aguare a year, changeable at pleasure, $10. in the $18.

m married in the Business Directory at $3 per eq. mes allowed for a Card, over six, and under is and Editorial notices, 10 ments a line; but no ment wit be inserted among the Special Notices than one sollar, we chank and others regulating frequent changes we chants and contra requiring irequiring the deat shanges one of the dvertisments will be allowed two squares, paper, at at first 15. For additional space, the charges will an proportion and the dwartisements must be strictly confined to the legitimate business of the advertiser. Payent for transient advertisements required in advances. Bills for yearly advertising will be presented half-yearly BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

A LIEN A. CHAIG.

JUSTICE OF THE PRASE—Office in New Stock corner of Peach Street and the Public Square, Erie

DALLES in Boots and Shoes at Wholesis and Retail, at No. 18, Cadwell's Black State street, "I.EMENS, CAUGHRY & CO., WHOLESALE GROCKIA, and Dealers in horstic and Imported Wiese and Liquors, also Segars, interce, Fruit, Fish, Oil, and Agents for Moffate Buffalale Nos. 1 and 2 Commercial Buildings, North side.o.
public square, Eria, Pa.

public square, Eris, Pa.

(HARLES W. KEISO.

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

Has removed his Office to that of ELIJAH BARBITT, Keq southwest corner of the Public Square, where he will atwed grouply to all business entrusted to his carr.

Eris, Dec. 2, 1850

DR. W. M. WOOD, Office at his residence on West Sixth Street. 8m34 PR. U. L. ELLIOTT, RESTARST DESTINATION OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PARK BOW,
THE block cast of Krie Bank buildings

Ene, July 10, 1868. M. COLE,

BOOK BINDER, BLANK ROOK MARUPACTURES,
See, in Sectod Story of Rindernecht's Riock, Erie. Pa MPIRE STORES.

WE. A. GRISWOLD, Jobber, and Retail Dealer in every description of Foreign and Domestic Dry mods, Carpetings, Oil Ciotha, &c.

L'DWIN C. WILSON, The In C. WILDUN,

A ATTORNEY & COURSELLOR AT LAW, Erie l'a dire on State Street, near the Park, in the American hous, second story of the building, occupied by F. & Maclaudeker. He will always be found in his office, and

PARABURY,
DEALER IN IMPORTED WINES AND LIQUORS, Best Brands of French Brandies, Gins, &c., Champaigneshine Claret, Madeira, Malaga, Sherry, Port, and all kindof Domestic Wines; also manufactures of rectified Whisst, old Ryc, Bourbon, Monongahela, &c., Reed House, on breach Street, Erie. (TEORGE H. CUTLER.

ATTORETS I LAW, Girard, Eric County, Conlections and other business attended to with (*ECKGE J. MORTON.

1 FORWARDING and Commission Merchant
Pab & Dock, Eris, dealer in Coal, Salt, Fish, Flour and

WHOLESALE GROCKES, and dealers in the ladia Goods Powder, Shot. Caps, Safety Fuse, in a cyclysis Fish, oil, we see, Nos 3 and 4, Compared Buildings, Erie, Pa. AYEN & JORDAN, WHOLERALE & BETAL DEALERS IN FACE
A Staple Dry Goods, Carpets, Nattings, Oil Clothes, &c., Hown's Block, Erie, Pa.

C. BURGESS & CO.,
WBOLESALE PRALEE IN GROCKERS AND CHOOSE, State Street, No. 7 Bonnell Block. JUNTUR OF THE PEACE, Office in Bentty's

. 9 stairs, Erie Pa

and Bilinds, Peach et , in the she p formerly occupied

MANUPACTURE, Wholesale in the Invital was rt in all kinds of Fancy, Drawing Room, Rocking me, and Dining Chairs, No 4 Kay stone Block, Erie, Pa W. DOUGLANN, ATTORIST AT Law Other removed to ding west of State Street, on the northaids of the

W BOLKBALE AND THE THE THE ACTION OF T

F. BUWMENG.
ATTORNEY AT LAW AND JUSTICK OF THE PAGE. Will practice in the several Courts of Eric County, and give prompt and faithful attention to all lousnesses in mated to his hands, either as an Attorney or Magistrate TO Office in Empire Block, corner of State and Fifth.

