A FACT GENERALLY KNOWN, THAT the variety of new style Bedsteads, of Bronze, Cottage, Congress, Rocking, Office, Camp Sofa, Jenny Lind and other patterns, with serpentine and straight rail, handsomely veneered Bureaus, Extension, Dining, Breakfast, Centre and other Tables, Chairs, Quaker Rockers, Carpets and Bedding, Lounges, Sofa Beds, Hair and Shuck Mattresses, Feather Beds and Bolsters with other household furniture, &c., all manufactured from well seasoned lumber and healthy materials, by experienced workmen and not by apprentices. For style, quality and low prices I will defy even two-price dealers to undersell me. Feathers bought and sold. Cane seat, Parlor, Bedroom, Rocking, Nursing, Nurse and other Chairs, of Eastern and Western manufacture, are hickory dolled and glued, making them as strong as any other part of the chairs, where others made and sold are only nailed, and by no means durable. Wood Window, Rocking, Sewing and Nurse, are chairs of hard wood rounds clinched through the seat and glued, warranted to stand. Hindmost are painted, and can't be beat for strength, price and finish. Spring Beds. I have sold over 200 and have the highest testimonials with a list of prices of all goods sent on application. Packing and shipping free.

After five years experience and contending with unprincipled two price dealers, I am determined to sell one price to all, give worth for your pay, and do justice to all who trade with me.

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Live Stock, Credes and Hides Oil, Store Pay, Produce &c., taken at fair market valued for pay. Remember the place, next corner of 6th street on State, Erie, Pa. G. W. ELSEY

SURGEON-GENERAL HAMMOND.

By ordering Calomel and destructive minerals from the supply tables, has rendered a blessing to our sick soldiers. Let him not stop here. Let him order the discontinuance of "Bleeding," and the use of BRANDRETH'S PILLS in the place thereof. Then will commence a "new era" in the practice of Medicine, which would then become emphatically

THE HEALING ART.

I have not thirty years taught that no diseased action could be cured by mercury or tartar emetic. That the human body could only be "made whole" by "vegetable food"—Animal food being, in fact, condensed vegetables.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS should be in every Military Hospital. These Pills cure BILIOUS DIARRHŒA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, CHRONIC DYSENTERY, and all Fevers and Affections of the Bowels, sooner and more surely than any medicine in the world. BRANDRETH'S PILLS in these cases should be taken night and morning.

Read Directions and get new style.

CASE OF ROSCOE E. WATSON.

Dr. B. Brandreth, New York:

SIR:—I was a private in Co. F, 17th Regiment, New York Vols. While at Harrison's Landing with the Regiment back near Falmouth, I was many of the company were sick with bilious fever. Dr. Abbey Surgeon did not care us, and I was detailed to administer. Among the Company were quite a number of members who had worked in your Laboratory at Sing Sing. They were not sick, but came here and found the Pills. These men prevailed upon me and others to use the Pills, and we were all cured in from two to five days. After this our boys used Brandreth's Pills for the typhus fever, colds, rheumatism, and in no case did they fail to restore health.

Out of gratitude to you for my good health, I send you this letter, which if necessary the entire Company would sign. I am, respectfully, yours,

LYONS KATHAIRON.

This delightful article for preserving and beautifying the human hair is again put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention, which first created its unbounded and unprecedented sales of over one million bottles annually! It is still sold at 25 cents in large bottles. Two million bottles can easily be sold in a year when it is made known that the Kathairon is not only the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but that it restores the scalp to a sort and healthful, given the beautiful, rich, luxuriant growth, and prevents it from turning gray. There are considerations worth knowing. The Kathairon has been tested for over twelve years, and is warranted as described. Any lady who values a beautiful head of hair will use the Kathairon. It is finely perfumed, cheap and valuable. It is sold by all respectable dealers throughout the world. D. S. BARNES & Co.,

ja3dm3t New York.

HALL'S RENEWER.

IMMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.

