The Mayor of Cincinnati, imitating the celebrated Caliph of Bagdad, nightly prowls about the city, disguised in an old slouched hat and a coat ragged and torn in order that he may the more effectually satisfy himself of the police force. In these rounds the Mayor will frequently give the the signal of distress and danger by rapping on the pavement, and then dart into an alley, so that he might await the hur ried approach of the officers unseen. Those experiments are attended with not a little danger, for on one occasion his honor was detected by a burly policeman, who was about to rap him over the head, and in all probability would have done so had he not

1 he Harrisburg Nentinel, the self. constituted organ of Dotarsss in Pennsylvania, must be extremely hard up for matter of complaint against the administration when it his to resort to the charge that one of the Wood delegates to Charleston in New York, named Hasbrouck, was discharged from the Custom House because he was a Douglas man. Is Mayor Wood a Douglas man? Is his delegation Douglas men " The Nation' knows better. It knows that neither Wood nor his delegates are Douglas men, or have any affinity with the political speciality of the Illinois Senaton A recent number of the New York Die Book in an article on Wood's recent julgrimage to Connecticut, which article the News, the Mayor's immediate organ, endorses, says. "It has been rumored "that the Mayor was inclined to favor Sencator Douglas for the Presidency, but if so, he has evidently had the sagacity to see how hopeless was his prospects for the nomination At all events, Mr. Wood has now for the first time, so far as we re-'member, come out openly in favor of the right of protection to 'slave' property in "the Territories, and has rebuked 'squatter "sovereignty" as fully and as completely as "can be desired." If this is the sentiments of Wood and his delegates to Charleston, it would seem to us that, so far from the administration being "determined to crush out Douglasism" as the Sentinel says, by the removal of the official complained of. it is endeavoring to "crush out" the claim set up by the extreme South. The truth is, the Scale is so much given to finding fault with the President, that it hardly knows any other tune to play. SPARKS FROM THE TIRE IN CONNECTICUT .-The Republicans boasted that they would carry Connecticut by 5,000, and are "greatly disappointed," as the Hartford Courant expresses it, to find their majority whittled down to almost nothing. . There is no despondency among the Democracy, but the most cheerful, active preparation for the work to come. It is such sparks these from Connecticut that convinces us that, in November, the State is certain for the Democratic nominee.

The Gazette is exceedingly restive under the allusions we have made to the course of Curtin, Finney and M'Clure in defeating the legislation asked for by the Sunbury and Erie Railroad Company .-And well it may be. Erie city and county has half a million invested in that work, all of which is endangered by the evident figuring of that tirm to postpone the matter till next witer, when they hope to be in power, and in a position to make a "good thing out of it." The Gazette's talk about Messrs. Finney and M'Clure uniting in the a gross subterfuge. That bill was the identical one, with a slight alteration, which Finney threw into the Senate and hurried Sherm in M. "Never in the history of Pennsylvania has a session been marked by more conrupt, wicked intriguing than the present Every good citizen feels the blush of hon est indignation tingling his cheeks when he thinks of their proceedings. No measure under the laws of the United ure, however beneficial, could stand the slightest chance of passing, unless by the profuse expenditure of money. Almost every man, with some noble exceptions, has such jurisdiction under the Judiciary had his price, and, if common rumor be true, it was an enormous price. If it could not be paid in the hard cash, secure prospective profits were just as good."

How "controlled," we repeat. Did the Pennsylvania Central furnish the "needful" for the campaign this fall, which the Sunbury and Erie was unable to do ' If not, we again ask, how were Messrs. Finney and M'Clure, Curtin's Secretary of Commonwealth and Attorney General in prospective, "controlled by the managers of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad?" Perhaps a Cocole investigating committee might find something to do in Pennsylvania. More light, we say! more light?

