CONFECTIONERIES AND FIRE WORKS.—Messrs. Greer & Burgess, Erie, Pa, are largely engaged in the Wholesale Confectionery, Fruit and Notion Trade. They have the facilities of manufacturing the very finest assortment—both plain and fancy. Their stock of Nations and Small Wares is large and extensive. Oranges, Lemons, Oysters, &c., they make a speciality, and can furnish them in any quantities to suit. They are agents for the celebrated Fire Works—the best made—and all orders for the country trade or exhibitions, grocers and dealers in their line do well to call and see their stock; or, if they cannot, they may be sure of having their orders filled promptly. They promise to supply first class goods at lowest market rates.

may11'65 tf

GROCERIES, &c.—Our readers desiring to purchase groceries, at retail, will find a very superior stock of all the staple articles, at the store of Mr P A. Becker, northeast corner of Park and Sixth street. His goods are fresh from New York, and will be sold at the lowest market rates. He invites special attention to a choice quality of flour which he has now on hand, and will warrant to be what he claims for it. Goods delivered to purchasers in any part of the city limits. Mr Becker has also entered largely into the wholesale trade, and calls the attention of country dealers to the same. We can cordially recommend him as a prompt and reliable business man.

CHEVALIER & TINKER'S STEREOPTICON.—The fine entertainment, got up under the auspices of two of our citizens, opened in Farrar Hall, on Tuesday evening, and was attended by a large audience. The exhibition, though failing in one or two respects, which can be remedied hereafter, was certainly one of the most pleasing and instructive we have seen in a long period. It was the original design to give an entertainment for several successive days, closing on Tuesday next, but some disarrangement of the apparatus has rendered a postponement necessary until Friday next, the 25th. We hope to see the enterprise of Messrs. Chevalier & Tinker well sustained by our citizens. As a home production it claims on their patronage, and it should be a matter of pride of all to give it a liberal encouragement.

YOUNG-MASTER WELSH.—Our townsman's young Master John H. Welsh, of the U. S. N., who has been home on a furlough for several weeks, will return on Friday to the Mississippi squadron, with which he is at present connected. We are glad to know that he has succeeded in earning a high reputation as an officer, and become a favorite with all of his associates in the navy. This is no more than we expected, however, for we were well aware that he possessed qualities as a man and seaman that could not fail to win him approbation and success. The following letter, addressed to his brother in this city, by one of Mr. Welsh's fellow-officers, will be read with interest by his numerous acquaintances here:

U. S. S. CINCINNATI,
OFF MOBILE, March 20, 1865.

MR PATRICK WELSH—DEAR SIR: Believing it would be gratifying to yourself and the friends of your brother, John H. Welsh, Acting-Master U. S N., I have been requested by several officers, formerly his shipmates, to give you a brief sketch of his career within our knowledge, and also the estimation in which he is held by those who have sailed under and with him.

In June of 1864, Mr. Welsh was ordered aboard the U. S. S. Undine, then an aging brig, to take the position of Executive Officer, in which onerous position he exhibited an ability, and skill which gave entire satisfaction to all parties. His gentlemanly bearing and uniform courtesy to superiors and inferiors, very soon won for himself the confidence and respect of every one with whom he came in contact. Under his superior management, his vessel became the pride of her commander and the envy of all. The Undine was kept constantly on active duty, which called into play all the executive abilities of the subject of this sketch, and it is with pleasure that I bear testimony, that, no matter how trying the occasion, he never was found wanting. He seemed equal to every emergency. On one occasion, when the vessel was sunk, on a snag, off Clifton, Tennessee, it was mainly owing to his untiring energy and perseverance that she was saved from being a total loss, and he was rewarded by his zeal by promotion to his present position, having first passed a creditable examination.

