By the Plow.
What a great day
When the plow was first Invented, and the world Was made to know That the plow was the Best of all the tools
That man has ever Known or dreamed of.

Then the furrow deep.
The furrow deep, the furrow deep,
The furrow deep, the furrow deep,
The furrow deep, the furrow deep,
The furrow deep, the furrow deep,
The furrow deep, the furrow deep,
The furrow deep, the furrow deep,
The furrow deep, the furrow deep,
The furrow deep, the furrow deep.

A Long Struggle.
The new Atlantic Cable, which is now in process of construction in England, to be laid from New York to London, will be about 2,000 miles long, allowing for five hundred miles for all contingencies, and its core, through which the electric current will be conducted, will be composed of seven strands of the best copper wire, making together over 10,000 miles of copper wire; this is enclosed in eight coats of insulated material, amounting to 14,000 miles; then follow ten coatings of gutta serena, making 22,000 miles; and ten coatings of gutta serena, making 22,000 miles; and as each strand is covered separately with five strands of gutta serena, there will be into the cable 135,000 miles of gutta serena, making altogether a length of material which amounts to 213,500 miles, or sufficient, if placed end to end, to go round the earth nearly nine times, and lacking only 21,500 miles of being enough to reach from the earth to the moon—the latter distance being, as measured by astronomers, 237,000 miles.

A Significant Fact.
It is, to conservative men, an extremely gratifying as well as a significant fact, that, at the present moment, when the country has glory written all over its standards, not one of the names of those who have produced those results is linked in feeling or organization with the fanatical portion of the dominant political party. Sherman, Sheridan, and Thomas are the men, not one of whom is a fanatic; not one of whom fought or ever struck a blow in this war for the sake of giving freedom to the negro. Butler, Banks, Phelps, Schurz, and a whole host of men were made generals because of their earnestness in the "cause of freedom," have, without an exception, been kicked out of the way by the true soldiers and victors of the war, the men who fought solely against armed rebellion, and never in the "interests of God and humanity."

Mr. Lincoln's Remains.
The embalmed body of Mr. Lincoln is spoken of in a dispatch to the World, as follows:
"There is now no blood in the body; it was drained by the jugular vein and sacredly preserved, and through a cutting on the inside of the thigh the empty blood vessels were charged with a chemical preparation which soon hardened the arteries, and the skeleton of stone. The long and bony limbs are now hard and stiff, so that the body is in the present position it occupies. It has undergone many changes. The chest removed, the brain scooped out, the chest opened and emptied. All that we see of Lincoln is a curiously contorted skeleton, a mere shell, an effigy, a sculpture. He lies in sleep, but it is the sleep of marble. All that made this flesh vital, sentient and affectionate, is gone forever."

Infidelity.
The Infidels of New England land having succeeded, through their abolition tactics in infusing the spirit of infidelity into the Protestant churches generally, are preparing to make another bold stroke. At a convention now holding in the city of New York, the "Rev." Burleigh, of Florence, Massachusetts, objected to calling the Saviour "Jesus Christ, the Lord." He believed such to be wrong. He was "in favor of calling him Master Jesus Christ, or Mr. J.
Christ, in order to explain his character." Now, that New England is to mould for a long time the feelings, the tastes, the ideas, and conduct of affairs generally for the country, we may expect a greater reign of intolerance and infidelity than was ever known in Revolutionary France.

A bashful youth was paying his addresses to a gay lass of the country, who had departed of bringing tidings to a crisis. He called one day when she was at home alone. After settling the merits of the weather, Miss said, looking shyly into his face:
"I dreamed of you last night."
"Did you? Why, now?"
"Yes, I dreamed that you kissed me."
"Why, now! What did you dream your mother said?"
"Oh! I dreamed she wasn't at home."
A light dawned on the youth's intellect, and directly something was heard to crack and in a month they were married.

Hardly Willing to Trust God.
We heard a Parson pay, a short time since, "O Lord, send us peace; send us an early peace! But, O Lord, let it be an honorable peace!" We wish to know what he meant. If the peace that comes should not happen to meet the views of the Parson, what then? Such prayers are altogether after the pattern of the radical school. "O Lord, my will, but not Thine be done."

A correspondent asks what we would do with Jeff Davis. Answer: We would do nothing with him, and say nothing calculated to increase the difficulty of catching him or that of putting down the rebellion. If we had him fast, our treatment of him would be governed, first by the conditions of his surrender, if such there be; next, by a careful determination of what was best for the country. But we fail to perceive the wisdom of counting chickens not yet hatched.—N. Y. Tribune.

An Early Poem by Macaulay.
(Thomas Babington Macaulay's early poetical inclinations were nearly all to poetry, and this artificial love lay was one of the first of his productions in verse.) By thy love fair girl of France, And the arch and beautiful glance Which a smile reveals;
By the down upon thy brow
By the softly-faltering vow, And the kiss which sealed it.

By those foreign accents dear, Whose will o'ndance on mine ear Still in slumber lingers; By thine eyes of sapphire splendor, By the thrilling pressure tender Of thy trembling fingers;
By thy pouting, by thy smiles,
And by all the varied wiles Which sweetly won me Languish, blunder, sigh, and cry;
By thy lips and by thy tresses, Sometimes think upon me Think upon the parting day, And the tears I kissed away From thy glowing cheek; Think of many a dearest token, Think of all that I have spoken All I may not speak.

Letter from Gen. Scott.
New York, March 11.
Hon. C. P. Duffy, Chairman, &c.
Dear Sir: I regret, on account of debility, I cannot take any part in the celebration of to-morrow, as I sincerely rejoice in our victories over rebels, which, with others impending, cannot fail soon to bring back into the Union, on terms of perfect equality in rights and duties, the outstanding States. Reciprocal respect and admiration have already, by dint of hard fighting, been established between the gallant veterans of the opposing armies, and this noble sentiment gives the hope that it may conquer the miserable hatred so general between non-combatants—Secessionists and Unionists. This, indeed, would be the great conquest of the day.
I remain, with high respect, Yours truly,
Winfield Scott.

The cheapest telegram ever sent was by an Irishman. Said he to the telegraph operator, "Do you ever charge anybody for the address in a message?" "No," replied the operator. "And do you charge for signing his name, sir?" "No, sir."
"Well, then, will you please send this? I just want me brother to know I'm here" —handing the following: "To John Mc-Flinn—at New York—(signed) Patrick McFlinn." The message was sent, and no charge was made.

Two bad cases of Piles cured by Dr. Strickland's Pile Remedy. Mr. Glass of Janesville, Wisconsin, writes for the benefit of all who suffer with the Piles, that he has been troubled for eight years with an aggravated case of Piles, and his brother was discharged from the army as incurable, (the being quite paralyzed with the Piles). Both these distressing cases were cured with one bottle of Dr. Strickland's Pile Remedy. The recommendation of these gentlemen, beside the daily testimonials received by Dr. Strickland, ought to convince those suffering that the most agonizing chronic cases of Piles are cured by Dr. Strickland's Pile Remedy. It is sold by Druggists everywhere. mar30-2mo