H. T. HAVENS

HAVENS

Gearing, Agricultural in themsets Rev of Care, the France Review of Care, the France Review of Care, the France Review of Care, the Review of Ca ---

1. BALDWIN,

(Successor to (lark & Baldmin,)

Eniremie and Retail Druggiat, No 6 Reed Honse, brie,

Ta Bealer in Painta, Oils, Varnishes, Bye Stuffa, triawa, Campbene, Burning Fluid, Brushen, &c. &c.

22 MANUPACTURER & Wholesale and Retail

Ale MANTPACTURER & Wholesale and Retail desirt is Well and Cistern Pumps of superior quality, the litherest and best now in use. Shop on Twelfth street is the Peach Reise Pa beapest and own are beautiful for family, farm of Aqueduct for carrying water for family, farm of mechanical purposes for sale cheap.

M°CONKRY & SHANNON.
(Successors to Burney 4 M Conkey) **ALERS IN English, German and American Hardware and ultery Also, Nalla, Anvils, Vices, Iron and Steel, No Reed House, Erie, Pa.

MANFORD & CO.,
DRALERS IN GOLD, Silver, Bank Notes,
briticates of Deposit, &c. Sight exchange on the prinpi cities constantly for sale. OfficeNo 9 Reed House M'CARTER & KKLLOGG.

WEGLERIE WE AS LEAVIGE.

WEGLERIE and Retail dealers in Oroceries, fruitions, Ship Chandlery, Wood and Willow ware &c., it., State Street, Erie, Penn.

Den R.S. S. II II A T. 1 RS. S. H. HALL.

Manufacturer and Wholesale and Retail Dealer swey, Hostery, Zephyr Kutting, and Yankee No. 7.
Together with a general assertment of Laffeet Freach street, 4th above Depot. jan 21 - 33 t FARRIONABLE DRESS MAKER, and Agent for wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines. Rooms in Bule's Block, East Park, Rrie, Pas. Stitching done ing done to Order. Pashions received monthly DINDERNECHT & BECKMAN. WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCKES, and blers in Flour, Pork, Fish, Salt, Seeds. Wood and low Ware, Nails and Glass, at No 2 Wright's Block * PRINDERWECHT. HENRY BLUENAN.

D & J. MINNS64,
DEALERS in Groosres, Provisions, Prowe, Pork, Plah, Salt, Grain, Floor, Fruits, Nuts, Glass, wis, Brooms, Patis, Wooden, Willow and Stone Ware, to Terms Cash, Prices low. No. 4Wright's Block, interpret, 4 doors above the Post Office, Eric. Pa. OGERS & BENNETT, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL Dealers in HardTV- Crockery, Glassware and Saddlery, Nos. 11 and 12 capire Block, corner of Fifth and State streets, Eris. Pa.
4 MORES.
B. A. BENESTT.

NEWTON PETTIN,
ATTORNET AT I AW -- times on Chestnut ATTORNET freet, Meadwille, Pa. Feb. 26, 1859—1938.

8. ADAMS ROBINSON, M. D.— Homeopathist and Surgeon, Eric, Fa. Orrion scool floor, Sterrett's Block, (Thespaide: Residence, invaria thatel. Office bours, 8 to 9, A. M., 1½ to 8, and 6h to 8, P. M. Business (city or county,) promptly at-

19. AUNTIN.

DRALER in Clocks, Watches, Pine JewIn, Silver Spooms, Plated Ware, Looking Glasses, Gilt Souldings, Cutlery and Fancy Goods, Paragon Building, borth side West Park near Peach at

N. MENCLAIR,

(Successor to Stemart & Sinclair,)

*NOIMALE AND ESTAIL DERGALET, Corner of State and that's Dealer in Paints, Olis, Dys-Stuffs, Glass, Camphone surving Fluid, Breshes, &c.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW.— Office removed to corner rooms of Bosensweig's Block, corner State Street and the Public quare, Erie, Pa. W. H. LUCE, DESTINA, Office in Benty's Comments of the Comments of Public Square, formerly occupied by lagil & Co. All work warranted.

B. F. SLOAN, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

VOLUME 30.

WM. A. GALBRAITH. W ATTORNEY AT LAW-Office on 6th street, searly opposite the Court House, Eris, Ps. W. B. MAGELL, B. MAGELL, DEFFIRE, Office in Rosenawing's Block, serth-side of the Party-Erie, Pa. WILLIAM THORNTON, JUSTICE OF THE PRACE. Deeds, Agreement Bonds and Mortgages, Leases, &c., accurately and carefully drawn. Office on French, street, over Jas. S.
Sterrett, Grossy Stare Eris, Pa.