During the engagement at Eastport, Tennessee river, in October, where the gunboats suffered the enemy from total annihilation or capture, Mr. Welsh displayed all the qualities of a cool and brave officer. And again, on the 25th of the same month, when our gallant little vessel found herself facing the enemy at Paris Landing, Tenn., surrounded by battalions and sharpshooters on every side, he exhibited the same determined spirit, and manfully aided, by his heroic example, in encouraging the crew to resist the overwhelming force, for six hours. And, when it was found necessary by our brave commander to set her on fire and leave her, Mr. Welsh was among the last to leave his vessel, after seeing everything that could be done to save her from falling into the hands of our overwhelming foe, although, at the time, we were exposed to a fire which almost precluded the possibility of a man living aboard of her for a moment.

There is one little incident, which took place a short time since, which illustrates the determination in which he is held by the men. Most of the crew of the Undine had been transferred to this vessel, and, on our way to New Orleans, we stopped to coal at Red River. Mr Welsh, after the loss of the Undine, was ordered to the ironclad Lafayette, which vessel was lying off this point at the time, and Mr Welsh came on board of us. When the men became aware of it, he was obliged to go down on the gun deck to satisfy their demands to see him. Immediately on his appearance they all got hold of him at once, or as many as could, and I thought they would shake him to pieces. He told them it was the proudest moment of his life, and well it might be, for it was the best endorsement of past conduct which any man could have. Long may he live, an ornament to his country and the service to which he is attached.

Respectfully, E. D. GALLETT,
Acting First Assistant Engineer, U. S. N.

A CARD.—John H. Millar, late City Surveyor, begs leave to return sincere thanks to the citizens of the City and County of Erie for their patronage and generous support for the past year.

Having become disabled in the severe contest through which our country has so triumphantly passed, he asks and confidently relies on the characteristic sympathies of the people for old soldiers for the continuance of the public support.

He has a good set of Engineering and Surveying Instruments, with copies of the official Map of the City and County, and is therefore fully prepared to retrace the original Tract lines and their subdivisions; and also the In-Lots and Out-Lots of the City. And when grades are adopted by the City Councils he is prepared to re-set any grade that may be required.

Particular attention given to Drawings, Plans, Maps, Specifications, Estimates, &c.

All the Farmers, Citizens, and Business men, who have heretofore employed him, are his References.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Capt. Judson's History of the 83d Regiment is entirely written, and he is waiting to see if enough subscriptions can be obtained to justify its publication.

In accordance with previous notice the Bank of Crawford county on Monday commenced doing business under the National banking system, and will be known hereafter as the "National Bank of Crawford county."

The body of Col. McLane was deposited in its final resting place in the Cemetery, on Friday afternoon, of last week. The ceremonies were remarkably impressive, and the funeral was the largest seen in this city for many years.

Artemus Ward, the Buffalo Courier says, will sail for Europe on the 1st of July next, under an engagement for one year. He will, we understand, make the tour of the Continent before he returns to us. We wish him a tour both pleasurable and profitable.

At the late session of the Legislature it was enacted that it is lawful for a party to take, in addition to the six per cent. interest on money loaned, an amount sufficient to pay the taxes assessed on moneys at interest.

We learn from Washington that since the caving in of the rebellion, the "reliable gentleman" and the "intelligent contraband" have entered into partnership and gone into oil operations They are presumed to be eminently fitted for carrying on that sort of business.

The City Councils have passed the ordinance providing for the labeling of the streets and houses Every corner is to have a suitable sign affixed, with the names of the streets upon it Owners of buildings are required to have their houses numbered, and the figures placed in a conspicuous position. If this is not attended to within thirty days after official notice, the parties neglecting will be subject to a fine of five dollars.

The Horse Hoe, or Cultivator, offered for sale by W W. Pierce & Co., we are assured, is one of the best articles of the sort ever introduced to public attention. The dealers warrant it to be all their advertisement represents, and we know them well enough to say that their "word is as good as the gold" Those of our readers who wish an agricultural implement of the sort, will consult their interest by calling at the store of Messrs. Pierce & Co.

An exchange relates the following incident:

"Mary O'Connell, employed at the Railroad House, Corry, while arranging a room for one of the guests, took from a vial a large dose of the Oil of Hemlock, thinking it essence of peppermint. The poison took effect at once, and her life was despaired of; but through the eminent skill of Dr. Burroughs, she was restored."

