The being hauled to the site which will be occupied conduct of the people was remarkably orderly, by that structure. and reflected the highest degree of credit upon those who were in attendance. We did not see a single instance of drunkenness in | deal at. the town during the whole day, and no disorderly occurrences whatever took place. The Provost Marshal gave an order early in the day forbidding the sale of intoxicating liquors sons who apply for exemption on the ground during the progress of the draft. The streets and houses of Waterford were gaily decorated with flags, as if in honor of some testive se-ession. The ceremonies of the draft took place on a platform which had been prepared in front of the Provost's office, and were witnessed by a considerable concourse of people. At the appointed hour, Col. Campbell announced that everything being prepared, he would call upon the audience to select a person to draw the names from the wheel. Mayor Met." calf proposed a blind gentleman' by the name of Weed, living in ----- township, which was acceded to by the crowd. The latter's eyes were - bandaged, notwithstanding his blindness, and he took his seat in front of the opening to the wheel, the latter being found the list of drafted men for this county. placed on an elevated platform, so as to be The total number drawn for Erie county was distinctly seen by all present. Commissioner 1,379, and for the District 3,387. Powell turned the wheel, and as each name was drawn, it was taken from Mr. Weed by Col. Campbell, who read it aloud, and then Col. Campbell, who read it aloud, and then handed it to Surgeon Mecklin, who in turn lead it to Surgeon Mecklin, who in turn Hotel. It. placed it in the hands of the enrolling clerks. Before placing the names in the wheel, they were carefully counted by the County Commissioners, and each set pronounced to agree in number with the enrollment of the district. When the first name was announced, it was greeted with shouts of applause. Many persons in the audience were "hit," and all of them appeared to take it in the best humor possible. The name of any well known this city. person, whether Democrat or Republican. was received with clapping of hands and signs of Carter's Extract of, Smart Weed is one of the gratification, and this was especially the case best known remedies for the complaints inciif they were amongst the number present. One gentleman had just driven up to the place of drafting, when his name was ansounced. The lusty manner in which he shouled out "here," drew forth bursts of laughter. A number responded good naturedly $18,000. His promptness secured us an abate to their names as they were called. None of the soldiers were permitted to be s small guard was kept constantly in the rear of the Provost's office. It is due to the government officers to say, that so far as we had any opportunity of judging, everything was conducted with the utmost fairness, and with an apparent anxiety to give satisfaction in regard to the same on the part of the public. The fact that Mr. Rambo, one of the enrolling officers in this city, and Mr. Halderman, one of the Provost's clerks, were among the number drafted, will go far towards convincing the community of the honesty of the proceedings.