J. C. BURGESS & CO., GROCERIES,

FLOUR,

PORK, &c., AT WHOLESALE. No. 7. Bonnell Block, State Street.

E. P. MIDDLETON & BRO., INFORTERS OF

COGNAC & ROCHELLE BRANDIES. HOLLAND GIN. Scotch and Irish Whiskies, PORT, SHERRY, MADERIA AND CHAMPAGNE WINES.

Choice Old Monongahela, WHEAT.

AND RYE WHISKIES E. P. M. & BRO., in hand the Largest and Best Selected Stock of Fine Old Whiskey Of any desires in the United States; all of which is high it improved by age 1. MIDDLETON & RRO. 1, 25 6 North Front st, Phila

J. N. KLINE & CO., Successors to KLINE & CARROLL

S IMPORTERS OF Wines, Brandies, Gins, &c.

No. 116 Walnut Street, and No. 11 Granite St Philadelphia. March 3, 1859

J. C. BURGESS & CO., WHOLESALE GROCERS

Agents for FAIRBANK'S SCALES

No. 7. Bounell Block, L. A. MORRISON

WHOLESTLE DEALER IN Flour, Pork, Beef, Salt, Grain, CLOVER, TIMOTHY SEED, & No. 1, Commercial Buildings,

DE FOREST, ARMSTRONG, & CO.

ON Steamers, Public Pock, Frie Pa

DR Y GOODS MERCHANTS. 80 & 82 Chambers St., N. Y.

VOULD notify the Trade that they are

> WAMSUTTA PRINTS! AMOSKEAGI

A New Print, which excels every Print in the Country for perfection of execution and design in full Madder Colors. Our Prints are cheater than any in market, and meeting Orders promptly attended to feb4 - 1v35 FLEMING BRO'S.,

(SUCCESSORS TO GEORGE W. SMITH.) Brewers, Malsters and Hop Dealers. C. WELDEN, WHOLESALE and Retail dealer to all blads AVING purchased the entire interest of GEORGE W. SMITH, in the old and well known Point Brewery, Pittsburg,

For the accommidation of our customers in this

A. MORRIBON,
Wholesale Dealerin, Flour, Pork, Beef, Salt, &c., A CHANGE, OF ADMINISTRATION: H. T. HAVENS

> No. 3, REED HOUSE, Will continue the Wholesale I squar Business to a branches, and will accomment the public with GOOD LIQUORS AT LOW PRICES a I have in Stock and will continue to keep on hand BEST COMMON WHISKE) :

FINE DOUBLE RECTIFIED WHISKEY, OLD BYE

CHAMPAGNE, WINES—CORDIAL AND CATAWBA BITTERS, Act warranted Pure for Medical Purposes, Agent for Rhodes & Verner's Putsburg Ale. Give macall, the latch string is always out.

febil—36.

Magazines, Paper, Stationery, WALL-PAPER, &c.,

PARK ROW BOOK STORE.

TEETH! W. H. LUCE, thankful for the liberal

VV o patronage given him, announces that having procured the assistance of G. J. LUCE, he is prepared to all kinds of Dental work promptly and in the latest and most improved styles, and the attention of the public CONTINUOUS GUM WORK. which he has been engaged in making for the pest year to the entire satisfaction of his patrons, that he is now prepared to put up Teeth on prepared to put up Teeth on WULCANIZED HUBBER, which has the same advantages possessed by the Continuous Gun Work, leaving no seams or spaces for the accumulation of food, and giving to the face a perfectly natural expression, and for clasps it is preferable to any other material used, as it will not wear the teeth. Teeth put on gold or silver for those who prefer it.

Farticular attention paid to filling and preserving natural teeth, and also to the correction of irregularities.

Office in Beatty's Block, Park Row

Etrie, Dec 24, 1859—6m29.

W. H. LUCE.

HEIGE SHEARS, Pruning Knives, Budding Knives, at J C SELDEN'S PRESH TOMATOES HERMETICALLY Scaled, retaining the original flavor, in small as for family use, on mic at GOOD WARRANTED AXE can be

SCALES! SCALES!!

I am prepared to furnish Scales of any kind of the at much less pricess than ever before sold in this city.