To which the Cleveland Plain Dealer adds:

"The curiosity of the maids is notorious. We know of one who, upon one occasion, oiled her hair with red precipitate!"

Our citizens are again talking of endeavoring to secure the Lake Naval Depot at this point. We beg leave to assure them that neither newspaper articles, nor street corner arguments, alone, will effect the purpose The only way by which it can be accomplished, if at all, is for some of our wealthy and influential citizens to take the matter in hand, go to Washington, and present the advantages of Erie directly before the officers of the Navy Department.

The lecture of Rev. Dr. Forrester, on Wednesday evening, was not as well attended as the admitted ability of the orator, and the theme of his discourse, led us to expect. His subject was the "Life and Character of Mr. Lincoln," and we need scarcely say that it was treated in the most polished and captivating manner. Dr. Forrester is an entertaining speaker on any subject, but on this occasion he seemed to excel himself in the richness of his language, the beauty of his imagery, the classical nature of his composition, and the stirring eloquence of his delivery. There were of course many things in the lecture to which we did not agree, and some that we thought rankly extravagant and absurd, but the fact of our difference of opinion will not prevent us from giving the effort just credit as a literary and oratorical production. To an honest and unprejudiced mind the pleasure of listening to a good speaker of opposite views is not less than that of hearing one of his own side; and we trust the day will never come when we shall fail to acknowledge genius and sincerity, no matter from what quarter they may spring.

The world renowned elephant, "Hannibal," who for almost half a century has been the greatest wonder of the animal kingdom, died in Bedford county, Pa., on the 17th inst. He belonged to Van Amburg & Co.'s Menagerie, now traveling with Thayer, Noyes & Co.'s Circus. The Girard Union says "he was the oldest and largest animal ever placed on exhibition in America or Europe. For twenty years he was ugly and cross, not to mankind in particular, but to horses and other animals. In 1862 he was on exhibition in a small town in Ohio, and after the performance closed became annoyed at a person under the influence of liquor, and accidentally killed him by pushing him away, and through the urgent appeals of the citizens, Mr. Frost, the manager, had his tusks sawed off some six or seven feet, since which time he has shown no disposition to harm any one, not even a child. For the last twenty years Hannibal has not been used as a performing elephant, but merely kept on exhibition for his immense size. He weighed the enormous weight of 15,000 lbs., and stood 11 feet 8 inches high." The Bedford Inquirer says "he consumed 300 pounds of hay, 3 bushels of oats, and 46 gallons of water per day. He was supposed to be in his 66th year at the time of his death. For 36 years he traversed this continent, at an average of 3,000 miles per year, the greatest curiosity ever exhibited to the wondering and admiring millions."

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Friday afternoon a boy named Charles Blake, aged 18 years, and the son of a widowed mother, was shot and instantly killed by a companion, who was handling a loaded pistol. The accident occurred at the Cemetery, just after the funeral of Col. McLane. The boys had gone hither to fire at a mark for amusement. Both boys were of good character, and the misfortune was purely accidental. Charles George, the boy who held the pistol, is only ten years of age, and lived in the Perry Block. Blake had coaxed him to fire, and handed him the weapon for that purpose, when it was in some way prematurely discharged, the ball striking Blake in the forehead and killing him instantly. He was in the employ of Moore & Riblet, and is pronounced to be a good boy. His young companion is almost frantic with grief over the sad event.—Dispatch.

Entertainment for the Benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society.

[We did not attend the entertainments of the Ladies' Aid Society, last week, but judging by the applause bestowed upon them by all who were present, we think they must have been extremely successful, and worthy of the warmest eulogium. The following description of them, mainly prepared by a mutual friend of our office and of the association, will be read with interest. If an person o. part deserving mention have been overlooked, it must be attributed to oversight, and not to intentional omission on the part of the author:]

The entertainments at Farrar Hall, on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week by the "Ladies Aid Society," given for the purpose of raising funds to carry on their work of philanthropy, was a glorious success, and must have contributed heavily to their purse.