IT IS NOT A DYE, but restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of Lunar Caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Helmstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color, by an easy process, but gives the hair a LUXURIANT BEAUTY, promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & Co., 202 Broadway, N. Y. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1. ja3dm3-4m

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE —IS—

THE ONLY DYE.....Ever analyzed.
THE ONLY DYE.....Sworn to be poisonless.
THE ONLY DYE.....For a living brown.
THE ONLY DYE.....For a perfect black.
THE ONLY DYE.....That defies detection.
THE ONLY DYE.....That is instantaneous.

AND THE ONLY DYE

For all who desire to have the color of their hair changed with safety, certainty and rapidity, to any shade they may desire.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure Cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try it, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT.

Died of croup—What a pretty and interesting child I saw last week! But now, alas! it is no more. Such was the conversation of two gentlemen riding down towards the cars. Died of croup! how strange! when Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment is a certain cure of that disease in time. Now, Mothers, we appeal to you! It is death to the poor little child that now lies playing on your knee. Croup is a dangerous disease! but not for Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment is time, and it is peaked of its poisons. Always keep it in the house—you may not want it to-night, or to-morrow, but taking what has been stated with this document you can apprehend, but it could when it will. Price only 25 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists, and at 56 Cortlandt street, New York. Beld & all Druggists. aug1-4m.

MARRIED FOLKS AND THOSE CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE, should read the fourth page this paper, entitled "Advice to Mothers," in which the married relation is considered in its various bearings, its pleasures, and evading a specific interest, and that it is usually by the ignorance of the parties themselves. The delicate questions are treated in a manner to be understood by all, and the whole subject is handled in a way that cannot offend the most fastidious. Every one should read it, as it contains information that may be the means of saving them from much misery and unhappiness. Sent by mail in a sealed envelope, free of charge, on receipt of two stamps. Address, Dr. W. YOUNG, No. 416 Spring Garden street, Philadelphia, Pa. aug1-4m.

EFFECTS OF CALOMEL.

DEAR SIR:—Please send me by express, one dozen bottles of your valuable Blood Purifier. I have used it in my family for the last six years, and have never found it to fail in the cure of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Jaundice, Fever and Ague, Rheumatism, Piles, Scrofula, Erysipelas, Ulcers, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Mercurial Diseases, Female Complaints, and all diseases arising from a disordered liver or impure blood. I have also used it in my family for the effects of Calomel, and have found it to be a perfect antidote for that poisonous drug. Yours, truly, JOHN F. HENRY.

Sold by all Druggists everywhere. aug1-4m.

"The Constitution as it is, the Union as it was."

BY WILL S. HAYS.

The country we so dearly loved,
Which love shall still remain,
To warm the hearts of Democrats,
And make it one again;
The nation cries aloud on those
Who ask for honest laws,
The Constitution as it is,
The Union as it was.

Chorus—Then rally, boys, rally!
Join us in the cause,
The Constitution as it is,
The Union as it was

The good old ship will brave the storm,
The pilot will be true
No danger! while the Democrats
Will constitute her crew.
"No North, no South, no East, no West,"
They only know one cause,
The Constitution as it is,
The Union as it was.

Chorus—Then rally, &c.

The North and South have acted wrong,
And they will wrong remain
Till honest, old-line Democrats
Will make them right again
A million voices then will shout,
Amid the world's applause,
The Constitution as it is,
The Union as it was

Chorus—Then rally, &c.

Then rally, "Old Democracy,"
And to the cause pray true;
The only hope I—a nation's eyes
Are looking now to you.
Arise and shout to all the world,
Regardless of its foes,
The Constitution as it is,
The Union as it was

Chorus—Then rally, &c.

Let Abolition find its grave,
Secession sleep beside;
And give our "Little Mac" the helm,
And let the old ship glide.
Down with the wrong, up with the right,
And give three loud huzzas
For the Constitution as it is,
The Union as it was.

Chorus—Then rally, &c.

A DAMNING RECORD.

Gov. Curtin—Who he is and what he is, as portrayed by a Republican Editor.

