ELECTION DAY -The election in this city pared off with remarkable quiet, and a very light vote was polled-not much more than eze-third the usual number. The day was a fue one, and the majority of persons appear. ed too busy to either think or care about elec. tion Indeed, many did not know that the day had arrived, and were only reminded of it by passing the voting places, or having their attention called to it by some acquaint. ance. We have never seen an election in which the interest was so small. The Republicus made more effort than the Democrais to get out their votes, and succeeded, in consequence, in carrying all the wards by conelderable, though greatly reduced majorities. Had the same zeal been shown by our friends, we might have obtained a better result. On our sile the election was left to run itselfmost of the time not even one Democrat being lican majority in the county to a thousand, and if the returns are not as gratifying as energy._

Was ever such rank "disloyalty" as this been before? Why even the worst copperheads have agreed to call the debt three thousand millions, and yet here is an Abolition gathering boldly declaring that it is over three bundred thousand millions! What can such an astonishing statement mean? Moss and ELM Candy. -The popularity of the Moss and Elm Cough candy, manufactured The Atlantic Monthly for October contains by Bener & Burgess, of this city, must become more general. Wherever it has been introduced it has met with wonderful success. It is pleasant and effective as a remedy for coughs, hoarseness and throat diseases. While strong cough mixtures produce nauseau and sicken the patient, the Moss and Elm Candy soothes and relieves without any of the un pleasant effects from the use of a strong neixture. It rarely fails to relieve if taken in time and persevered in. Physicians recommend it, and in many cases prescribe it. As soothing expectorant it has no equal.
