Democratic State Ticket. FOR GOVERNOR, GEORGE W. WOODWARD, of Philadel FOR SUPREME JUDGE!

WALTER E. LOWRIE, of Alleghtny Co.

OUR information from HOOKER's army is singularly meager and obscure. It is impossible to state exactly where it is at present, but the general impression appears to be that it is in front of Washington, lying at various points from ten to thirty miles from that city.

Tax brave soldiers of the Union need no further evidence of the sympathy felt for their perils and privations by the members of our party than the action of the late Democratic Convention in Illinois. It will be recollected that Gov. YATES prorogued the Democratic Legislature of the State when about appropriating $100,000 for the sick and wounded soldiers. The Democrats in the Convention, to help repair that outrage, contributed $47,500-a large portion in amounts of $5 and $10, and some up as high as $500 and $1,000. The Buffalo Courier truly says that it was generosity ever recorded.

THE REBEL INVASION.

Our latest news are of the most alarming character On Wednesday night, the rebels under Gen. Ewell, variously estiwere reported to be within a few miles of Carlisle in Cumberland county, and rapidly marching on Harrisburg. The few raw militias in the Cumberland Valley, under Gen. Knirg, are said to have been driven back, and but little confidence we are unable to say.

city consists in about 15,000 militia, hurhardships of a campaign. The Washington Administration has boasted that our army largely surpasses that of the rebels, in numbers and equipments, and if its representations heretofore have been correct, it surely could spare a few regiments to assist in driving back the rebel horde who are devastating one of the finest sections of our State, and before this paper reaches our readers may be in possession common sentiment of the people when in the extreme.

there is but one duty before our people, can save the country from total destruc-and that, to throw saids all party distinctions, and preferences for men, and with one accord march to the defence of our imperilled brethren in the lower section of the State: The invaders must be dritreesure. We owe it to our own sense of manhood, to the obligations we owe to our fellow-citizens, and to the common interests of the nation, that the desolating foot of the enemy shall not long be permitted to disgrace the soil of Pennsylvania. It is time for the public to awake from the lethergy that seems to have enchained it. Arise, fellow-citizens, to the duties of the crisis. The country needs the services of every one of us. and all the impulses of our nature should urge us on to give them in any capacity where they can be most useful.

Republican Testimony.

The Pittsburg Chronicle, a red hot Abolition print, says of Messrs. WOODWARD and Lowers: "Both nominees are gentlemen of marked ability, and so well known here that we deem any further reference to them unnecessary."

The Philadelphia Bulletin, also strongly. Republican, says: "The Convention' in choosing their candidate for Governor have done more wisely than was expected of them. Judge Woodward is unquestionably superior to any of the politicians that have been prominently before the public for the nomination. He is an able lawyer and a gentleman, which cannot be always said of Democratic nominees. * * His nomination is a strong one for the party, and it makes it more important than ever that the friends of the National Administration should bring out for their candidate one around whom the whole Union strength can be concentrated."

Wz are pleased to notice that our old employer, Col. A. K. McCluzz, of Chambersburg, has again entered the editorial State, and a man in all respects fit to ocranks, having united the offices of the Repository and Dispatch at that place, and established a new paper called the Frank-An Repetitory. We do not by any means the deep-scated affection he possesses in endorse the Colonel's political views, but the hearts of his fellow Democrats, and is personally he is a gentleman in every the highest tribute to his private and offisense of the word, and possesses abilities cial character. Under his management, we expect to find the Repository one of the best and most fairly conducted Re- uttered against him, and we believe he is publican papers in the State.

OUR NOMINEES.

Harrisburg. The nominees are gentlemen one that every true patriot must heartily endorse, and the character of the Convention itself was of such a nature as to re flect credit on the party and the Commonwealth. We have seen numerous bodies of a similar kind in our time, but never one that comprised more high-toned patriotism, exalted personal reputation, or was freer from that disgusting system of low trickery which has too often disgraced the political assemblages of this State. The delegates were mainly new and pure men, fresh from the people, and zealous to anticipate their wants; and the ques tion uppermost in their minds was not common interests of the State and nation. Imbued with this spirit, it was impossible mistakes; and the harmony that attended Krim, of Schuylkill. their proceedings, the enthusiasm occasioned in all quarters by their nominations, and the remarkably respectable character of the nominees themselves, is the best tribute to their action. Hon. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, our candi date for Governor, is one of the first men one of the grandest exhibitions of public in Pennsylvania. His superior abilities are conceded by all who know him, and have won for him a reputation extending far and wide into every section of the Union. Elected at an early period of his life as a member of the Convention to revise the State Constitution, he soon made mated at from 20,000 to 30,000 in number, his mark among the able statesmen comprising that body, and was recognized as the leader in all its most important discussions. He was shortly afterwards setected as the Democratic nominee for United States Senator, but was defrauded out of an election by the defection of a was felt in repelling the rebel advance few political renegades, who cast their until they reached within, a few miles of votes with the opposition for SIMON CAMEthe State Capital. Amongst riedly collected, and neither acquainted the members of the bar, who know him with military tactics, nor inured to the best, there will not be one found to deny him the possession of abilities of an unusually exalted nature.

