Rappahamock near Falmonth, I and many of the company were sick with billous diarrhoss. The Army Sor geon did not care us, and I was reduced to shin and bosse.
Among the Company were quite a number of members who had worked in your Laboratory at Sieg Sing. They were not sick, because they used Brandreth's Pills. These men prevailed upon me and others to use the Pills, and we were all cured in from two to fire days. After this our boys used Brandreth's Pills for the typhus fever,

Who are Responsible for Mob Law?

In reviewing the wreck and ruin that now exist in our once free and happy country, men wonder about in strange bewilderment and vainly seek for the clew of Ariadne to guide them through the labyrinth. Let them turn to history, and they will find the mystic (bread. The Abolition teachers of the past weak and powerless for danger in comparison with the Jacobin orators and journals of the present, first began the "irreprestem was a total disregard of all laws in oppo-A FACT GENERALLY KNOWN, 1 FICE. wrong shall be finally accomplished. Mr. John P. Hale, the Abolition Senator from New Hampshire, was not behind the editor of the Tribune in his bloody sentiments. On the 20th of February, 1856, he thus addressed the Senate : "I thank God that the indications of the present day seem to promise that the North have at last got to the wall, and will go no specimens that might be presented of the further. I hope so. The Senator says there may be a power that shall say, Thus far shall thou go, and no farther.' Good! Good! Sir. I hope it will come : and if it comes to blood let blood come. No, str, if that issue must come, let it come, and it cannot come too soon, Sir. Puritan blood has not always shrank from even those encounters; and when the was has been proclaimed with the knife, and glistened in their hands; and when the battle was over, they were not always second best." In the same humor do we find the netorious Carl Shurz, a delegate from Wisconsin to the Chicago Convention that dominated Mr. Lincoln for the Presidency, and now one of the most active Abelitton leaders and generals. He addressed the citizens of St. Louis in the following language: "May the God in human nature be aroused an energy that shall eweep, as with the besom of destruction, this abomination of slavery from the land. - You call this revolution. It

In 1858, a band of Abolitionists, with force and arms, rescued some fugitive slaves from the custody of the Marshal and his escort, for which they were imprisoned. Giddings ap- I Cape. proved the act of the Abolitionists, but tho't they ought to have killed the officers of the law! We quote from his speech at Oberlin, Obio: "In disregarding the law, the prisoners did should have been delivered over to the colored You are aware that this is the doctrine which I proclaimed in Congress. I adhere to it. Had the prisoners executed the slave-catchers promptly, it would have taught the Administration a lesson not soon to be forgotton. We should have been no more troubled with that he has 5,000 of them in his camp usefully class of miscreants. They would have learned better than to show themselves among an intelligent people who know their rights and dare maintain them."

But Mr. Lincoln himself set the bad example of disobedience to the Courts. In his Chicago speech, July 10, 1858, he said : "If I were in Congress, and a vote should come up on a question whether slavery should he prohibited in a new Territory, in spite of the Dred Scott decision. I would vote that it should."

We next find Charles Sumner, the high priest of Abolitionism in Massachusetts, thus sions of the Courts and the acts of Congress advising resistance to the fugitive slave law in

"LOYAL" PASTIMES. Captain Cutts, who figured so largely as Jadge Advocate in the mock military trial of C. L. Vallandigham, got into a spree with a brother officer, and is now, himself, under trial. The third specification, against him is as follows:

"That the said Capt. James M. Cutts, 11th Infantry, U. S. A., did, on or about the 11th day of April, 1862, while occupying room No. 79, Burnet House, Cincinnati, Ohio, in the afternoon of said day, attempt to look through the keyhole of room No. 80 of said House, occupied by a gentleman and his wife, and did, in the evening of said day, at about half-past il o'clock, after said lady had ratifed to her room, and while her husband was in the corridor below-said lady being at the time partially undressed -- take a value or portmanteau from his room and place it in one of the open halls at the house, against the jam or door of said room accorded by said lady, placing himself thereon, did look through the ventillation, blind or transom light, in or over the door, as sold lasty was studressing. This to the great outrage of the feelings of the lady and her husband, and to the great scandal and injury of the service."

The constant and arrivet abuse of Democrats by the Abolitionists, says the Leb anon Advertiser, does more to enstrange the with the Government at Washington the other people, make them indifferent and indisposed to enlist, than all the other causes combined The Democrats have contributed liberally in men and money to carry on the war for the Constitution and the Union, and what have 0,20 and taunts of being "fraitors, secessionists, they received in return ! Nothing but abuse, sympathizers, copperheads," &c. Would it be any wonder if Democrats would become indifferent under the constant abuse they are recelving, together with threats of injury to person and to property, and all because they prefer to exercise their right to think politic-"Loyal Leagues?" They very naturally infer buried in oblivion, if they do not give up their manhood and join the Leaguers. We trust the opposition may pause and reflect on the course of conduct they are pursuing, and mend their guise of patriotism, so far, that eventually there may be neither politics nor patriotism

FREEDOM OF OPINION .- If all mankind minus one, were of one opinion, and only one person was of the contrary opinion, mankind would be no more justified in silencing that one person, than he, if he had the power, so much for what has been done, as for what | would be justified misilencing mankind. If the opinion is right, they are deprived of the opportunity of exchanging error for truth; if wrong, they lose, what is almost as great a benefit, the clearer perception and livelier impression of truth produced by its collision witherror. We can never be sure that the opinion we are endeavoring to stifle is a false opinion and if we were sure, stifling would be an evil still .- J. Stuart Mill.
