REV. PATHER COADY .- The Clearfield Reublican has the following notice of this genleman, who has recently become a resident n our city. It will be remembered that Father Coady had been stationed at Clearfield for a long period. He is warmly eulogistic of the people of that town, and the kind feelings he entertains for them appear to be fully reciprocated. The Republican says:

" No clergyman ever left this vicinity whose removal hence was more regretted than that of Father Coady. His intercourse with the citizens of our town was always of the most agreeable character—kind and affectionate to all, and if Father Tracy fills the vacuum created by the absence of Father Coady, his mission here will be an enviable success. The leading feature in the character of the former was different from that of the majority of clergymen of the present day—he always preached the Cospel of the Redeemer, and in his intercourse with his fellow-men was free and courteous always emulating and copying the example of the Great Teacher.

"In the short acquaintance we have had with his successor, we believe him to be a gentleman and a christian."
