANO FORTE AND MELODEON MANUFACTORY. SAVE TWENTY PER CENT BY BUYING OF WILLIAM WILKING, HERR, PENNA.

THE experience of twenty years, and the loss that I could make. PIANOS AND MELODEONS. It is cheaper than I can buy elsewhere, because I can buy them at a lower price, and I can buy them at a lower price, and I can buy them at a lower price.

or twelve distilleries in the vicinity of Fayette, and a great quantity of whisky was distilled there. It is alleged that some of the distillers will regard the war as a blessing, because it will prevent the sale of their whisky.