The principal of the society, Mrs. Strong Vincent, has done herself and the association great credit in bringing this truly pleasing entertainment to so successful a close. A lady of the most refined taste, added to a mind well stored with intelligence, we were led to expect a good account of her stewardship, but she has more than filled the measure. In elevating her to preside over their charitable and profitable movements, the society not only paid a compliment to herself personally, but to the memory of her lamented husband, Gen. Strong Vincent, who fell mortally wounded while battling with the enemies of his country at Gettysburg.—Mrs. V., however, must be much indebted for able assistance from other ladies of the society. Mrs. John W. Walker, Mrs. Gara, Miss Kate Beebe, and others—all ladies of refinement and taste—were able auxiliaries and deserving of their full meed of praise.

The following was, as nearly as we could obtain it, the principal feature of the programme on Thursday evening:

Play, "Roory O'Moore, or, The Irish Lion." The principal participants were Mrs. F. F. Marshal, Miss Helen Ball, Miss Jessie Reed, Mr. Whitley, Mr. Atkinson and Kenneth King.

Tableaux, "Artist's Studio"—arranged by Miss Helen Ball. The "Flower-Girl" represented by Miss Emma Chevalier. Group of statuary, represented by Misses Brown, Cooley and Zimmerly.

Tableaux, "Witch of Endor"—Mr. J. W. Douglas represented Saul, and Mr. Atkinson, Samuel.

Tableaux, "Mourning for Lincoln"—represented by Miss Elizabeth Kelly, Miss Mary Ensign, Mr Armstrong and Baron Liebling.

The music was as follows: A duett, by Mrs Byron and Miss Agnes Caughey; two solos by Mrs. Caughey; two solos by Gen. Brown; a quartette by Mrs and Miss Caughey, Mr A L Loomis and Mr O G Holt.

The most pleasing portion of the entertainment was given on Friday evening, when the pantomime of the "Mistletoe Bough" was played in character. This piece was rendered in such a classic and truthful style as to throw a thrill of joy and romance through the bosom of every person present. The actors in full costume of the olden time were truly picturesque—the ladies in particular were charming. Erie has always been celebrated for "pretty girls," and it would appear as if the managers had made an especial selection for this piece; and our young gentlemen metamorphosed in their gay costumes—looking and playing the gallant—performed their parts admirably.

As a prelude to the piece, Miss Agnes Caughey sang the song, "Mistletoe Bough," in such a bewitching style as to charm the audience as if they were spell-bound. Her sweet voice wafted through the hall like the soft and melodious tones of an Eolian harp. The song and the singing were in complete accordance with the play. The curtain then rose for the first scene, and discovered to the eager audience

"The Baron's retainers, blithe and gay, Keeping their Christmas holiday."

So delighted were the audience that several scenes were repeated in answer to their call.

The leading characters of the pantomime were represented by the following ladies and gentlemen:

Mrs F F Marshal, Misses Lilly Tibbals, Mary Ensign, Belle Haverstick, Elizabeth Kelly, Kate Clark, and Agnes Caughey; and Messrs Samuel Carter, Douglas Benson, W H McGill, Mr Atkinson, Kenneth King, and Baron Liebling.

The balance of the programme was as follows:

Tableaux, "Death of Queen Elizabeth"—Mrs F F Farrar, Misses Lilly Davenport, Kate Clark and Sarah Reed; and Messrs J W Douglas, A H Gray, A L Loomis and Atkinson.

Music: Three solos, by Miss Dobbins, of Buffalo; two solos, by Signor Garabaldi, of Buffalo; and two duetts by the same.

For the musical portion of the entertainment our citizens are much indebted to Miss Anna Dobbins and Signor Garibaldi, amateur vocalists, and to Mr. Blodgett, pianist, all of Buffalo.