The following article is taken from the Pittsburg Gazette, published on the morning of the day of the meeting of the Republican State Convention. The Gazette is the principal organ of the Republican party in Western Pennsylvania. Its statements, therefore, cannot be attributed to partisan prejudice or hatred, nor can they be successfully refuted. We never saw a more damning record produced against any public man, and it cannot but tell fearfully against Gov. Curtin with the intelligent thinking voters of the State. How any honest man can vote for the Republican candidate for Governor, with such overwhelming evidence of his corruptibility and dishonesty staring them in the face—fastened upon him, too, by his own partizans—is more than we can see. We do not believe they will. But read the article and judge for yourselves:

(From the Pittsburg Gazette, Aug. 5.

A Parting Word to the Convention.

The delegates to the State Convention are now amongst us. Before they proceed to their duty, we have a word to say to them.

We had reason to believe that Gov. Curtin, notwithstanding his ostensible withdrawal, was a candidate for renomination, and confident that he would be successful.

WE FELT ASSURED THAT HE COULD NOT BE ELECTED. WE KNEW THAT HE OUGHT NOT. IT BECAME OUR DUTY, THEREFORE, TO SOUND THE ALARM, AND ENDEAVOR TO SAVE THE PARTY, IF POSSIBLE.

We have endeavored to show that he imposed upon the soldiers by forming them out to his friends, and then denying that he had employed them.

We have exhibited the record to establish the fact that he had approved a bill, acknowledged by him to be wrong, WHICH ROBBED THE TREASURY OF MANY MILLIONS OF MONEY, that he the conditions of his approval, he had taken an agreement for the State, which he obstructed, and secretly surrendered to the parties who had given—and that when interrogated by the Legislature, he confessed the fact and offered as an apology a reason which is shown to have been untrue.

We have demonstrated the fact that he bargained away a Republican United States Senator, for the consideration of an adjournment, and the discharge of the Committee, appointed to inquire into the means which had been used to procure the passage of that bill.

We have charged that he was unfriendly to the war policy of the Administration, and proved it not only by his Message in relation to the arrest of traitors, and his conduct in relation to the draft, but by the character of the men whom he has retained about him.

We have shown that the effect of his policy has been to break down the power of the Republican party of this State, and even those who merely co-operated with him in Legislation, have been placed, almost without exception, under the ban of the people.

And we have suffered from all this—without referring to other matters—THAT HIS NOMINATION WOULD BE DISGRACEFUL TO THE PARTY AND HIS ELECTION IMPOSSIBLE—as the general desire of Copperheads that we should vote him as our candidate, proves it to be, in their judgment, as well as ours.

All this we have been compelled, by the necessities of the case, to do, in order to save the cause from irretrievable ruin. We would rather have avoided this, if it had been possible. We have kept these things in the background, rather than run the risk of crippling the State Administration, or driving it bodily into the embraces of the enemy, to which we feared its tendencies were over-striking already. We thought it wise to make the best of a bad bargain, so long as we could not help ourselves. When the same man was, however, presented anew, as a candidate for a second term, it became our duty to speak out before the election was enacted, and we have done so, in language as moderate as the facts bear. And yet, even then, we would have rather waived our objections, if it had been possible, and taken the weakest man, and the wickedest of our enemies, than run the risk of disturbing the harmony of the party, at such a time. It was clear to us, however, that with such a candidate, IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE FOR US TO SUCCEED. We should be beaten at any rate but our past experience has demonstrated—and to it could not make the matter worse, it was much at least the trouble to endeavor to prevent it.

And now we ask the members of the Convention to tell us calmly, whether, with the facts before them, as we have shown them to be, there is a constituency in Pennsylvania, that would have recommended or instructed for him—and whether these facts, depending mainly upon the record, and incontrovertible of course, can be now successfully concealed from them?

We ask them again, who there are among the eminent speakers of this State, who enjoy the confidence of the people, that will venture to meet these issues, with the very record to confound them? We do not know a man, of any position or force, in this county, at all events, who would not feel himself personally compromised, by undertaking a labor so herculean as this.