And So. HORSE BLANKETS.—100 Horse Blankets, assorted qualities, cheep by c SELDEN.

at No. 2, Wright's Block.
April 9, 1889. BECEMAN, KENDIG &Co. DARIS FANS, COMBS & HAIR PINS. Fort Bark Jovelry Store. T. M. AUSTIN.

SPALDING'S LIQUID GLUE.—By the School or eingle bottle, by the C TER & SRO. CLEIGN BELLS.—Another lot of those chesp Sleigh Bells here been received by Jan, 7.

A Company of the State of the S

ERIE PA SATURDAY

the state of the said

THE TRUNDLE BED.

Portical.

BY B. M. MINISTRE. As I rummaged through the attic.

List'ning to the folling rain, as it pattered on the shipping And against the window gane Peoping over chest and busine, Which with dust were thickly spread, saw I in the furthest corner What was once my transle bed

Where it had remained so long Hearing all the while the music Of my mother's voice in song, As she sung in sweetest accents What I since have often ready " ilush, my dear, lie still and slumber

t a I listaned, recollections Came with all the gush of mem'ry, Rushing, thronging to the spot; To those marry days of yore, By this bed upon the floor

Holy angels guard thy bod" Piaced upon my infant head, That she taught my lips to utter Never can be forgotten-Deep are they m mem'ry driven riallowed be thy name, O Father! Father! who art in heaven!"

This she taught me, then she told me of its import great and deep, titer which I learned to utter "Now I lay me down to sleep." Then it was with hands uplifted, And in accents soft and mild, hat my mother asked "Our Father O, do Thou bless my child"

ear bare passed, and that dear mother long has lain beneath the sod tad | trust her sainted spirit Revels in the home of God But that scene at summer tastight, Nerve has from mem'ry fled, indåt comes in all its freshness

Choice Literature.

When I see my trundle bed.

A Fire in the Praries.

CHARLES SUMMERFIÉLD

On a benutiful Christmas morning in the On a beautiful Christmas morning in the year 1868, two persons commenced their day is jurney from the eastern branch of Trinity fiver, in northern Texas, to visit some friends residing fifty miles to the denions of dear in the west. Their course led them over a level was the beautiful the denions of dear in the denions ing child.

Although it is now mid-winter, and the within view for the standard part of the s green, and looked brown and withered, tall forms strongly defined against the asure of existence, made her a woman, and open-yet still, in that genial clime of the sun, of the horizon, and their long necks stretched the golden gates of her heart for the prolific nature, delighting in file, refused not to put forth many flowers of delicate the whispers of the wind, telling the weird form and brilliant colors, which gleamed here and there, on the boundless bosom of the prairie, like golden ornaments that they were not half so nice as her mother's the dark-hued dress of a beautiful woman, | geese! di ar summer happy prime of vergin sixteen. Her fine the started away of a rate of the utmost form expusately shaped and of a full destaped has a untending to demonstrate pracreligiment for her years from I to be mel fieally the truth of her boast. animation and all her; rateful movements her companion, her happy laughter rung in the east, wavering line, which is despite on the wind; and to all his serious sayings ser bed in tree space by one familiar with she responded with playful jests. like the luminous shadow of starlight on tin distant mountains, the sea. As she rode rapidly onward, her to "We are traveling," he added, solemnly, voice might be heard ringing loud and clear, like the unrestrained accents of a deed he uttered nothing but the naked child—now in the melody of some merry song, and anon in wild laughter—that mu"Well, have you not a revolver?" said sic of the innocent heart, which lingers

Her companion, a noble, manly figure. with a smooth, soaring forehead, and ineyes and hair, might, perhaps, have numbered nearly tice her years, and, without any traces of the march of time, nevertheserver that serious look of profound tho't soul of the student, and tells the tale of shine. But, although he possessed beyond scenery, the beauties of field and forest, and the changes of magical meaning that come and go in the sky, yet on the present occasion all the grandeur round and above him failed to attract his attention, even for the briefest moment, from the face that beamed by his side. To his ardent fancy, ing star, and the lightest tone that trem-bled on her laughing red lips surpassed all the hymns of the angels in heeven. Her smile thrilled his bosom like an arrow of break with the spasms of pure, yet allpowerful love. the great prairie, on that beautiful Christmas morning—the one all radiant with innogence, the other, ardent love? The young gir was the only daughter of Captain Mason, so calebrated in the early history of foras; and the man was the private tutor, employed at an expensive salary by her ford father, to attend to her education.— The indulgent parent might have foreseen the probable consequence of such an intimake relation between youth and beauty. If however, the thought ever entered his aind, it gave him no unessiness; for, al-

Himself of lowly founder of his own too much the ridil to imitate their folly individual by the star merit, and regarded which lead to independent quisitions that result and hence he cared he win the affections of his chosen lover had correspirit, and sufficient in life's happiness.