Added to her personal attractions, Miss Dobbins possesses a thorough knowledge of music, which was fully developed by the ease and gracefulness with which she mastered the difficult pieces. She has a fine and highly cultivated soprano voice, and our opera-loving community, in particular, were enthusiastic in their praise. Miss D. is a native of Erie, and we assume that we have a right to feel proud of her.

The Basso of Signor Garibaldi is rarely equaled if ever surpassed. In the duet from the opera of "Child of the Regiment," his rendition was complete.

Mr. Blodget is celebrated for rare musical talent, and his fine execution on Friday evening was the theme of praise To these amateurs, who so generously proffered their service, and without whom the entertainment would have lost much of its interest as a matter of amusement, our citizens are under many obligations. Their generosity and the splendid musical treat they gave us, will long be remembered.

All the characters were well sustained, and some of them particularly so, for amateur performers, but the acting of Mrs. F. F. Marshal as the bride of Lord Lovell, in the pantomime, was specially noticeable. Her representation was of the most natural, graceful and impressive kind, and attracted the general attention of the audience. She is possessed of dramatic talents of a very superior order.

We must not forget to give due credit to the efforts of the "Busy Bees" society, an association of young misses, whose labors in the cause of charity have been attended with singular success. Among the numerous richly stored tables of refreshments and curiosities, attended by handsome and refined ladies, their's was the center of attraction. The association is composed of the following misses: Nettie Hearn, Clara V. Sloan, Annie Walker, Minnie Scott, Cora Kepler, Nellie Kellogg, Ella Kepler, Sarah Hearn.

At the close of the entertainment, Miss Dobbins sang the Star Spangled Banner in a manner that stirred the hearts of the audience to the utmost rapture, and called forth loud and long continued applause.

ON FRIDAY NIGHT, MAY 19TH, A Mare Colt, belonging to the undersigned, was taken from a lane near the Walley farm in Mill Creek township, Erie county, Pa. She is supposed to have been taken by a man who represented himself to be from Cleveland, bound for Utica, N. Y., as a colt answering the description was found in his possession by parties in Westfield and Quincy, N. Y. The man is of short stature, thick set, has short whiskers, and speaks rapidly—his name not known. The Colt is a Light Bay, has a blaze on the forehead about three inches wide, extending from the eyes to the nose, and is two years old A liberal reward will be given for her return, or any information that will lead to her recovery. U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

Third Series,

By authority of the Secretary of the Treasury, the undersigned, the General Subscription Agent for the sale of United States Securities, offers to the public the third series of Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the 7-30 LOAN.

These notes are issued under date of July 15, 1865, and are payable three years from that date in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U. S. 5-20 SIX PER CENT.

GOLD-BEARING BONDS.

These bonds are now worth a handsome premium, and are exempt, as are all the Government Bonds, from State, County, and Municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent. per annum to their value, according to the rate levied upon other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker

The interest at 7 3/10 per cent. amounts to

One cent per day on a	$	50	note.
Two cents	"	"	"	100	"
Ten	"	"	"	500	"
20	"	"	"	1000	"
$1	"	"	"	5000	"

Notes of all denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions.

The Notes of this Third Series are precisely similar in form and privileges to the Seven-Thirties already sold, except that the Government reserves to itself the option of paying interest in gold coin at 6 per cent., instead of 7 3-10ths in currency. Subscribers will deduct the interest in currency up to July 15th, at the time when they subscribe.

The delivery of the notes of this third series of the Seven-thirties will commence on the 1st of June, and will be made promptly and continuously after that date.

The slight change made in the conditions of this Third Series affects only the matter of interest. The payment in gold, if made, will be equivalent to the currency interest of the higher rate

The return to specie payments, in the event of which only will the option to pay interest in Gold be availed of, would so reduce and equalize prices that purchases made with six per cent. in gold would be fully equal to those made with seven and three-tenths per cent in currency. This is

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET

Now offered by the Government, and its superior advantages make it the Great Popular Loan of the People.

Less than $214,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now in the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within two months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other loans.

In order that citizens in every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.
