Fluctuations in the Gold Barket. The Journal of Commerce has prepared. with much care, a table of all the changes that have occurred in gold as compared with currency, since the difference was first manifested in the beginning of 1862. The banks suspended on the last of December, 1861. During the year 1862 the highest quoted promium on gold was 37. and this was in October of that year. In 1863, the highest quotation being in February, the quotation reaching 172, the par being represented by 100. In 1864 the heaviest advance began in June, the gold act taking effect June 21. The advance was guite rapid, and gold reached the highest point July 11, when it was quoted -at 287. The table shows at a glance the highest and lowest quotation each month for the last three years :

Gen. Sherman on the War and its Duration. - A correspondent of one of the New York newspapers, a personal friend of General Sherman's, has been on a visit to that officer at Savannah. He gives a lengthy report of a conversation held with the general, which, if correct, proves him to have the most common sense views of any officer now in the held. How differently Euch language as the following sounds from Grant's "robbing the oradle and the grave" epistles !

"General," I said, "your popularity in the Northern States is so great that you can, I think, taka such steps as you choose without fear of seeing them thwarted by the administration."

Perhaps so," said he, "but mark this : I am here for a few days only; when I leave the sity, the cotton sharks will pounce upon it and devour everything .-As to the popularity you speak of, I know very well of what stuff it is made. I am popular as long as I am successful. Not only the American press, but the London papers praise me now as the great general of the age. Why? because I have crossed a great extent of country, and by a long and perilous march have caused an important city to fall into our hands. And this is very well; but suppose in the campaign the Government from its organization to I am about to undertake I meet the combined forces of Lee, Beauregard and Har $1,520,000,000. These expenses embrace des, and fail-what would be my fate then? Why, every laurel I have won, everything I have done, would be forgotten ... There is not a tree high enough to hang me upon. I should be dragged down wars. They include all that we paid for from the pular of fame to rot in obscurity the immense territories of Louislans, Calin some remote corner of the West ; and the great general would be a failure-au ifornia, Florida and New Mexico, Yet all these wars, and all this acquisition of terimpostor. The Hest Daring Robbery of the Scason. The Bank of Crawford County Relieved of 100,000.

From the Mondville Republican of Jan . 18

On Thursday evening about 6 o'clock our community was startled by a robbery which in its boldness and magnitude has seldom had a parallel. The Bank of Crawford County was Bonds, of different kinds, amounting to nearly DR. STRICKLAND'S MELLIFLUOU entered and robbed of a box containing U.S. One Hundred Thousand Dollars. The Cashiar. Mr. Officer, and son were at the cash table tory to making up the cash account and do positing the money in the vault, when suda window crashed in, and before a light could be obtained, the thief escaped through the window with the box containing the bouds. but as is often the case in such excitement and confusion, no plan was adopted with promptness to secure the thieves whilewore yet in close proximity to the Bank. In au hour or so the Yox was found a short distance. in the rear of the Bank, broken open and re- ! she lieved of most of its convents, only a few email packages belonging to individuals being ; left in it. A close wordt, was kept up in the vicinity during the sight and in the morning i mest of the bonds were found conceased in rear of the Bank. The evident juication of the thieves was to return and secure the pack ages during the night Three or four suspicions characters were arrested and searched convict them and they were released. From all the indications the robbery had been "worked up" by professional thieves, who had entered the bank some previous night, drawn the nails from the window strips so that they could be showed in easily, unserewed from the inside to the outside to be used as a signal between the operators. One of the party had managed to get inside of the back room of the building, and had probably been concealed there under a bed during the most concealed there under a bed during the most rut and rut of the day. In less than five minutes after the book-keeper left the Bank the thirf approached from behind, with a long wooden bar knocked off the gas burner, at the same instant his accomplices on the outside smashed in the window, and he was off with the box. The whole job was less than the work of a minute, and before Mr. Officer or his son could recover from their surprise and give the alarm the thieves had made a secure retreat ... : The box sat ou a table at the rear end of the

· It is true there are deserters and non-rea counties one supplementary draft has followed another until the "last man" has been drawn from the wheel, and their quota under the last call for 500,000 men is yet unfilled. Why was no military force sent to such countres to hunt up conscripts? There has been but one draft in this county under the last Gall ; yet many districts have filled their quota : some nearly to; and all of them partially so. These facts will clearly show that the Democracy is in at way responsible for the pres-ent unappy curdition of affairs in this county; but, on the coutrary, that the fault is entirely attributable to the scandalous mis-representations of the weak bad mcn who sance was sent out from Fort Fisher under | assume to control the Abolition party here. They have accomplished the ruin of several of our best citizens; and their machinations picket line but two miles from the fort, may reach many more. He junfastened the windows and the gas pipe while Mr. Offi-cer was at supper, and on his return while Mr. O. was at the counter, took the box and carrying it out through the back room left it on the door step. He then walked out of the front door, around through the alley to the window, pushed it in and pulled the string fastened to the gas pipe, and going to the rear of the building took the box to one of the ent-buildings, broke it open and made way with the contents as stated above.

"The balance of the bonds. $28,000, was found sewed in his pantaloons between the lining and the outside, so that the bank lones nothing. The first circumstance which directed suspicion to Mr. Dyer was the finding. of a piece of string in his room corresponding with that used in tearing down the gas pipes, and his conduct since, and his sudden deter. mination to leave the bank and go home, confirmed everything and led to his arrest. The officers of the bank were slow to believe him guilty,-but his confession leaves nothing to be proven. He is now confined in the jail where he will remain till the court meets in Febru-

The Old Guard for 1804.

The Old Guard for 1864, bound in cloth or paper as preferred, is now ready. We would call special attention to its contents. It contains eleven first-class portraits on steel, vis : Hon. Thomas H Seymour of Conn.; Hon. J W Wall, of N. Y.; Hon. E B. Olds, of Ohio; Hon. Boger B Taney, (deceased); Hon. Alex. Long, and Hon. S S Cox, Ohio; Hon G J Tucker, of N. Y.; Ex-Gov. R M Price, N. J.; Hon. Geo H Pendleton, of Ohio, and Hen. Daniel Holsman, of N. J. These portraits alone are worth the price of the book, but besides these, this volume of The Old Guard contains many political and historical articles of great value. "The Nulligers of the North;" gives all the acts of the northern States in opposition to the Fugitive Slave Law. "History of Northern Disunion," is another important article in historical data, and many others might be cited. The articles are tion previous to the draft, which is explained nearly all from the pen of the editor, Mr. to mean only such as have lost a limb, or where | Burr, and they are distinguished for such a unfitness is apparent at a giance. > A YARKER STRIKES OIL IN EUROPE .- The ronders of the petroleum oil discovery will never cease. Last, year Colonel Gowan, of Boston, the gentleman who had the contract of getting up the sunken Russian ships in the harbor of Sebastopol, was coming down from St.Petersburg through Georgia and Circassia, when, in the Sea of Asof, he stumbled upon some oil wells which the natives were working in a very indifferent way, and which the Col. onel bought. He then same to Paris and London, organized a company, sent out men to work the wells, and ships to carry to London and Liverpool the products, and they are now paying handsome dividends. But what is more surprising still, the Colonel, in re-
