Wilson, (subject to the Senatorial Conference;) Assembly, Col. John S. M'Calmont; Prothonotary, William Christy; Register and Recorder, A. P. CRAWFORD Co. - The Democratic Convention in Crawford city will meet at Meadville on Saturday the 4th of August, to make nominations for the ensuing campaign. The candidates thus far are as follows: Assembly, Patterson Johnston, of Venango; Sheriff, Joseph Kelsey, Meadville; Prothonotary, Robert Pation, Cochranton; Register and Recorder, Jas. S. Johnson, Woodcock; County Commissioner, Nicholas Snyder, Sagarstown; Associate Judge, Robert Adrain, Meadville.

WELL DONE, CRAWFORD .- The late rebel raid into Pennsylvania was the occasion of a display of the patriotic spirit of this county of which we may well be proud. Within 48 hours after the Governor's call for troops had been issued, hundreds of our people were wending their way to the capital of the State. for the purpose of driving back the invaders. Mandville alone turned out nearly one hundred of as brave and gallant men as ever marched to the field of battle; and many other parts of the county also came up nobly to the work. All honor to "Old Crawford."-She never fails to do her duty in the hour of danger. On Saturday night the volunteers all returned home, and were greeted with a hearty welcome by the citizens of this place .- Meadville Democrat.

JOHN B. GOUGH .- The following from an exchange, is a brief sketch of the most prominent events in the life of John B. Gough : "He was born in Kent, England, in 1817 .-His father was a soldier, his mother a village schoolmistress. At 12 years old he came t America, went to New York in 1831, and obtained employment as a binder -in the Metho dist Book Concern. His mother died in 1883 He soon made convivial acquaintances, fell into habits of dissipation, and was frequently thrown out of employment. At length, having unk into extreme poverty and degradation t was his custom to repair, night after night, to the lowest grog-shops and sing comic songs and play the buffoon to the habitues, who supplied him with drink in return. He married in 1839, and undertook book binding on his own account, but his intemperance prevented his success. He had suffered from tremens, had lost his wife and child, and was reduced to the utmost misery, when a Quaker invited him in the street to take the temperance pledge. He soon related his history at a temperance meeting, with such effect that he was at once esteemed a leading orator in the temperance cause, and his services were much in request. In 1842 he was induced by some of his former companions to violate his pledge, and made his confession of the fact at a public meeting in Worcester. Since 1843 he has la-bored incessantly in behalf of temperance, and with such ability and success that his movements have sometimes resembled a triumphal march. After lecturing to orowded audiences in the principal cities of the United States, he went in 1858 to England, at the invitation of the London Temperance League, lectured in Exeter Hall and other large build-

Another Riget from Mr. Lawry's Bugle, The Royal teaguers or Philidelphia, held a meeting lately, at which one, of the leading speakers was Mr. Lowey, of this city. We have no time to make any comments on his speech, and indeed it needs none. We copy the Bulletin's report :

"M. B. Lowry, of Erle, was next introduced He said that he felt embarrassed in thus suddenly being called on. He was yet but a young min, but had been burnt Meffigy for offering a resolution in the House of Representative 1842, for abelishing imprisonment for debt. No intelligent man in the Commonwealth would probably re-establish that law. My conversion to Abolitionism by Governor Wise was more sudden than that of Saul of Tarsus. want to see my old friend, John Brown, in his hour of extremity, and, while in conver sation with old John Brown, in the inside of the prison, Governor Wise made a speech on the outside. The latter said, in the course of his speech, that if Fremont had been made President, they would have marched into the capital; they would have hung the Black Republican, and have controlled the Government Since the commencement of the rebellion, he had been in earnest in the case he had undertaken. During the last eighty years this Gov. ernment has had the reputation of being a Republican one, and has told the oppressed of every land that, in this country, there was a refuge for all the oppressed and down-trodden For the last eighty years we have been a nation of hypocrites. When we consider the magnitude of this rebellion, we have accomplished great results. One of our aims should be at present to organize colored troops, who will strike for ty, for God and man. The speaker refer red to the organization of the Massachusetts regiments. The object of the nation is now to organize 150,000 or 200,000 colored troops etween now and the first of December. I be lieve that this war can never come to a close until every man in this country has the chains of slavery knocked from his limbs. We are becoming educated by our reverses as by our successes. Why is it that the blood in Eastern Virginia is up to the bits of the horses, and yet we have no victories? The largest slave market in the world is there, and women as white as the wives of any present, have there we declare to the world that this war is for the people everywhere. Gentlemen in the North time you please to make up your mind; having once made it up, stick to it, like a burr ber that it is already doomed, and that it. ber that it is already doomed, and that it, it our duty to favor the going to the war of col-ored men. Perhaps I talk more strongly on this subject than is pleasant to many. If so, I cannot help it. The fable of the heathen nother, who caught a crocodile in infancy, is applicable. She was told it was a God, and around her, and it ate her children, and stil

The six hundred colored men who have recently fallen have elevated the race. no evidence of his being done up in a white one as yet. When this war was no larger than al master's plantation. [Laughter and applause.] And it will come to this. The man he charges nothing where success does not have to elevate him very much to make him equal to himself."
