The Professor found it advisable to leave the city.-----Wm Retcher, a returned conscript, has re opened his barber shop under Englehart's shoe store .---- The Dis patch opposes the nomination of James Skin ner as the Republican candidate for Auditor General, thinking he has held office lour enough, and that we have numbers of refurned soldiers whose claims and qualifications for election are sup-rior to Mr. Skinner's. ----- Capt John Graham has purchased and is carrying on the saloon lately occupied by John Perkins, on Fifth street near State It is the nextest and pleasantest place of th nort in the city. ---- Most of the young mefrom this city and county, who collisted in the navy last fall have been discharged and reurned to their homes. ---- The report started cette's paragraph was evidently intended to convey an infinition to that effect. We

by the Gazette that the Dispatch office was offered for sale, is denied by the proprietor of the latter paper. The mere offering to sel printing establishment is not in itself an indication that it is not in a prospergue comdition-for the owner may have become tired of the busines, or may see an opportunity to do something better-but the tone of the Ga always like to see fair play, and under the circumstances we think the publisher of the Duputch fully justified in demanding the name of the author of the report. It is about lime that a certain class of gossipers around our city, who delight in nothing so much as creating bad feeling between their neighbors were shown up. ---- \ contract has been le

He is always at the foot of a bill, labor as he may; unless he has become perfect is his trade before he attains the years of maturity, he can calculate on poverty as his portion, with s good deal of safety. Parents, if you wish well of your children, urge them to learn their trades properly. Rev. Father Coady, for two or three years past connected with St. Patrick's church in this city, has been transferred to the charge of the Catholio congregation at Oil Ciry, one of the largest and wealthiest in Western Pennsylvania. The members of St. Patrick's church will part with Father Coady with feelings of the deepest regret. His courtes, and henevolence as a man, and fidelity as priest, have won the attachment of all who have formed his acquaintance. We trust his new relations will be of the most pleasant nature.