Thus, the main observed the success of the private merits and sufficient in the success of the private merits. individual by the st than the ac-

sir éxercise : who might quisitions that result is and hence he cared by the service; and hence he cared by the service; what might win the affections of his chosen lover had corre their a braye subject to the right and electron in the support of the success of the private the success of the private the warment feelings of friendship. Thus, the main obside the warment feelings of friendship, the constitution of the constitution prolific nature, delighting in life, refused ed upwards, as it in the act of listening to

He pointed out an immense herd of wild ger ought never more to be parted till the gently imbued with the divine haze or In- horses careering the a whirlwind in their I fetterless free lem, over the tenceless ex-The thoughts and feelings of the two pase, with the crossing like thun-temporary travelers harmonized well with dericatar off, and their flowing tails erected, the scenes around them, and might indeed like banners in but le and she replied, have lent romantic lustre to any, the most | with a mocking smile, that none of them desilate perspective. One of them was a , could race with Selan meaning the magyoung girl, who had careely passed the initicent animal beneath her saddle; and stings with high force and uncontrollable. In fine, at nearly every observation of the whip and bridle, told of many a wild At length he imagined a method which, galifip over the prairies, and mad races on he felt sure, would tame her wildness. He the moonlight green. Her enchanting related a story of unalleviated horror, that tace, where the rose and lily blended, also was said to be founded on facts, which oced is brilliancy from the smoky atmost encamped there, one Christmas evening phores of capitals or the tainted breath of just ten years ago, without suspicion or theatre and drawing room. All its glow-prospect of peril. How they feasted them-inglitute had been eaught by contact with selves on the delicious marrow of the bison, the pearl-showers of morning dew, with and a thousand stars smild at their merrithe sunbeam and drops of celestial rain, ment, as they sung themselves to sleep and with the wings of the wind fresh from with old songs of war and love. Now the the misty mountain summits that never | Camaches discovered them, and surroundhad touched the poison of pool or fen-land. ed their tent with a circle of flame; and Her eyes were blue as the heaven above how those who were not burned alive fell her head, and were an arch expression of beneath the hail of hurtling arrows, while mingled kindness and mischief, as a play- the bleeding scalps were torn from their ulismile rested continually on her features. | quivering heads, as trophies for the dance

"over a very dangerous road." And in-the laughing maiden-and added, confinot after the entrance of subtlety and sin. | dently; "If any Camanche rides a horse that can overtake Selim, he may have my scalp, with the greatest welcome!" And tellectual cast of countenance, with dark thus did the gay hearted girl turn every subject into mirth or ridicule. About noon the sun began to glow with almost summer heat, and the air in the disless presented to the most indifferent ob- tance glittered with the delusive mirace so common in the prairies, and which so nearof water as not unfrequently to deceive the many a stern struggle with the tempests of most experienced eye. In noticing this life, and days of shipwreck as well as sunoptical phenomenon, far ahead, Edwin fancied that he perceived a wreath of blue most men the faculty divine, the dreamy smoke suddenly ascend, and trail its lasy imagination of the poet and painter, with length along the sky. He said nothing, intense devotion for the dreams of natural for that, too, might perhaps be an illusion of the eye or imagination, or at most but a slight festoon of dark clouds or mist, exhaled by the sunbeams. As they advanced, however, the appearance enlarged and deepened its intensity until the menace of that most awful of all earthly perils—fire in the prairie-forced itself upon their attention, beyond the possibility of a doubt. Huge volumes of smoke soon darkened the heavens over the remote path before them, and warned them back from the shadows of death; but, on turning in terflame, and set every wave of blood on fire, or to retrace their steps, they shuddered as with lightning. The accidental touch to behold that the same danger had staof her slender hand, the very rustle of her tioned itself behind them, as if to cut them robes, made his heart beat as if it would off from the chances of a retreat. A sea of break with the spasms of pure, yet allalong the road they had lately traveled. To render the hope of escape still more precarious, the atmosphere, but the minute austerior calm and haloyon, first uttered a soft murmur, the gentle sigh of new-born zephyrs, then this augmented to a strong breeze, and at length swelled to a perfec But one course of action now remained for the terrified travelers to fly from the fire-flend in a southerly direction, towards misty line projected on the verge of the horison, and which they supposed to be forest; if they could only reach that, they might consider themselves secure from though proud, his vanity did not rest on the impending peril.