The question then comes, at last, whether there are any of the delegates inclined to the support of Curtin, who would consider a triumph now as more important than a triumph at the election, and a sufficient compensation for a defeat at that time—or would be willing to stake the result upon a doubt? If it be true, as charged, that he insists on playing the part of the dog in the manger, and sacrifices the party, of which, it is said, he claims to be the builder to himself, is there any man in the Convention who will allow himself to be used for such a purpose? What is to be gained by it for the advantage of anybody but the rebels and their Northern sympathizers?

We have stated more than once and we cannot repeat it too often—that whatever may be the opinion of the Convention, and whether right or wrong, the feeling against Gov. Curtin in this county at least—growing out of his own acts and policy—is so strong that we could no more control it, even if we were so disposed, than we could stem the torrent of the Niagara with our hands. We might ruin ourselves by advocating his election, but we couldn't help him. It is not we who are responsible for the existence or origin of that feeling. We reflect it only, and have but thrown ourselves into the current, which was flowing as rapidly before we undertook to fathom or direct it.

There were good men here who doubted in 1860, whether he could be trusted, and refused to vote for him, and yet this county gave him a majority of about 6400 votes. Less than a month afterward, it gave Lincoln 10,000. With a stronger man than Curtin there should have been 5,000 at least. With an unexceptional candidate now we are as strong as ever. With Gov. Curtin, we doubt whether it would be carried at all, and those who reflect that his conduct at the session of 1861, brought in a Democrat even here, at the election which followed will realize the mischief that such a nomination may inflict.

It is not this county only, however, in which it is important to make the machine run smooth. There are like difficulties elsewhere, and particularly in those counties where the strength of the Republican party lies. If he should be nominated, it will not be by the votes of those districts, which will be expected to elect him. It will be counties like Berks, we suppose, that are to be cast as make-weights into the scale. Would it not become them to reflect, that if they want us to do the work they must put us into a condition to run without weights? Are not even the prejudices of our people—if they choose to call them so—to be consulted? If they can find a man who is free from objection—and we are in bad condition, indeed, if they cannot—what is their duty as men—as patriots—as lovers of their country? How can they excuse themselves for insisting—from mere pride of self will—on one of the opposite kind, who is known to be unpalatable to any respectable section of the party? We shall guage their patriotism by the way in which they deal with the difficulty. With men of heroic stamp—men suited to the times—it can prove no serious difficulty at all.

WHITE MAN SHOT BY A NEGRO.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, Republican, has the following account of an affair which is creating much excitement in that city:

"STARTLING AFFAIR AT CHELTON HILL—A MAN KILLED.—At the encampment of the colored troops, at Chelton Hill, a sad mistake occurred on Friday evening, which resulted in the death of a gardener named William Fox. In company with his brother-in-law and several boys, Fox started out on a swimming excursion, and after bathing traversed the grounds of the encampment, and suddenly found himself and party confronted by an armed sentry. The party halted at a fence and began questioning the sentry, who, after listening to a few questions, ordered them to move on. The party then started, leaving Fox at the fence, who contended that he had a perfect right to remain there. His brother-in-law returned and urged him to leave, but he refused.

"The sentry called twice for the corporal of the guard and was asked what was the matter. He replied that there were some men at the fence who would not go away. Some one called out, 'Shoot them.' The sentry raised his piece and said, 'Are you going to leave? If you don't I'll shoot you.' The deceased replied, 'I guess you won't. After another warning the sentry fired. The officers of the camp came immediately to the spot, and the call was extracted by Dr. J. F. Holt, Post Surgeon. It had struck the right wrist and then passed through the body. The unfortunate man was removed to a house on Mrs. Butler's place, and died in about an hour.

"From an examination made by Lieutenant Colonel Wagner, commanding the camp, it appeared that the order, 'Shoot them' was not given by the corporal of the guard, but by some of the men who had been getting water at the spring. The corporal did not arrive on the ground until after the shot was fired.

