THE JACOBIN PLOT TO PROLONG THE WAR.

The report of Gen. McClellan, about which more curiosity is felt in the public mind than in regard to any document that has been written for many years, has not yet been issued from the Government printing office. It is now more than a month since the Republican papers announced that it was preparing for publication, and for all that we have been able to learn, the work is no nearer completion than when we were first notified of its transmission to the printer. The Administration deserves sympathy upon the perplexities which have attended its efforts to present this famous document to the public. First, we were informed that its enormous length would require a very long time before it could all be put to press, but this excuse was answered by the proposal of half a dozen newspapers in New York to take it off the Administration's hands, promising to issue it complete in less than a week after they received the copy. Then we were informed that there were many valuable and costly maps to be engraved, but a respectable firm has offered to supply them at their own expense, provided they will be given the copy-right of the book, and they pledge themselves that it shall not be delayed a day later than the 1st of March. At Tength, the Secretary of War and his friends, finding that no excuses will satisfy the public, have ceased any allusion of the common soldier, with a Napoleonic to the subject whatever, and the whole conception of the only salvation for his country is now as much in the dark as to army from annihilation by fire, or loss by what is being done with the report as it was two months ago. The plain in- ates us from the Charles City highway ference to be drawn from all this is, that and communicated to his Generals hi the document must contain something purpose to change his base by a rapid which the Administration looks upon as damaging to its reputation. On no other Swamp, to change in twelve hours' time, supposition can its tergiversations, its the base of a great army-doomed where hypocrisy and its falsehoods be accounted it was, and having now but little grace of for. If it affords no proof of facts which Mr. Lincoln and Secretary Stanton dread at any point and to outnumber us at all. such bits of news as the above out of their to have the people know, why should they hesitate to let the report see the light? The friends of Gen. McClellan do not ask that it shall be printed at the Government's cost-they only request that they may have possession of the original, and they will print it, without one cent of charge to the public treasury. though its trial will be bloody. GEO. B. MCCLELLAN. To Hon. E. M. Stanton.

After reading this letter, there will be no difficulty for any person to understand the reason why McCiellan was relieved from all active duty, and the abilities of ler King to the Confederate Senate. This the best officer in the nation lost to the gentleman, it will be remembered, in a public service. Strong as its language is. however, there is not a well informed person who does not know that it speke the sentuments of the entire army at the time. There was not a letter written home, from officer or private, not a statement by the correspondent of a single newspaper, Democratic or Republican, which did not express the conviction that the "Government" had "not sustained the times. It would show how easily the the army." Even the radical Tribune, which had not said a word in McCiellan's favor for several months before, but kept ment has a right to make, and also how constantly reiterating the stories of "Quaker guns," &c., to ridicule him, was forced ministration insists on making the war a in a moment of honest impulse, to sharply crusade against the social institutions of criticise the conduct of the Administrathe revolted States. tion; and its well-known correspondent, Mr. Wilkinson, who accompanied Mc-Clellan all through the Peninsula campaign, wrote to that paper as follows:

The editor of the Chicago Times has had an interview with a citizen of Macon, Guorgia, who field there about two weeks since and who is an owner of elates and real intate in that city. He represes to the Union sentiment of the State is being largely in the majority, and has no doubt that Georgia would return upon the basis

He argued that the North could not with honer accept any other settlement and that the South might, with honor, accede to these terms. Mr. King's election to the Senate on such a platform would be a significant sign of South might be reclaimed to loyalty on the simple terms which alone the governfar we are from peace so long as the ad-

A DISCUSTING INCIDENT. A Washington correspondent of the

New York Express, gives the following account of a recent scene in the House of Representatives :

"The House presented a pititul spectacle to-day, when the death of Senator Bowden of Virginia was announced. Af-ter the customary eulogy from a Virginia member, a Republican member from the West get up, not sober, if not drunk, and began all sorts of gyrations and gesticulations, which soon indicated that if he was not drunk he was not sober. Consid ering that the Republicans claim all the religion and all the morals of the country, and all the education, and all the learning, and that hitherto not even slaveholding barbarians have ever presented this sort of spectacle in Congress, we may doubt whether Abolitionism is really refinement House from the spectacle." It is curious to observe how careful our

CONSCRIPTION AT THE SOUTH.

A terrible state of things, says the Bufalo Courier, undoubtedly prevails at the South. The Richmond Examiner of the 11th announces that orders are to be imsubstitutes. Bills have also been introduced into the rebel Congress, declaring alien enemies, whose property shall be rebeldom, in consequence of these new military doom. Only certain office-hold-

Our cotemporary, in justice to Gen. French, should waste no time in publishing the testimony given for his defence.

A EUROPEAN WAR. The aspect of European politics, says the Tribune, is becoming more and more warlike, and the opiniou that war is inevitable seems to be universal. From all parts of the European continent it is reported that the excitement is on the inwease, and it is reasonably expected that the first shot in Schleswig would be the signal for popular risings in Hungary, Venetia, the Danubian Principalities and probably some other places, while, at the same time, it might give an entirely new aspect to the Polish insurrection.

THERE IS a great strife, says the Hartford Times, between the towns in Connecticut to procure volunteers for their quotes, and often one town bids above another to procure men, held by brokers, who sell them. A neighboring town has been very active and sent agents abroad to purchase negroes. A few days since they made returns, and had three more negro volunteers than the town wanted, and one of the agents put them up at auction, seve-

WE TAKE this occasion to contradict the report that the members of the Loval Lesgue have volunteered in a body to join the army of Gen. Meade, and help put CHAPIN & WLIBUR, down this "unholy" rebellion. It is a foul libel on that patriotic and highly influential society.

The Cincinnati Commercial, a Republican paper, which we presume is on terms of intimacy with the public printer, has obtained possession of some of the most important features of Gen. Had I (20,000) twenty thousand or even (10,000) ten thousand fresh troops to use to-morrow, I could take Richmond; but I have not a man in reserve and shall be alad to cover my retreat, and save the material and PERSONNEL of the army. If we have lost the day, we have yet pre-served our honor, and no one need blush for the army of the Potomac. I have lost this battle because my force is too small,-I again repeat that I am not responsible for this, and say it with the earnestness of a General who feels in his heart the loss of every brave man who has been needlessly sacrificed to-day. I still hope to retrieve our fortunes; but to do this Government must view the matter in the same earnest light that I do. You must send me large reinforcements, and send them at once. I shall draw back to this side of the Chickabominy, and I think I can withdraw all our material. Please understand that in this battle we have lost nothing but men, and those the best we have. In addition to what I have already said, I only wish to say to the President that I think he is wrong in regarding me G as ungenerous when I said that my force was too weak-I merely intimated a truth which to-day has been too plainly proven. If, at this instant, I could dispose of (10,-000) ten thousand fresh men I could gain the victory to-morrow. I know that a few thousand more men would have changed
