The Governor's Message.

OUV PACKER & Message, which we published last week, the render will doubtless agree with us in provocioning a straight torward impretending busitess document, connearly worthy of the Chief Magi onto of Ponnsylvania So far as it relates to State affairs, and it is mainly devoted to the interests of the Common wealth, there will be no diversity of sentiment It is all we could have wished Its statements of our financial affairs are truly gratifying. The last year's receipts into the Treasury, including the former balance, have amounted to $4,718,377 ; the expenditures have been $3,879,054 ; leaving a balance of $839,828 on the 1st of December, 1859 The amount of public debt paid off during the thirteen months ending December 31st, 1859, has been $1,009,282. The present debt, funded and unfunded, is $38,478,961 -This good result, the Governor claims, is chiefly due to the sale of the State Canals He anvernates a still more ranid reduction of the debt from this time forward The amount of securities held by the State against the several corporations that purchased the Canals, is little over $11,000,000, which the Governor deducts from the actual aggregate of the State Debt, and thus reduces it to about $27,000,000. If we could be sure that these bonds would be alumstely be paid, we would have more confidence in the Governor's calculations. The Message gives an encouraging account of the progress of the Sunbury and Erie Railroad -It states the amount paid by the Pennsylvania Bailroad Company as Tonnage Tax, up to the year 1858, and shows that the amount withheld and awaiting the Supreme Court e decision as who does not discover it." This is the Newto the validity of the tax. 18 $246,743 80 .-From what the Governor save on this subject. we infer that he will sue he should refuse his sunction to the scheme for the repeal of this iax, which will faultless he brought before the Legislatore at its present session. The Governor gives a favorable account the Common Schools of the State, and makes some judicious suggestions to improve the operations Wthe system The Farmers High School and State Library are commended to the liberality of the Legislature. The existing laws relating to banking are pronounced defective, and the governor declares that he will not, under them, approve of any increase in banking corporation. This public revenues, is urged But the Governor's State Treasurer, shall be countersigned by the Auditor General, does not go half far enough

Non Organisation of Congress. Pongress met on the first of December ow the middle of January, and there is no or ganization Daily the same routine is gone through with-first speeches about every body and every thing, then a poter or two; and then an adjournment It is uselos to fill our paper with the ballotz One, as areample, is sufficie ent, as it is a transcript of all the rest with litile variation Thus: Whole number of fetes east, 211; nocessary to a choice, 108. Sh B NAM, Rep., 108; HAWILTON, Dem., 89; GIL-HORR, Amers 14; Scattering, 6 Now, with this record, who is responsible for this nonorganization ? Not the Democrats certainly, for they are a minority, whereas their opponents have a majority . Why do they not elect then? The question is answered very satisfactorily by the Buffalo Commercial, an opposiion paper. It says since Mr SEWARD & Arrival in Washington he thas advised his over-"loving friends that they were killing both him and his party by an excess of kindness. He

chas urged upon the Republicans the necessity of withdrawing Mr. SHEBMAN and uniting upon either Mr. GILMBE or Mr. Conwin .-His advice has been rejected, and with a pigboaded obstinacy which does far more credit to their fidelity to men than to their wisdom 'as statesmen, they insist upon clinging to whom are still crying and begging to "Mr. SHERMAN as a representative man. It released from their tortunes. Every few "does not require a sagapity ap profound as minutes some poor wretch is dragged from "does not require a sagaoity so profound as "that claimed for Mr. BEWARD, to see that the 'course he recommends is dictated by sound 'policy." This then is the reason-the Ro- | ingly mangled, and partly under the bricks publicans are determined to force their allies deliberately cut his throat to end his agoo swallow SEERMAN. or have no organization And it serves them right. The American party has been playing into the hands of the Repubheans, and it is fitting and proper that it should now be forced to eat the meat it has prepared wreck frigid with dospair. Later, a terrible for the banquet. At all events, for the nonorganization of Congress the Democrats cannot be held responsible by the country They are not the majority, therefore they cannot organize, nor prevent an organization