"Come on!" crisd to "Come on!" cried the young girl, as she

$1.50 PER AMNUM IN ADVANCE.

MAY 19, 1860 is an entreme of a mainfairly ind.

"See I Lamby your side !" shouted Bdwin, as bottom from the both.

Than the ac-

and if it is no that if will not admit of aid, that I can sympathise with you."

"Think you deter, for your kindness; but I do antaxingly hate to tell you any, thing at all concerning it, as, it in no wise relates to you; and unthroppore, I am norry that I have been the unhappy means of arousing your curiosity."

"Oh, plague take you, brother, for thus tormenting me. I never thought you were so cruel- Pray tell me all, as you have told me a part." from the bow.

But, raud as wis their flight, their infurite for about to move faster, and haultiplied itself in different places—for before them—both to the right and left—as if an have told me a part.' "Well, I have taken a-

"As I was saying, I have taken—"
"Nobody's life, I hope; have you bro-which is wrong; so much so, in fact, as to totally disregard your promise to cease interrupting me while I relate that which gives you so much unessiness and dissatis-factson. If you will endeavor to keep as requested him to tell his story, and she'd "do the best she could."

"To commence anew. I have lately all this (so called) 'seriousness.'

district the state of the same a weman who could keep a secret in any other way than to keep it a-going."

"How protoking you are, this morning."

> ed the golden gates of her heart for the entrance of the angel of love. The converse of the two may be imagined as they moved over the smoking and blackened prairie. They both drew the not illogical conclusion, that those who had been so closely united in the hour of extreme dan-

The Lottery Ticket, and the Prize it

Drew.

BY MARTHIA H. BUTT.

"What makes you so dispirited and dolorous of late, Roland?" remarked a darkeyed sister as the young man alluded to entered the parlor and took a seat on the her dark eyes on him, while a mischievous smile lingered on her fair features and her delicate foot tapped the pliant carpet pe-tulantly, "I cannot tell the day when I saw you look so solemn and gloomy as you now do; in fact, brother, you look as melanshopped the warmest hues of joyous health. curred near the spot where they were then though as a weather-besten gable on a rainy like complexion was such as never borrow-passing:—How a family of emigrants had day. Now, I should really like to know a family of emigrants had day. the cause of this, and if there is any remedy or antidote that I can prescribe, I shall be most happy to do it. I am sure the day never was fairer, the sky clearer, the meadow more beautifully carpeted soft green grass, nor the peach trees fuller of gay blossoms, than now. Then why this sombreness, if I may be allowed the use of the epithet, of your deportment?"

When she concluded, Roland looked up as grave and awe-inspiring as a deacon when exhorting his hearers to repentance, and inquired in a corresponding tone-"Have you got through, sister?"

"Through? No. I can give you a whole lecture, if you wish; how do you like the tone of my remarks?" "I have nothing in particular to say either pro or con, because they were anticipated. You charge me with being gloomy, and I, with equal propriety, can retort by calling you querulous: because, if I am merry and jubilant, I am foolish in your opinion and estimation, and when I am thoughtful and serious, you say I am dole-ful as a funeral train. Now, is this not true sister !"

"I must, like the culprit at the bar of justice plead guilty as to part, while to the remainder I will plead the general answer whereby I controvert each allegation and dony the same."
"Of a verety, Amelia, I should advise you to enter some lawyer's office and commence reading Blackstone and Kent, as you quote legal phraseology as fluently as an infant does the Hebrew tongue," said Roland laughingly.

"Avast to your joking, especially at the present time, as I wish to learn the cause of your late conduct."

"There it is, again; when I do make pleasant remark, you repudiate it immediately; but I don't feel disposed to enter into and altercation with you; and will, as you appear to be so anxious to learn it, tell you why I have been some what thoughtful for the last month or so." "Now you begin to talk as a brother

"To gratify your womanly curiosity, ther was just ruminating over what I have lately done, and ----He dropped his head and paused, though the thought was terrible and too painful to relate. She saw with astonishment this singular manouvre, and said, in an agitated man-should; and by all means, go on."

