for It is said that Haslett, one of the insurgents killed at Harper's Perry, was origin-ally a gentleman horse thief, but finally degenerated to such a degree as to become an bolitionist, and naturally took to stealing iggers, but his "irrepressible conflict" is played out .- Express.

Query-did he ever "degenerate to such a legree as to become" a candidate before "an Abolition" convention, and was he so "degenerated" that he could'nt get the nomination ?---If he did, it is no wonder he "took to stealing niggers."

Ber The editor of the Genese Farmer states that he has not seen a perfectly ripe bunch of Catawha grapes in that vicinity (Rochester) his season, and adds that "the Catawha seldom or never ripens" in the Genesee Valley "in the open air, on the trellis. The finest grapes that we ever saw, were produced on the lake shore, in Chautauqua county." The Farmer man would do well to extend his travels a few miles further, into this county. He would then see a section of country, where the Catawba ripens, every tame, "on the trellis;" where there is "more land to the acre," and better, than in any other East of the prairies.

We find the following paragraph in one of our exchanges. We wish that part of it in regard to the monument wore true; but "at the present writing," we are sorry to say it is not :

"Not long since, workmen for the Sunbury and Brie Railroad, near Brie, Pa., threw out a quantity of human bones, which proved to be those of the Americans who fell at the bat-the of Lake Brie. They were carefully taken up and interred with honor by the authorities Brown, Redpath, Phillips, and all that of Brie. The citizens of the place have sub-class of persons. Then mus organized the secret scribed two thousand five hundred dollars to erect a monument over them, and T. D. Jones has been selected to make the design and superintend its erection."

> RECOVERY OF STOLEN PROPERTY .--- Som thirteen months since, Mr. Lyman Hitchcock. of Crawford county, had stolen from him a valuable pair of carriage horses, with carriage and harness complete. Efforts have been made by Mr. Hitchcock and efficers of Crawford county to discover the property and thieves, which, however, have proved unavailing .--Some two weeks since the case was given to detective officer Fungueon, of this city, who immediately "laid the wires" for a capture, and riage) near Newport, Ky. The property was in possession of a man named Reese, who, however, it was shown, had bought the property from the actual thief, and was in no ways connected criminally with the transaction .-Reese gave ball in $250 to appear at Court.

16 If any of our readers desire to see the sort of instrument that old John Brown was furnished by the New England Republicans to "peaceably" liberate the slaves down at Harper's Ferry, they can do so by calling at Gen. Wilson's office in this city. Passing through Harper's Ferry recently he procured one as a curiosity, and a memento of the folly of Seward, Greeley & Co. It is a murderous looking instrument, and in the hands of an infuriated negro, would prove dangerous to the "peace" of even Pennsylvania.

The Gazette is very much shocked that newspaper office in Newport, Ky., was reently mobed, and the proprietor "grossly and barbarously insulted," and yet the Democratic press has not denounced the act.