Ber By their fruits ye shall know them At the Forney's Convention held at Harrisburg, 13th April last. John Hickman is reported t have said . "Let this truth be made prominent -that there is an eternal antagonism between freedom and slavery. The constitution of the human min I and the human heart makes it inevitable; and the one or the other must eventually gain the ascendancy The struggle between them has just begun, 13 now going on in our midst, and he is but a superficial observer ard irrepressible conflict doctrine pure, and was proclaimed in Harrisburg, in the "Union State-Rights Democracy ('onvention, called so " Is not this the same Hickman who is now in the House of Representatives voting for Haskin for Speaker, (and Haskin voting for him) and who claims to stand by the cardinal doctrines of the Democratic party, while, at the same time, he asserts that he would vote for a Black Republican Speaker if ultimately called to choose between a Republican and an Administration man? Three persons are ley's, and the anti-slavery apostles of that ils., willever attone for if they live a thousand years, and repent in sack cloth and ashes every day. What sins are committed in thy name. O. philanthropy ! The Erie Express, S J Goodrich, publisher, with Editors without number, has "gone and died"-died so quick that its numerous staff of Editors, Reporters, contributors, and fugle-men, did not have time to bid at $1000,000. The Mayor has issued the their hundred and fifty readers farewell. The Express's life was brief but not very brilliant. Its political course was a tortuous and uncertain as the men who used its columns are malicious and dishonest. Professing to be Democratic, its first effort was to distract and divide which is equivalent to dead, 115, and 160 the Democratic party of the county Signally but very much the larger number will surfoiled in that, its next card was a personal | vive warfare upon us. That proving a losing game. it subsided into a mere compilation, somewhat after the fashion of the old Chromele, though without half its tact and taste . And now it is dead, and its defunct carcass has been given | sufferers, and appointed a committee to over to the True American, and its few subscrib ers transferred body and breeches to Aboli. Lawrence are crowded. A strong force of tionism Its end is a most fitting finale of its little new. We call attention of our Democratic friends in each township to the call for a Democratic County Convention - We hope the call will be cordially responded to , and a through and perfect organization commenced. The Convention which assembles at Reading in February is an important one. A candidate for Governor is to be chosen; delegates to Charleston are to be appointed ; and Presidential electors selected. The Democracy of Eric county have a voice in all this, and the only way to make that voice heard is through our County Convention. Besides, it is our duty to commence organizing for the Presidential election next Fall, and an important point in such organization is to secure an efficient County Committee It will devolve upon the Convention on the 7th of February to select such a Committee. Let us have a general attendance then at our primary meetings, let union and harmony prevail, and an effort made to rekindle the watch-fires of our time honored organization. Due of our exchanges, the Editor of which has doubtless been afflicted, gives this cure for corns : take a lemon, cut a piece of it off, then nick it to as to let in the toe with the corn, the pulp next to the corn, tie this on at night so that is cannot move; yey will fin I the ling is all broken. Great Calamity at Lawrence, Mass. 1 ... bel Une Pricherian Mills Vallen ! 700 Operatives in the Runs' Fire Added to the other Horners! 298) Hyman Bodies Consumed ! !

Lawrence, Mass., Jan. 10, 9 B. M. One of the most terrible catagorighes of record occurred in this city, this afternoon. The Pemilerton Mills fellwith a sadden rash at about 5'o'clock, while some six or even hundred operatives were at work. The mills are a complete wreck. Some two or three hundred persons are supposed to be still in the ruins. At present it is impossible to give anything like a correct statement of the loss of live, but from the best authority it is believed that at least 210 are dead in the mins. Eighteen dead bodies have already been taken out, together with some twenty-five persons mor-tally wounded, besides some fifty in differ-Chase, the ent stages of mutilation. Mr. Agent of the mills, and Mr. Howe, the Treasurer, escaped by running from the falling building. It is impossible as yet to tell the cause of the disaster. Our reporter has just come from the ruins, and the scene beggars all description. Some two or more acres of ground are piled up with every description of machinery of the fallen buildings. Huge bondfires are burning to light some two or three thousand persons who are working as if for their own lives to rescue the unfortunate persons, many of his prison and it is heart-rending to hear their cries as they are drawn out with legs or arms crushed or torn. One man shockny The whole city seems to be in mourn ing. Many are running through the streets, and, with frantic cries, searching the ruins. l'emporary hospitals have been arranged for those rescued. Many stand by crash caused by the clearing away, threatens death to all who may be still in the ruins. Surgeons are coming in from all directions, and everything that can be done at such a painful moment is being ione for the suffering victims of the fearful alamity, the mystery of which will have to be cleared up by an inquest. SECOND DESPATCH, 11.30, P. M. The building was never considered to be as staunch as it ought to be. It was built about seven years since, and was then tho't Indeed before the machinery was put in the walls spread to such an extent that some twenty-two tons of iron slats were put on to save it from falling by its own weight From the best information that can be now gathered, the building appeared to crumbled and fall from the eastern corner or end. It fell inwards.--The fire department at once repaired to the pot, but there being no fire, they at once set to work with a will to remove the rubish. The City Hall has been converted into a temporary hospital for the dead and wounded till recognized One woman, in the part of the null still standing, became rightened, and threw herself out of the fifth story, breaking an arm and injuring herself so that she cannot recover. The it is supposed that about 700 human beings were actually buried in the ruins. About half-past 9 fire in the runs was discovered This additional horror struck terror to the hearts that had before been hopeful of saying more live-; still the work of removal went on. The force pumps and engines on the ground were at once got to work and have been pouring torrents on, so that at 11-30 the fire does not seem to gain and hopes are entertained that it will be stayed. Those near the breaking out of the fire