"There had been several desertions at that point lately, by men running by the guards under cover of the night. This led to the loading of the sentries' muskets. In his defence, Charles Ridley, the sentinel, stated that he imagined Fox pointed a pistol at him and attempted to climb over the fence. It was Ridley's first time on guard.

"The excuse made by the negro that he thought Fox pointed a pistol at him, is a lie invented by the darkey. Fox had no pistol with him."

William Fox, the murdered man, had always borne an excellent character. He had been entrusted for a number of years with the entire charge of the property of Mrs. Butler, by whom he was employed, and had the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. A wife and four children have been deprived of a kind husband and father, by the black scoundrel who sports the Federal livery, and struts in pride over the dead body, as it were, of a FREE WHITE AMERICAN CITIZEN!

The Ledger, speaking of this murder, says:

"The shooting, as it now appears, was wholly unjustifiable. There was no attempt to get within the camp ground, nor was anything done to call for interference on the part of the sentry. The deceased was there a mere spectator, and it is not pretended that he did not conduct himself properly."

Time was, says the Evening Journal, when an act like this could not have been committed by a negro in Philadelphia with impunity. But in this hour of negro worship and disregard of white men's rights, the murder of a white citizen by a negro is deemed a matter of trifling moment. As matters are going on, our people may soon expect to be ruled by negro soldiers entirely.

They will be standing with arms in their hands, as "sentinels of freedom," at our street corners and at our various military stations and Provost Marshals' offices in this city, and every disobedient white man will be arrested or shot dead on the spot by these Sepoys. Everything now must bend to the negro, who is the "Coming Man," according to Judge Kelley, who, in a late speech said:

"In the gloomy days through which we have just passed, I have been buoyant with hope amounting to faith. Behind the dark and heavy clouds that hang so oppressively near us, I saw, in the rapidly developing providence of God, the sure promise of victory and peace. During weary, sorrowing months and years of war, we have sighed for the 'coming man' who was to bring us these great blessings. We have not found him. Not Butler, nor Banks, nor Fremont, nor Grant, nor Rosecrans, nor Meade—though he has invested our quiet Gettysburg with the combined glories of Magenta and Solferino—has shown himself to be the man whose genius and power were to deliver us from protracted war. To admit this is but to admit that our great soldiers are not ubiquitous. Donelson and Vicksburg, each in turn; New Orleans, Port Hudson, and Gettysburg, have each been worthy the attention of a great general.

"Shall we, then, cease to hope for him whose coming Hope has so long prophesied? Oh, no! He waits our bidding. He is the colored man! He has made Port Hudson the Thermopylæ of his race; he occupies and surrounds Richmond; he is ready to intercept stragglers in the Shenandoah Valley; he occupies the stronghold of Tennessee; he will give you Charleston, which is in his power: and in distant Texas he will respond with a joyous 'Aye, aye' to your call, and run the Union flag to the top of every staff upon her prairies; he holds at his mercy every acre of Confederate territory; as a chattel, he feeds, clothes and arms every rebel soldier; as a man, assured of your sympathy, he will crush every rebel stronghold.

"Yes, sneer at or doubt it as you may, the negro is the 'coming man' for whom we have waited. Give him the chance to attest his nature at all those points around which our white brethren perish, in swamp and hospital, and throttling and crushing his old oppressor, he will give us speedy victory, and a peace that shall never again be disturbed by civil war." (Tremendous and long-continued cheering.)

When such sentiments are cheered can it be reasonably expected that a negro soldier will be punished for shooting a white man? The hope of this Administration is in the negro. It has so disgusted the white men of the North that it is in a measure, compelled to fall back for hope and support upon the negro. The negro is now its especial pet, and it will protect him, even in such cases as this murder at "Camp William Penn." Philadelphians of course, will quietly acquiesce. The negro is the Quaker's God, and Quakerism and Lincoln loyalty rules Philadelphia. What matters it, if a poor Irishman, now and then, is shot down by a negro? Is not the negro the "Coming Man?" Is he not the last best hope of the nation? Of what account is a white