But Judge Woodward's mind is not of a high legal nature alone. We have often heard it said that he possessed the most comprehensive intellect of any man in Pennsylvania, Mr. Buckalew, perhaps, excepted. He is a statesman of the ablest kind, fully acquainted with every important question in our political history, and of our Capital. We but reiterate the taking an active interest in everything connected with public events. A Demoprenounce the conduct of the Federal crat, undeviating in his faith, he has al Administration inexplicable and criminal | ways entertained the warmest sympathy for the principles of our party, believing In this hour of our saddest calamity as we do that they are the only ones that

The personal character of Judge Woon-WARD is wholly above reproach. He will meed no defence in the canyass on this score, for no Opposition journal or speakven back at whatever cost of blood and | er will dare to attack him. Longras he has been in public life, no person has ever charged him with doing a dishonorable act. He is a firm believer in the Jeffersonian maxim that "the office should seek the man, and not the man the office."-He was elected to the Supreme Bench in opposition to his wishes, and now he is selected by the Democracy of the State as their candidate for the highest office in their gift, without ever having solicited a vote, or even expressed a desire for the place.

In the nomination of Judge Woodward, the Democracy have a candidate in whom they may well feel pride, and for whose success they should labor with unceasing energy. Should he be elected, of which we scarcely have a doubt, we will have an Executive who can stand side by side with that of New York, in ability, integrity, and devoted fidelity to the glorious old Constitution and Union. Pennsylvanians will no longer have to blush with shame, to see their fellow citizens dragged from under the very nose of the Governor, and forced into prisons without written charges or a shadow of a trial; they will no longer be obliged to witness daily violations of the National and State laws within our Commonwealth; no useless panics will be raised, costing the Treasury immense sums of money, and making us the burlesque of our fellow citizens in other States; and we will have a Governor in all respects worthy of the great, wealthy and intelligent people whose public servant he is called to be.

Hon. WALTER H. LOWRIE, of Alleghenv county, our candidate for the Supreme Bench, is at present Chief Justice of the cupya place on the same ticket with Judge WOODWARD. His nomination by acclamation, without even taking a ballot, proves Judge Lowrie has sat upon the Bench we have never heard a breath of reproach as highly respected by the Opposition as by the Democratic members of the Bar -He has few superiors in judicial learning and his decisions are frequently quoted as models of legal ability and literary skill. DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION The Democratic State Convention, which met in the Hall of the House of Representatives, at dlarrisburg, on Wednesday, the 17th inst./ was one of the, finest and most enthusiastic bodies that ever assembled in the State. Every Senatorial and Representative district was represented, and the Convention contained even more than the usual average of able men .-Amongst the most prominent of the delegates were Messrs. CLYMER and WITTE being the two strongest candidates before the Convention, the strife for the different positions was mainy between their friends, resulting in all appointed, with authority to select permanent officers for the Convention. Taos. N. Brooks, of Crawford, was upon the committee from this Senatorial district, and Judge Brown from the adjoining one of Warren, Tioga, Potter and McKean.

At half-past seven o'clock, the Convention re-assembled, and the committee on Resolutions immediately reported, thro' their Chairman, Mr. Hughes, the series of resolutions published in another column. which were unanimously adopted with tremendous applause. Nominations for Governor being the next thing in order, the names of Wn. H. Wirrz, of Philadelphia; HEISTER CLYMER, of Berks; Gro. W. Wood-WARD, of Luzerne; WM. B. FRANKLIN, of York: GEO. W. At the close of the eighth ballot Hon. F. W. Hugges withdrew the name of Wm WOODWARD. Intense commotion followed Mr. Hughes' speech, the friends of Mr. CLYMER regarding the movement with disthe confusion, a vote was taken and several gentlemen who had supported CLYMER recorded their votes for Judge Woodward. The ninth and last ballot stood as follows:

Mr. Plotler, of Bradford county, moved that Hon. WALTER H. LOWRIE be nomina-I ted by acclamation for Supreme Judge.-The resolution was carried, amid a storm of applause.

