Worms and Worm Fever.

MEDICINES that are strong, acrid and heating to the stomach, when given to children suffering with Worms, only increase the fever, and renders the child restless and uncomfortable. Medicines proper in such cases, should combine with a Worm Alterative or destroyer, such others as will open the pores of the skin, and operate mildly on the Liver, Bowels and Assimilatory, and thus aid nature in ridding the system through its natural channels of whatever obstructs its action, or poisons the fluids and irritates the nerves. No Worm Medicine yet discovered combines all these qualities so perfectly as CARTER'S GERMAN WORM CANDY, manufactured by the original proprietor, WILLIAM NUSS, from Germany, for the present proprietors, CARTER & BROTHER. Those wishing to use this kind of Worm Medicine should be particular to ask for CARTER'S GERMAN WORM CANDY, and not let themselves be put off with any other. Erie, Feb. 25—38
