Can There be Marm in Kissing.

The sunbeams kiss the tulip bud

The dew-drops kiss the rose at morn,

The cereus dew at eve,
And fern and flower in circling clasp

The moon-beams kiss the slouds at night

The star-beams kies the sea.

Popular Superstitions. The belief in "signs," "wonders," and "tokens" is very generally entertained among the people in the "old rountry;" and even in the United States, which boasts superior intelligence, there are many good persons who do not hesitate to express their faith in the same. A cotemporary has been at some pains to collect the most common of these superstitiens, and they present a curious conglemera-tion. to say the least. Odd any ridiculous as

The mouth's in danger : You will shake hands with a fool Or kies a stranget.

SHARP, POINTED OR CUTTING .- Present a friend with a knife, scizzors or needles, and they will cut your friendship. A FURERAL.—Should you, when on a pleasure excursion, mest a funeral procession, you will have no enjoyment that day. [The better way, therefore, is to take another road, where they have no funerals.]

THE BRIDAL DEESS .- Anything but white garments to be married in indicates had luck for the bride, white-being emblematical of in. nocence. [White is very pretty, but we should risk it with a good girl even in pink or blue.}

TRE CRADLE .- To rock an empty cradie will give baby' the belly ache. [We "don't see it," but can imagine a hungry little one sucking an empty bottle would soon feel an 'aching void."

Shopping -Ladies beware! When going out shopping, having closed the door after you, you discover that you have forgotten something, you must not turn back and open the door on any account-it would bring you bad luck. Let some one hand you the missing article through the window, or bring it at another door.

THE CAT .-- If you are moving from one house to anoteer, never take a cat with you, or she will surely bring bad luck to your new home, whereas she will add luck to the old house and those who move into it.

Suons .- Save the old shoes to throw after the carriage when one of the family starts on s journey: it will insure a safe return. DISHWATER .- Never let your dishwater come to a boil, as every bubble brings had luck to the family. Ilf too hot it might burn your fingers. Don't you see ?] . CHANGING ROOMS.-It is a bad sign if sick person desires to be removed from one room to another; they are sure to die some time, if allowed to Quivening or run Brentos .- Should you experience this sensation it indicates that some person is stepping on the spot where you are to be buried.

PLANTING IN THE MOON. Potatoes planted in the new of the moon will go chiefly to tops; but if planted in the old moon, it will bring large potatoes. Peas and cucumbers may be planted in the new moon, for their products are above ground.

PORK .- It is said that if hoge be killed in the full moon, that the meat will swell in the pot when cooking; but if killed in the old or waning of the moon, it will shrink. GORE TO SEA .- If you leave port on a Friday, bad luck will come to the ship. [So firmly believed is this whim, that sailors absolutely refuse to go to sea on that day ; nor do owners, attempt to overcome this foolish prejudice. Friday is called hangman's day, and oriminals are usually sentenced to be executed on Friday.]

A BLACK SURPRISE. -Some months since, with slow murder at the Howard theatre. Boston, the deathlike stillness which prevailed was suddenly broken by the sobbings of some tender-hearted female whose sympathetic soul was keenly alive to the unfortunate condition of the aforesaid victims. A modest young man began to be interested on discovering the female whose heart, like his own, was so susceptible to human feeling. While the young Romeo was looking from the parquet and scanning the countenances of he fair ones, he thought he experienced a sensation as if something was upon his head. Baising his band, he found to his delight that some young lady had accidentally dropped her cambric handkerchief from the box directly above. Our young Romeo began to discover that here was an opportunity to display his gallantry. He arose, and, after privately pressing the cambric to his lips. extended it delicately secured between the tips of his fingers, for the fair claimant to take possession of. At this moment head protruded over the gallery above, and exclaimed in a low but distinct tone "Chuck it up, sah !"

The young man suddenly raised his eyes, and beheld the blackest wench that white man ever laid eyes on. It is needless to add that he dropped almost lifeless into his seat, and a favored few who chanced to witness this ludicrous scene. burst into uncontrollable laughter.

