A SOLDIER'S SENTIMENTS -A friend has handed us the following extract from a letter written by a soldier in one of the New York rement of S. P. Beecher, Equ, offering a lot regiments. It was addreased to his aister. without any design of publication, and can therefore he rolie I on as an unvarnished statement of fasts. The opposition papers continnally declare that the army is in favor of the present management of the war, and cite letters to prove it, and it is but fair that we > should be permitted to pursue the same course to sustain our belief of the soldiers' sentiments : "You tell little Mary and Clarence that ] am a soldier and am fighting for the Union, the Constitution and the Nigger I shan't fight if the niggers fight too, for they will fare a great deal better than we do Niggers are hought more of than the soldiers, down here. When we hre on the march niggers can ride horses and we have to foot it, and that makes us mad at them. Some niggers broke open a safe, the other night, and took thirty thousand dollars. They caught two of them, but not the one that had the money. They all ought to be hung for it, I think." ME GOUGH'S BENEVOLENCE.-John B. lough, according to the New Bedford Mercury,