A bookbinder named Pertisons, in Washington city, in his eagerness to sully before the Senate Committee and swore binding; that this proposal had been referred to the Attorney General by the remains to be seen whether the Chicago President, with a certain endorsement on the back thereof, which he had seen; and that afterward the Attorney General had carried the proposal to the President and induced him to make another and different endorsement thereon, &c. The document itself, which was produced before the committee, proved that Pettibone had nant rascal. The Constitution chages Pettifor trial for that offence. It will be remembered that the President said in his protest that nothing but perjury could injure his good name. As he was writing the protest, Pettibone was making the attempt.

The Observer publishes the whole of President Buchanan's Protest, with approbatory comments. It had better kept the document from its readers. Its necessary effect must be to excite suspicion that a greater degree of corruption exists in onnection with the Executive Department of the Government than has heretofore been supposed, and that this parade of 'injured innocence" is only an excuse thrown out in advance to more effectually seal it from honest eyes,-finzette. That our cotemporary does not believe one word of the above is evident from one significant fact - he has not yet let her readers see that protest. Had he the least idea its more extensive publication would inure to the benefit of the Republican party, by "exciting suspicion that a greater degree of corruption exists * * than has heretofore been supposed," the broad columns of the Gazette would have spread it before the people ere this.

The good people of Massachuse!ts are in the enjoyment of a small rebellion against the United States authorities. It appears that Frank B. Sanborn, one of the contumacious witnesses subpoensed by the Senate Harper's Ferry Investigating Committe, was arrested by officers at his residence in Concord, on Tuesday evening .-Sanborn created a terrible rumpus, and the entire town was soon in violent commotion, and one man's death is said to have been occasioned by the uproar. A writ of habeas corpus was sued out by Sanborn's friends in Boston, and after a hearing the prisoner was discharged. The Massachusetts Legislature took up the subject, and directed the law officer of the State to defend Sanborn.

8. M. Booth, of Milwaukee, the founder of the Republican party in Wisconsin, now serving out his sentence for violating the fugitive slave law, has settled nother little matter which has given him some trouble and was likely to give him a good deal more. It will be recollected that in Syracuse, while the latter was suffering little girl who was in the habit of remaining over night with his children, he pro-Arms says he has settled the matter by election, which came off on the 9th, s week paying the girl $2,000, and inducing her to better at this season of the year than they after the State election, Henry C. Deming, leave the State.

Since the Reading nomination, the Buchanan Democracy have been flattering themselves that Mr. FORNEY and his follow ers would support the Ticket there select ed, at all events.—Gazatic.

Neither since nor previous to the Read ing Convention have the Democracy flattered themselves that Forney would support their nominees, either State or national. Nor is it desirable that he should. Having joined the Republican party-having accepted office at the hands of the believers in John Brown and the "irrepressible conflict"-his support can not add one vote to the Democratic ticket, or his opposition take one away. As for his "followers," it the Gazetic means the Anti-Lecompton Democrats of the State, it is sufficient to show where they stand, to point to Hon. Wm. Montgomery, Edward G. Webb, Esq., Daniel Dougherty, Dr. Nebbinger, and hundreds of others who, for a time, countenanced Forney in his treason, but who now are as firmly for Foster as we are our self. It is about time that a paper like the Gazette, which professes to deal fairly with its opponents, should cease to quote the Clerk of the present Republican Congress as a Democrat. It is a trick that is neither honorable nor creditable

There are heavy floods at the South and West the past week. The lowlands along the Monongahela and Alleghany Rivers are completely mundated. The rise came so suddenly that several coal boats on the Monongahela were swept over the dam and sunk. The number lost was thirteen, the loss being over $10,000. "The loss in Allegheny has been considerable -Several manufactories have been flooded and families in some instances were driven rom their dwellings. The railroads also have suffered from land slides, which have mpeded travel. Altogether, it has been one of the most destructive freshets expenenced for many years. The rivers have mostly now attained their highest stage. rising about an inch per hour. The Monongahela pier mark indicates 29 feet and inches, only 20 inches loss than the great freshet of 1852. It is useless to attempt to elect any man to prominent office who has "sympathized" with John Brown, or endorsed the Helper treason. John Sherman did both, and he lost the office of Speaker. Seth ard recommended Helper's book, and it Convention will risk their chances of the Custom Houses and Post Offices on that gentleman.