THE "Boss" OF THE NATION .- Just after the return of the President from the experimental conference on the James river he was called upon by one of the members of the Foreign Legation. The Minister, who speaks very good English, al though not an Englishman, upon being ushered into the ordinary reception room at the White House, found the Chief Magistrate comfortably curled up upon one or two chairs, his elbow resting upon a table, his hand partially concealing his powerful features, and the entire man wrapped in profound meditation. Behind Mr. Lincoln, upon a sofa, sat Mr. Seward with a cigar. "Mr. Lincoln," said the Minister,"I have called to pay my respects and congratulate your Excellency upon your return to the capital. May I venture deaths are more frequent by night than to inquire whether you have succeeded in the humane and generous mission you so promptly undertook?" Without changing his position, or easting an eye upon his visitor, our esteemed President motioned with the thumb of his left hand towards the Secretary, and said : "I don't know anything about it; Ask the Boss. He knows."-New York Workly Review.

THE FOLLY OF LOVERS. There is not in ail nature anything so ridiculous as a man so much in love as not to be able to conceal it from the rest of the company. Not only is he ridiculous, but, in time, he gets to be a regular nuisance; and he is as impertinent and tiresome as he we at first laughable. He is slikays either extremely happy or wonderfully wreighed. without any apparent cause. This class of lovers, who would give their fortune for a ourl of their sweetheart's hair, or a piece of her shoe-string, generally make the worst husbands in the world, Ladier Repetitory.

Suggestions for a Draft.

Since the authorities have discovered that men who are drafted and unfit for soldiers may yet be made serve their country as hespital nurses and in various other capacities, I have reflected desply upon the subject and am at length enabled to submit the following suggestions, which the government is at liberty to adopt or reject as it pleases:

It is a well known fact that blind men have the sense of touch more fully developed than those who can see. Draft a few regiments of blind men to feel the petition and strength of the enemy. No exemptions 'granted on the ground that they "can't see it."

Blind men and lame men might be drafted together, the blind-men to carry the lame on their backs on going into Men who have lost one or even both their arms should no longer be exempt. Government is prepared to arm any quantity of men on the shortest possible no-Idiots should not be debarred the privlege of serving their country in the ranks when we have so many among our gene-Draft all in the lunstic asylums—the madder men get the better they fight. Dumb men ought to make the most serviceable soldiers; as they can't cry

"quarter," their motto must be "ne surrender." It is absurd to exempt fat men, they are so well calculated to fill up the depleted ranks of the army. If you want to crusk the enemy by precipitating upon them large bodies of troops, let fat men be drafted by all means. Confirmed drunkards have been obected to because they are not so anxious to whip the enemy as they are to have them treat. A regiment of them armed with rifle whiskey, and sustained by a battery of delirium tremens, would do great execution-to somebody.

I have not heretofore favored the idea of drafting the other sex, but a brigade-of old maids would certainly be useful in repulsing the enemy. They are sometimes good in an attack.

By all means draft Congressmen. They might do a little good in the army, and they are of no possible good where they

Editors of war newspapers should be drafted in a body. They have penned war articles so long, that they themselves should be penned by the "Articles of War."

Conscript all lawyers—their charges would be most disastrous to the enemy.

A certain maiden lady was twice in her life time engaged to be married, and twice some unforeseed event interposed to destroy her hopes of matrimonial bliss .-Here was a sad case. Time began to wrinkle her fair brow, and there were no new suitors to offer themselves. To add to her distress she became sick, "nigh unto death." The junior curate of the parish -hashful youth-was sent for. The sick room was filled with sympathizing neighors when the young divine entered, and after some remarks, proceeded to read a portion of Scripture. He fell upon the chapter where the woman of Samaria is introduced: When he read the words, Go call thy husband," the sick woman groaned a little, but when he uttered the words, "The woman answered and said, I have no husband," the old lady rose unright in her bed, her eyes flashing fire, as she squesked out the following:

"I ain't a going to stand yer taunts, if you are a preacher! Get out of the house directly ! I've had two chances for a husband, and will live to see another—see if don't!"

MANY FACTS IN SHALL COMPASS .- The number of languages spoken is 2,064. The number of men is equal to the number of women. The average of human life is about 33 years. One quarter die before the age of seven. To every one thousand nersons, one rarely reaches the age of one hundred years, and not more than one in five hundred will reach the age of eighty. There are on earth 1,000,000,000 inhabitants. Of these about 33,333,333 die every year, 91,824 die every day, 7,789 every hour, and 60 every minute. The losses are balanced by an equal number of births. The married are longer lived than the single. Tall men live longer than short ones. Women have more chances of life previous to the age of fifty years, but fewer after than men. The number of marriages is in proportion of seventy to one hundred. Marriages are more frequent after the equinoxes, that is, during the months of June and December. Those born in the spring are more robust than others. Births and