Mr. LAMBERTON, of Clarion, offered a resolution that it is "the desire and request of the Convention that Hon. Grorge W. Mr. Clymer returned his thanks for the support which had been given to him. He had never had any personal ambition in regard to the nomination. M'Neil. 19. R. Bruce Petriken. 20. Wm. our vows of fidelity to the Constitution of the United States—the great charter for which our fathers struggled and fought and which was established, as they themselves expressed it, "to form a more per fect Union, establish, justice, ensure do mestic tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and posterity."

Resolved, That inasmuch as the Constitution embodies the only guarantees we have for public liberty and private right: as without it we can have no hope of protection from bloodshed, spoliation and anarchy—the man who sneers at the "Constitution as it is," proves himself to be deficient in the first element of patriotism, and any officer of the State or Federal Government who swears to support the Constitution and afterwards, with the oath on his conscience, willfully violates it, is wholly unworthy of public confidence.

Resolved, That among the rights which the Constitution provides to every citizen, that of being secure in his life, liberty and property, so that he cannot be deprived of either without due process of law-a fair trial by a competent judge and jury of his neighbors, with withesses to confront him and counsel to defend him. This is so just in itself, so necessary to the happiness of the people for whom all government is made, and so plainly written down in the Federal Constitution, and in all the State Constitutions, that any person who can misunderstand it has not, in our opinion, the mental capacity which fits him for public station.

Remised. That we have heard with insome of our political opponents claim for the President of the United States, a power hitherto wholly unknown in America, and never exercised in Europe or Asiaexcept by the most despotic monarchs. namely: the power to arrest free citizens for the expression of their honest opinions on public affairs; and that the President has not only presumed to exercise this power himself with the moderation and mercy which his own nature might prompt, but has delegated it to many subordinates, and they again to others in every part of the country, until its hideous presence is seen and felt all over the land.

Resolved, That among the numerous officers to whom the President has given this terrible power above the laws and above the people, there must, in the nature of things, be a large proportion who are wholly incapable of wielding it either honestly or wisely—low politicians filled with partisan rancor-knaves who do not families, judges knocked down on the bench, ministers of the Gospel imprisoned majority of all the votes, was declared the women treated with a brutality which it would be indecent even to name, and all strations of applause the most wild and this, in many cases, without a prelence

> Resolved, That a free Government cannot exist without a free press, and the Constitution of this State, as well as of the United States has declared that it Chall be free. Those persons, therefore, in office or out of office, who attempt to suppress books and newspapers by vio-lence, are the enemics of this Government and ought to be themselves suppressed. Resolved, That we heartily thank the lion-hearted Democracy of Ohio for the munly vindication they have given to the Constitution against the great crime committed upon it in the arrest and deportation of Clement L. Vallandigham, and we a-sure them of our cordial sympathy in the great struggle they are making for their undoubted rights. Resolved, That the plain duty of the Chief Magistrate of this Commonwealth ministration. Neither must be allowed to requires him to use whatever power the flag. The coercion and the conciliation law has placed in his hands to protect the of the Constitution must both be admin State and the people from lawless outtages, come from what quarter they may, and no man is fit to be Governor of this State, who will consent to hold his own liberties and let the people hold theirs at the mere will of the Federal Executive.

Resolved, That the Democracy of Pennsylvania have been ever true to the cause of the Union. It was in the name and for the sake of the Union that our party was made; that we denounce the least in timation that the Democratic party entertains now, or ever has entertained, or ever one or two extra for the banefit of any of Bradford; and by Messra. Witte and can entertain the slighest sympathy with the present gigantic rebellion, or with traitors in arms against the Government, or would ever consent to peace upon any terms involving a dismemberment of this Union, as utterly unjust; and in proof of this, we point with exultation to the lavish contributions to the war, in blood and treasure, heretofore and now being made, Mr. Witte said he was glad that the Conby the hundreds of thousands of Democratic citizens, who were among the first to fly to the rescue of the Union, and peril their lives in its defence.