IS. The Gazette, in making a note of th pinion of the Harrisburg Telegraph, that IRA C. MITCHELL, of Bellefonte, a nephew of 'the Governor, will be selected for Reporter for the Supreme Court, says it had hoped that our fellow citizen, BEEJAMIN GRANT, Esq., would receive this appointment. We still hope he will, as he is confessedly capable, while, according to the Telegraph's showing, MITCHELL is totally incapable. The Governor's talk about Kansas, its admission into the Union, and all that, is perhaps welk-enough in its way, but really we cannot nee what it has to do with the duty of the Governor "from time to time to give to the General Assembly information of the state of the Commonwealth " Certainly the "early admission of the territory of Kansas as one of the sovereign States of the Union," is not a question on which the "General Assembly" of this Commonwealth will be called to act. Nor is such "information" as that "Popular Sovereignty "having finally prevailed, in the full, free and fair adoption of the fundamental law of the "Territory, according to the wishes of the neo-"ple, this vexed and dangerous question, in "that Territory, may now be considered as "satisfactorily and perpetually settled," the kind of "information" the Constitution en joins upon him to communicate to the representatives of the people of Pennsylvauis Upon all other points, as we said above we think the Message an admirable one, and will go far to redeem the Governor's failure as an administrative officer' mer The first effort after the union of the True American and the Express, was to issue an extra on Tuesday, containing all the wonderful correspondence of the Republican Senatorial delegate, Mr. M. B. LowRy, with "all the world and the rest of mankind," in relation to his "old neighbor and friend," John Brown The only omission we could discover in this compilation, was that the compiler neglected to give the article from the Observer headed · A Short Horse is soon Curried " "Ye veritable Histore of Ye Great Personage, called Jack the-Giant-Killer, ' is certainly not complete without that.

Mar A Boston paper has a paragraph headed Sankee Coolness," in which it is related that a pair of horses ran away in one of the principal streets of that city on Thursday morning, at "considerable speed," and without a driver. There was a young lady in the carriage attached People shouted and stood still, which is the conduct made and provided for such cases. A m in who was "respectable looking" ran from the sidewalk, seized the horses and stopped them The life in the carriage was saved. The coachman finally appeared and resumed his place upon the box. Nobody thanked the "re-"pectable looking" man It is cool, certainly, not to thank a man if he saves your life.

John Ward, operative in the carding room of the second story, who was mirac ulously saved with his wife who worked near him, describes his escape as follows Was in the carding room with the second overseer, lighting up. It was five or ten minutes before five We had but a few burners lighted ; suddenly heard a loud thundering crash overhead, and looking up, saw shafting coming down upon us all over the room. Terrified I stood fastened to the spot, although I knew the building rubbish, but something struck mesonseless. When I came to I found myself in the rubbish, covered with blood from wounds on my face. Finally I crawled up and got to the top, and found a lot of ruins hangng over me, which liked to have taken my life, but I succeeded in getting out. I passed a dead girl and two mangled bodies. When first knocked down, I fell under a heavy grinding stone, which was too heavy to give way to the weight about above.-Ward found his wife at the City Hall. The following is one of the heart-rendin incidents: Margaret Hamilton, aged 14 years. This was her first day's work. Her devoted mother attended her, and when asked what injuries her daughterreceived replied : Her arm is broken, and her head is broken, and Oh! my God-and here the poor woman burst into tears-my poor dardied to-day. The daughter was the main support of her mother and four children. Miss Olive Bridges, of Calia, Me., who worked in the fifth story, seized the hoist own and escaped uninjured.

Before the building caught fire, a numcould be seen and conversed with. Drinks and refreshments in some instances were passed to them. When the fire spread over the ruins they found escape hopeless and bid adien to friends, and in several cases gave directions as to the disposal of their effects. In one part of the building
