IRON IN THE BLOOD. It is well known to the medical profession that IRON is the vital lyinciple or Lafe Element of the Blood. This he vital Principle or Lafe Element of the Blood. This derived chiefly from the food we eat; but if the food is ot properly digested, or if, from any cause whatever, the recessary quantity of Iron is not taken into the circulanon property digeneral of it, from any cause whatever, the necessary quantity of Iron is not taken into the circulation, or becomes reduced, the whole system sufers. The bad blood will irritate the heart, will clog up the lungs, will atupify the brain, will obstruct the liver, and will send its disease-producing elements to all parts of the system, and every one will suffer in whatever organ may be predisposed to disease.

The great-value of IRON AS A MEDICINE is well known and acknowledged by all medical men. The difficulty has been to obtain such a preparation of it sawill writer the circulation and assimilate at once with the blood. This point, says Dr. Hayes, Massachusetts State Chemist, has been attained in the Parnyian Syrup, by combination in a way before unknows.

-A Town Built upon Oil .- Oil City, judging from present appearances, seems not only to have been built by oil, but upon it. Recent discoveries go far towards placing the site of the town among the best paying oil territory, and the rapidity with which it is being developed, bids fairly to extinguish the town itself Alluding to the explorations now in progress there, the Register says: "Quite a large numher of new derricks have been erected on the flat between Main street and the river. We shall not be surprised to hear of some excellent wells being struck koon. If this kind of work continues, the denizens of our city will have to look up another site for the place. No building so valuable but will have o give place to an oil well where there is any show. We should not be surprised to hear of our citizens drilling through their lower floor for the greasy treasure. We think it would be both profitable and amusing during the long winter evenings. Indeed, we shouldn't wonder if the time is near at hand when a parlor denament to most of the dwellings upon Main street." - THE RUSH .- The tide of travel to the oil regions is swelling all the time. The fact that Society, under the direction of Prof. Theo. of all the wells completed to a proper depth on the Run not one has proved a failure gives Band, and many others of our best musi- a feeling of security which adds greatly to cians. The arrangements give promise of the value of Cherry Run territory. About an unusually fine entertainment, and we twenty wells are now producing in this location. The largest of these is the Reed well, which flows about 260 barrels daily. The roads in this territory are unspeakably her, been developed. One-half the oil is retained as royalty. is in eager request, and a number of wells are commenced at Plummer. -Thousands of fortunes are being made every day, by men who considered themselves poor. As an instance, an Irishman employed as a laborer in handling freight at the rail. road depot in this place had invested three hundred dollars of his small savings in a lit tle patch of some four acres two or three miles above here with the intention of making himself a home of it. He was this week offered $5,000 for his purchase, which price he declined, and holds it at $10,000. We could