"Go on, brother; tell me all! You surely have not condititted a mur-The remainder of the word was uttered in an inaudable whisper. After nighing pervously, he raised his head and replied...
"No, Melia I have not committed any...

wielded her whip with a morelless Hands mattle, so that it messary, Luis aid you and Balim sympact the earth, like the gust and it it is no that it will not admit of aid, it has a sympathic with you."

See I Lamby your side !" should Bit "Think you sitter, for your kindness;

"What, brother, what?" she eagerly asked interupting him.
"Do no permit yourself to become so excited; I have done nothing so very outrageous.

ther! "You appear very apprehensive and mistrustful least I should have done that quiet as you convenietly can, I will proneed. Perceiving that her eagerness had led her too far, she slightly bit her lips, and taken a chance in a lottery which has caused "I am sincerely sorry, Roland, that you have been again allured from the path of lottery, please inform me when you expect | ther's to receive a prize." "As you haven't asked me which particular lottery I have procured the chance in, I will tell you something as to the time of itabeing drawn. I think in about a month. That I shall get a prize, rest assured; but I must now fulfill an engagement previously made." Saying which he sprang to his feet and left the house.

"What a diffident set of beings these brothers are," mused Amelia, after Roland had quitted her presence. "No doubt he sam not foolish enough to permit such a state that the lady is again married; this small matter as the purchase of a lottery ticket—a mere piece of paper—and as worthless as it is small—to agitate my feel—singular fatality among the husbands, and ings a particle. No, no; he may do as he something more radical in effect was in his head." "Well, well," continued she, after a moment's pause, "things have arrived at a pretty pass when a brother can't or won't trust his sister. I'm sure I don't care any-thing about his chance, other than I wish he would lose, just because he cast such insinuations upon the ladies. Talk about a woman's not being able to keep a secret. when he knows I kept one for him a whole week; and when I did tell it, it was purely accidental. But never mind, I may yet be the possessor of a secret that he would like to know, when I will retaliate this conduct

After thus relieving herself of her pentup thoughts, she seated herself before her piano, and commenced drumming away just as though she was going to drown her curiosity in "the concord of" anything but "sweet sounds." Alas! such was not the agitated she became. Finding that music was but a poor antidote for a disturbed mind, she reclined on the soft and began reading "Bleak House," which possessed the "sovereign balm," sought for, because in less than ten minutes she was wandering in the fairy realms of dreamland. down street, and called upon a certain young lady of his acquaintance, to whom he had already applied the endearing epithet of "my dear Seran;" and he might have changed it a little, with equal pro-priety, and read thus: "My intended."

A pleasant hour, or an hour very pleasly speak is her society, when he journeyed on, down the shadowy vale of life. I will not deign to tell or even presume the nature of their conversation, being but yet novice in such matters. Time persed onward as rapidly as usual, until a month had disappeared, when Roland entered his sister's apartment one evening, and said, in a meaning tone-There, sister, is the ticket of which I spoke, some time since." On receiving it she hastily glanced at it and found it to be a wedding card.

"Oh, you cruel wretch, you!" she ex-daimed in well affected astonishment, "to thus fool me." "Why, ais, I did not try to deceive you; you tried to fool yourself."

"I don't know whether to construe this as real, or another ruse of yours. Is it or is it not a ruse?" "I am perfectly honest in this; the card means just what it mays; and now that you have learned in which lottery I purchased the chance in, will you tell me whether or no you deem my course and selection a judictions one, taking into consideration the fact that I was so sure of getting a prise."

"Yes, with all sincerity, I can say, in biblical language, "Thou hast done well," for a better girl never smiled over a cook, the state of the Samb Farth. stove than Sarah Kayton. While I disapprove of your having kept all knowledge of your courtship from me, I must say that you have made a good selection."

"No, not a particle. When I made that "You have excited my curiosity to its highest picin; so please tell me about the remark, I had direct reference to money lotteries, and never even thought of what been a witness to projection descentation of force in a cottage."

There deed Roburd and Sauch, second tented and disable that the possibly can be.

Although many years have the possibly can be.

