

SATURDAY, JULY 9, 1864.

EXTERNAL VIGILANCE BY THE PEOPLE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY.—Andrew Jackson.

MAKING THE DEAD LIVE. Now that Secretary Chase is out of office and has no more patronage to bestow...

CHANGES IN THE CABINET.—Hon. Salmon P. Chase has resigned the Secretaryship of the Treasury...

Mr. Chase will doubtless find the information very consoling that, although he "has shown great ability," yet "it will be found that the change is advantageous."

The people will breathe more freely—hope, almost worn out, will revive with the intelligence of Chase's departure...

Another Great Rebel Raid. The rebels have undertaken another raid into Maryland and Pennsylvania...

Not many days since we heard from the lips of an Erie county Democrat expressions of fear that the "country would be re-elected."

Our contemporary would confer a great favor on a large portion of the community by publishing at length the speech of Mr. Curry...

The Tribune's statement that the demagogues in gold in New York City are traitors and sympathizers with the rebels...

WAR NEWS OF THE WEEK. The New York World prints interesting details of General Wilson's raid upon the Richmond and Danville road...

Old Abe's story about "swapping horses when crossing a stream," is likely to prove rather an unfortunate one for him.

The President of the United States may, at his discretion, at any time hereafter, call for any number of men as volunteers...

The following is an abstract of the amended Conscription Act as it passed both Houses of Congress:

The President of the United States may, at his discretion, at any time hereafter, call for any number of men as volunteers...

It shall be lawful for the Executive of any of the States to send recruiting agents into any of the States declared to be in rebellion...

The twenty-third section of the act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act for enrolling and calling out the National Forces,'" approved Feb. 24, 1864...

The Philadelphia Ape, alluding to Mr. Lincoln's classic story about "swapping horses when crossing a stream," thinks that he "has not the merit of consistency with his own jokes."

It is not to be disguised that the whole country is thoroughly alarmed and disgusted at these incessant calls for more soldiers...