Resolved, That as the true friends of the Union, and feeling a profound anxiety for its fate, we claim and will exercise the urge in becoming terms upon the people and the constituted authorities, whatever likely to place and keep the whole nation together under one Kederal Government.

Resolved, That when this war began we pose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of those States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality, and rights of the several States unimpaired, and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease." But the Federal Administration, to the Union, and without the consent of the great mass of the people, has totally changed its ground, avowing and pro-claiming its purpose to be wholly different, and thus it has greatly delayed our just hope of an honorable peace.

The reading of the resolutions was frequently interrupted by applause, and the resolutions as a whole were adopted un-Democratic principles through a long lifetime animously amid the greatest enthusiasm.

The Gazette published, not long ago, an extract from a speech purporting to have been delivered by Hon. CHAS. R. BUCKALEW, our new Democratic U.S. Senator, speaking of it in complimentary terms, and commending it to the attention of Democrats. We hope it will also permit its readers to see the following letter written by him to the great Democratic meeting in Philadelphia:

BLOOMSBURG, June 1, 1863. Dear Sir: Your letter inviting me to attend your meeting of this evening, called with reference to the arrest, military trial and exile of Mr. Vallandigham, was the State as he did at Antietam. The speaker delayed in reaching me. I have only concluded by expressing his belief that the nominees of the Convention would be trium-write a few lines in reply.

I approve, most heartily, the object of your meeting, and hope it may be success ful and exert a wide influence upon public opinion. Now that public events present to the people the question of liberty as well as of Union, there ought to be no doubts and no hesitation among them as to the course to be pursued. They must uphold liberty and put down its foes, and I am, respectfully, yours,

C. R. BUCKALES H. W. Diman, E.q., Chairman Dem. City Executive Committee

General McClellan.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes: "The pressure for the reinstatement of McClellan to the command of the army is almost irresistible, and it is reported on fair authority that the matter is now under Cabinet discussion. As the same elements of opposition exist, however, a recall of the General will devolve personally upon the President, who may or may not assume the responsibility. It is certain, however he will not be recalled until the present threatened engagement is over, and not then, I apprehend, should Gen. Hooker prove successful."

THE NEWS from all portions of the State is very encouraging. The nominations of the Harrisburg Convention have been recaived in every county with the greatest enthusiasm. In the lower counties especially the feeling of satisfaction is most intense, and the Democrats of that section have already taken measures to make a thorough canvass. We have good reason to believe, from personal conversation with prominent Democrats, and the universal sentiment of the Democratic press, that Meers. Woodward and Lowers will be elected by majorities never before reached by any candidate in this Commonwealth.

Gay. SEYMOUR, of New York, and Goy. Parker, of New Jersey, are entitled to the everlasting gratitude of the people of Pennsylvania for the promptness with which they sent amistance to us in the hour of danger. The former has forwardsome fifteen regiments of the State Guard to Harrisburg, and the latter two or three regiments of New Jersey troops. The Republican papers are just now as lavish in prise of these two Democratic Governors as before they were full of calumny. As soon as the crisis is over, though, they will commence calling them "Copperheads" as hard as ever.

ATTITUDE OF LOYAL CITIZENS. The attitude of really patriotic citizens cannot be better presented than in the following brief paragraph from the Louisville Journal:

"We must do two things in order to reestablish the government; we must break down the military power of the rebellion and we must assure the people in the rebellion that the door of the Constitution is open to them, and that all we require of them is to enter it. Our armies are doing the first, and the loyal opponents of the policy of the administration are do ing the second. Those who in a spirit of patriotism oppose the policy of the administration are working hand in band with our armies for the re-establishment of the government. Their task is as indispensable as that of our brave soldiers in the field, and is not less noble. We must keep up our loyal opposition to the adistered with all possible vigor. We must speak and write and vote for Justice. while we fight for mastery, so that we may the more speedily achieve mastery. and that our mastery, when we achieve in shall be permanent and glorious."

A MILLION OF DOLLARS OFFERED .-- UD Monday morning a meeting of the Board of Bank Presidents was held, at which it it was agreed, to offer to Governor Curtin a loan of one million of dollars. 'This money is to be paid the soldiers in order that they can make some provision for their wives and little ones before going forth to repel the invader from our soil. There will be no difficulty, however, we are assured, in the soldiers procuring their pay as soon as due, and in some cases in advance, as ample arrangements have been made to provide for the same. - Phila.