Although many years have the disabled yet he has never had occasion to regre the procuring of his last " Lattery Take nor the Prize it DREW."

decided in the Court of Sessions in Edinburg, Scotland. Mrs. Cetherine Fails on tered suit to have it declared that she was the wife of the late Cathoart Leslie. It was proven they became engaged in 1832, and in 1837 they formally accepted of each other as man and wife, without any other ceremony or witnesses, agreeing to keep it, secretiuntil he was rich enough to export that. Then lived assets for thirty wears secret until he was rich enough to support her. They lived apart for thirty years, continually corresponding until his death in 1857. The Scotch judges decided in favor of Mrs. Leale, in accordance with the law of Scotland, which, in order to make a marriage legal, requires no form or corremony, civil or religious; no notice, no witnesses, but means the accordance the witnesses, but merely the consent of the parties; and if this latter can be proved at any subsequent period, even after the lapse of years, by subsequent written acknowledgement or oath of reference, the parties will be held to have been legally married, whether living together or not.

Good-Byz.-So naturally does that word come to the lips when we are called upon to part from those whom we esteem and love. But what is the meaning of the phrase? It has now passed into an ordi-nary salutation, and is generally used as a mere expression of affectionate interest and goodwill. Few who employ it, know that o iginally it implied a solema prayer and blessing. If it were to be set forth in full, it would be, "God be with you." So it used to be said and written in old times.

passion of Moore, the war the state painting of Edward and the great imbed bean of Edward of the present of Edward of the present of Edward of the present of the three approached the state of the present of the three approached the state of the present of the three approached the state of the present of the three approached the state of the present of the present of the state of the present of but narrow is the way that leadeth to life. and few there be who take it." "Beloved brudders, than be two route, and dat leads right down to damnation, and a great many goes in it; but dar an anudder road, an' dat am de narrer road. dat leads straight up to perdition."

"If dat's de case," said an excited colored brother in the congregation, "dis nigga cuts for de woods !'

THE MARRYING WOMAN MATED AGAIN. A couple of years ago we noticed the death of the fourth or fifth husband of a German milliner woman residing in the Third District. In due time, after that, we mentionthinks my curiosity is excited to its ed the lady's marriage to her fifth or sixth highest degree: and by his conduct he appears determined to keep it there; but I the singular luck and bad luck of the wohas a mind to. I shouldn't have said a word about his looks, hadn't I suspected year, naturally attract much attention in the lower end of the city. The case is without a parallel, so far as we know.—
The thing is especially wonderful to the ladies. who say that the woman has nothing to commend her personally, beyond a fine set of teeth.—N. O. Crescent

MELANCHOLY TRUTH .- The Schenectady Star copies the notice of the death of Mr. Slessinger, a short-hand Reporter at the Poor House of this county a few days ago, and remarks:known scores of newspaper attaches, who lived, loved, toiled and sickened, died often alone, amid poverty, delirium and Alas! how little the outside world knoweth of such men, of their struggles, their temptations, their sore griefs and heavy hearts. The Press is at once the hand that feeds, and the hand that strikes them down. The Newspaper is the grave of Genius, and ed for bread. Warm, close rooms, sedentary employ-ment, merely tolerable salaries, and loneliness of heart-what a prospect! The young authorling enters the band of Editors and Reporters with a free fancy, vig-orous health, high hopes, and a desire to do good. He finds, with time, a change within him. He writes more readily, and dares to think freely. The Press has its studied Conventionalisms as well as Society. Public opinion is a thing Publishers have little faith in—if they trusted it more it would come to treat them more charitable. The cynicism of the Press is ghastly—horrible

-and the Editors, reporters and attaches imbibe the poison, wither under it, die and are buried, leaving no sign.

Speak out O Local Editors and City Reporters! Tell us, O majestic Editors-in-Unief if we say not truly! Do ye never think what we have for once dired to say?

It is not so wonderful, then, that to men so circumstanced, the Syren of the Cup sings sweet strains, beguing them to their gold. Philosophy shall embalm his name in her richest unction. History shall give him a place on her brightest page, and old. yea, hoary far off posterity shall reme him as of yesterday!

THE MAN WHO DARES TO BO RIGHT.—The man who stands in the breach of universal public censure, with all the fushions of opinion disgracing him, in the thoughts of the lookers-on—with the tide of obliquy beating against his breast, and the fingers of the mighty, combined many, pointing him to soorn—nay, with the fury of the drunken rabble threatening with instant death—and, worse than all, having no present friend to whisper a word of de-fence or palliation in his behalf to the revilers, but bravely giving his naked head to the storm, because he knows himself to be virtuous in his purpose; that man shall come forth from the fiery ordeal like tried.

The census of clerks just taken in Washington, shows this industrious little army to number in all 908 men, within fraction of a full regiment.