At that rate it would take the whole United States thirty-five years, at a time of its greatest prosperity, to accumulate enough to pay the interest for one year. How is the interest to be paid ? How long will it take to secumulate enough after this war, that has drawn more than three millions of persons from productive employments, and shattered our commerce ? A Book which no Demosrat Should be. Without.

"FIVE HUNDEED POLITICAL TEXTS."-Under this title, S. D. Carpenter, Eq., editor of the Madison (Wis.) Patriot, a former resident of this county, has issued a book which is by far the most valuable that has appeared on the subject of the war and its causes. It may, in short, be appropriately styled a Democratic History of the Bebellion, in contradistinction to the many garbled and unreliable becks pretending to give an account of the origin and progress of the war, which have been written by Abolition authors for Abolition purpoese, and flooded over an unarspecting and tos easily duped country. It differs from any of these so-called histories, though, in the fact that it gives documentary proof for every assertion that it makes, and can be relied upon a every particular. Mr. Carpenter has made a decided hit in this work, and if it reaps a reward consistent with its merits, it will have the largest circuation of any that has been annound red for the last ten years. It it just the thing that has long been needed - a text-book to which Democrats can always rater for proof to sustain their arguments. "Whoever has a copy of this work in his possession," says a cotempora-ry, " need not fear to be called 'traitor,' "Copperhead' and the like, for all he has to do will be to pull the volume out of his pocket, and oram a few Abolition sentences down the throats of those who assall him, and they will soon learn to let him alone." Commencing with the formation of the Federal party, it follows the chequered and inconsistent career of the opposition down to the present day, quoting from the sentiments of their speakers and editors, giving their platforms, comparing their acts and professions, and showing the tendency of them all to produce the very condition of civil war and despotism which now hangs over the nation. There is hardly an event which has occurred since the ac-knowledgment of our national independence, but is treated on at more or less length. The book is a complete encyclopedia of political knowledge. We endorse it strongly, but not with a particle too much of warmth, It is one that no Democrat should do without or, once having, would do without, and, as such, we commend it to the attention of our party friends everywhere. The price is $1.60; if sent by mail, $1.75-the extra twenty-five cents being needed to cover postage, &c. Mr. Carpenter has made arrangements by which any orders from this section can be sent to the Observer office, and will receive prompt
