Oll Strikes and Oll Failures.

Letter writers from the oil regions almost invariably confine themselves to glowing descriptions of new discoveries and new strikes -rich oil territory and big flowing wells. It is seldom that the dark side of the picture is turned to the public eye, and the failure of wells are rerely noticed | A gentleman, who recently made a tour of inspection through the Venango region, departed from the usual custom, and noted quite a number of "pumped minimits the richest blacks and browns, produc out" wells. The following extracts from his a commissions and enduring change from any letter will be found interesting to our read-

The most important items of news in this leave for Europe to examine the railroad sysgion are, of course, the rich oil strikes and the failures of the wells. The oil strikes being most welcome to the principal parties conterned are the items that obtain the swiftest and widest circulation. The stoppage of wells is a matter that the unfortunate companies wish to have as little said about as possible. In keeping this kind of news a sperfectly innocent to take internally, and is recom- | secret, they 'are very often successful, and mied by the most eminent physicians in the United | the public keep on buying stock and bringing in subscriptions, long after there has been any flow of oil to warrant their investments. But I have taken paigs to collect bad news as well as good I have not been a little surprised to find so many dry wells in this region; not wells that were struck without finding oil, but those that had ceased flowing

On the tameus Rynd Farm there are tour or five wells that formerly vielded fifty barrels a day, and one that flowed five hundred that have now given out. Altegether there are fifteen abandoned wells on the premises. Some of them are being tested, and perhaps will be found oil bearing again. It must not be supposed, however, that the company is not in a flourishing condition. There are still ten producing wells on the farm, yielding upwards of one hundred and fifty barrels a day.

On the widow McClintock farm there are forty abandoned wells. The twenty wells that are still flowing yield about two hundred readily and radically cured by the patient, without the and fifty barrels daily. Very near, there are and of a physician. Dr. F. is the author of a medical | Quite a number of wells which at one time were exceedingly prolific, but have now fallen distinat Journal, of which sample numbers will be sent off to an inconsiderable amount. Among them are the Van Slyke well, once yielding 1,200 barrels per day; the Lloyd well, 120 barrels per day; the Eastman, Ocean, Hayes and Merrimac, Christy, and others on this line. Several of these, the Van Slyke, Lloyd and Christy, were injured by the sinking of a contiguous well, the Hammond, which at first flowed three hundred barrels a day .-Afterwards, the Hammond, along with nearly a dozen others, were flooded by drawing the tubing of the Excelsior, and have since yielded very little. wells. On the section of this farm owned by up the stream, upwards of a hundred wells the Ocean Petroleum Company, there are twelve dry we lis. The Burning well, owned by the Maple Tree Oil Company, at one time flowing 2,500 barrels per day, took fire in 1862, and has since yielded nothing. Ten wells and their maskinery were burned, and have since yielded nothing. The Brower & Watson well flowed at one time two hundred and ten barrels daily, but is now deing nothing. The Union Petroleum Company have twenty wells, which have fallen off to mearly a half of their former value.

The Tarr farm now yields only about two bundred barrels, a more fraction of its former product. The Phillips wells, on this fare, have all three ceased flowing. The Slemmer, Cottrell, and James wells are likewise idie. The Crescent well, which formerly yielded three hundred barrels daily, is no lenger worked. And no through the whole all region we find such evidences abundant. We must not ing the prescription is to benout the afficied and spread infer; however, that the supply of oil is giving to the public or the accused, he must be out. Many wells, after having rested, a considerable time, revive and give a preskable yield. From all I have seen, I believe that petroleum is being constantly preduced in the bowels of the earth, and that there will he enough for man's see for all coming time. I do not suppose, however, that it is generated with sufficient rapidity to keep these parties causing it; and whether guilty or inmonster wells flowing at full stream.

ITEMS OF ALL SORTS.

The enormous wealth of some of the woil nobility" may be inferred from the fact that admirable remedy for Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Charley Hyde, of the famous Hyde farm, recently sent a single check for $137,165 to New York, to purchase 7 30 bonds with, which was promptly accepted by the banker to whom and pleasantly efficacious, they contain no it was transmitted

As a consequence, the Dale oil is in great demand in that vicinity, and although the Works have been in operation but a short time, the company have found it necessary to increase their facilities.

J. T. Lloyd & Co., of New York City, have Seeded the community with circulars of their map of the oil regions. We do not know any. thing of the quality of their maps, but if they are no better than their "promises to pay," we would not give a "tinker's d-n" for them.

Judging from the large shipments we saw made a few days ago of Hall's Cough Remedy to New York city, we are led to believe the Gothamites are becoming acquainted with the excellent qualities of this medicine, and predict the demand from that quarter will soon require large quantities to supply it. In short, wherever the Remedy is most known it is held in high estimation as a cure for cough and other lung complaints.

The late collision on the P & E. R. R., by which two men lost their lives and a number were injured, is still the topic of much comment and censure. Public denunciation is directed against various parties connected with the train from the East, but as yet we have not received enough proof to enable us to fix To BE SOLD AT ONE DOLLAR EACH, WITHOUT REGARD TO VALUE, the blame positively on any particular party. It is plain that there was criminal ignorance or recklessness somewhere. By common consent, Mr. Spain, conductor of the train to Warren, is released from any censure in connection with the accident.

This favorite medicine is giving new proofs of its virtues daily.
