The Chairman of the Committee, Col. Ward, a cautious and reliable gentleman, has no hesitation in expressing the belief that nothing less than plain and overwhelming knavery can prevent Gen. McClellan from carrying New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the three States of which his acquaintance and information give him the best opportunities of judging.

Another Drait.

Indications have for some time past being called for in a brief interval after the Presidential election. Everybody knows that our losses during the past summer have been extraordinarily large, and several important points have been almost stripped of troops in order that Grant's, Sheridan's and Sherman's armies might be kept filled up to their necessary proportions. We have no hesitation in ing to frighten the people, in order to advance our party purposes; but they will assertion as we have been in hundreds of others that they ridiculed and denounced. Our readers will recollect how they did the same thing last year, when we prophesied that if Curtin was elected, it would voters of this nation see fit to believe the lying assertions of the Republican leaders, after the repeated proofs they have had that they are unworthy of credence, they must blame no one for the consequences but themselves. The re-election of Lincoln will not stop the war, but on the contrary, prolong it, and render it three-fold more years more Lincoln is four years more of bloody battles, of increasing debt and taxation, and of steadily recurring conscriptions. And we beg leave to assure the itary reputation of Gen. McClellan. citizens of Erie county that the drafts we have had heretofore are comparatively as nothing to those that will ensue. We shall have no more calls for one year men, but they will be for three years or the war. No commutation law will allow of your escape by the payment of money, but they will demand the body of the man drawn or a substitute. And if you suppose the latter will be easily obtained, you will find your mistake when it is too late. If you look about and see how few there are willing to peril their lives in the army "for leve or money," you will soon conclude that substitutes for three years will be about as scarce an article as could be named.

GEN. CASS. The Gasette and other Abolition journals have repeatedly asserted that Hon, Lewis Cass was a supporter of Lincoln. The following letter is ample evidence that he still stands by the old Democratic principles, of which, in times past, he has been so noble an exponent;

DETROIT, FIRST WARD, Sept. 28th, 1864.

LEW. CASS.

DEAR SIR; The state of my health has confined me to the house for some months, and prevents me from accepting your invitation to attend the meeting this evening of the McClellan club of the First Ward. But I avail myself of this opportunity to say that I approve the nomina-tion of General McClellan, and shall vote for him at the next Presidential election, if able to attend the polls.

Wishing that success may reward your exertions, I am, dear sir, Respectfully yours,

The Way to "Henerable Peace." Hon. Herschel V. Johnson, of Georgia, candidate for Vice President on the Douglas ticket of 1860, and at present a Senator in the rebel Congress, has written a lengthy letter on the question of "reconstruction," in which occurs the following highly suggestive sentence: "If the people of the United States will change their rulers; if they will repudiate the avowed policy of subjugation; if they will return to a practical recognition of the true principles which underlie the whole structure of American Government, organized to secure and maintain constitutional liberty, the door will soon be opened for an honorable and lasting peace."

Republican Views of How Long the War is to Last. The war is now avowedly waged to destroy slavery, as a precedent to the re-admission of the Southern States. How long it will last, conducted on this theory, is a question which interests every man, woman and child in the North, and the conclusion may be drawn from the following declarations from prominent Republican sources:

Mr. Lincoln made a speech at the opening of the Philadelphia Sanitary Fair, this summer, in the course of which he said: "I only ask for four more years of war to abolish slavery in every one of the Southern States."

Gen. Jim Lane, in a speech to the Republicans in New York, declared amid applause: "By G.... I want to make this war a permanent institution."

Thurlow Weed, who is well acquainted with the interior purposes of the Republican organization, says : .

Now, honest friend, have you ever thought what this experiment of freeing all negroes is likely to cost you? Are you willing to moregage your farm for half its value for your share in defraying the expense? Why, dear man, it is already mortgaged to nearly that extent, and every year the war is continued. patches this mortgage with another on the back of it. Give your attention a moment, and we will make this as plain as the rail fence that divides your farm from your neighbor's You must, of course, see that the public debt is a mortgage on the property of the whole country, for this property may be taken by law to pay it. If you were so rich as to own half the property, you would owe half of the debt; if you owned a hundredth or a thou-sandth part of the property, you would owe a hundredth or a thousandth part of the debt, that is, your share of the debt is just in proportion to your share of the property. Now, it so happens that this is a thing that is easily got at; so that if you will tell us the value of your farm we will tell you what part of it is already mertgaged to the Government. We are not going to impose upon you by any statements which we have cooked up to serve a purpose; the figures we will use are taken from documents prepared by Republican offi-cials; and as for the arithmetic, you are just as competent to verify our calculations as we are to make them. So, good farmer Gripedellar, give heed!

If you will then take out and add together the figures representing the real es tate of the slave States, the amount will be $2,377,904,357. Subtracting this from the whole you will have left $4,595,191,692 as the total assessed value of all the land and buildings in the free States and the territories; of which yoursarm and the buildings and improvements upon it are a part. Now, in finding the debt which stands against this property, we will lead you on ground which you must regard as July, purporting to be taken from the books a day. There have intervened since the 5th of July up to this 26th day of September eighty-three days, which, at that rate, would bring an addition to the debt of $217,500,000, which added to the amount on the 5th of July, cion of exaggeration.

With these datas, it is easy to determine the amount of mortgage which rests on any particular farm by reason of the public debt. If the farm be worth $9,000, it is mortgaged to with these datas, it is easy to determine the amount of mortgage which rests on any particular farm by reason of the public debt. If the farm be worth $9,000, it is mortgaged to the Government for $4,000; if it is worth $4,600, it is mortgaged for $2,000; and in the lake proportion for any larger or smaller value.
