

Our friends of Gen. Geo. W. Case, of Pittsburgh, intend to present his name before the next Democratic State Convention as a candidate for Governor. Without committing ourselves to his support, we can truly bear witness to the statements of the Cleveland Plaindealer that Gen. Case is one of the most accomplished financiers in the country, an able, honest, courteous gentleman, who has the confidence of the commercial, manufacturing and farming communities of our sister States.

England and America. The official London Gazette publishes an important correspondence between Mr. Adams and Earl Russell, concerning the depositions committed by the Shenandoah. Mr. Adams gives once more notice that the United States will hold Great Britain responsible for all the damages caused by these Anglo-Belot cruisers.

The other day President Johnson gave a bit of advice to a negro regiment which was far less applicable to them than to the radicals. He said: "It should be the duty of every patriot and every one who calls himself a Christian, to remember that with the termination of the war his resentments should cease, that every feeling should subside, and that every man should become calm and tranquil, and be prepared for what is before him."

The New York Express thus photographs the radicals: "If radicalism could only learn to cook its own eggs, boil its own oats, and let other people's pots and eggs and clothes alone, we could live in a peaceful, happy and contented country; but the real live radical will boil in everybody's pot, cook everybody's eggs, and mend everybody's clothes—taking all the eggs, pots and clothes, however, for doing the same."

The unity of the Republican party is charmingly demonstrated by the fact that Mr. Thurlow Weed, their most prominent leader in New York, is described by Tribune as "Judas Iscariot," while Gen. Banks, their most prominent candidate in Massachusetts, is politely indorsed by Wendell Phillips as a "ragrant mountebank." Decent people will do well to wash their hands of a party which paints itself in such colors.

The Ottawa Abolition paper accounts for the defeat of the Republican ticket in this manner: "A negro offered his vote in Harris township. This created so much excitement that the township was revolutionized, giving forty Democratic majority, when it should have given seventy-five Republican." What a pity the "big nigger" didn't attempt to vote in a thousand other townships.

At the gubernatorial election in Ohio in 1863, the Abolition majority was a few hundred over one hundred thousand! In just two years it has been reduced about seventy thousand. If the vote of the Abolitionists diminishes each year in the future, as it has during the past two years, their reign in Ohio is of short duration.

The radicals have become so even-tempered against President Johnson that they have begun to attack him with poisoned weapons. The New Nation says: "The blow which struck Lincoln has reached the heart of the North and given back life to the South. Johnson has done more for it than ten victories gained by Lee."

The Times and Tribunes are fighting savagely with one another to decide the "real issue" before the Republicans of New York. The radicals of Wisconsin have already settled this question. "Whoever votes for the Democratic ticket," says a leading paper, "votes for the exclusion of the black race from the ballot-box."

The Pittsburgh Chronicle, Republican, in a recent issue, says: "The decided gain of the Democratic party in such places as Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio, and in many counties in our own State, is to say nothing of the Connecticut matter, show that the oft-repeated assertion that the party is dead is simply romantic."

The Hon. John Cochrane, Attorney General of New York, for whose election the whole Republican party voted, has declared his intention to take the field for the Democratic ticket, and the glorious platform of patriotism and nationality on which it stands.

A WISE PUNTER IN GERMANY. A telegraphic dispatch from Aushlad, Ohio, says that a political preacher there has been held to bail in eight hundred dollars for false voting, and for perjury in putting it through.

Our Altered Government. It needs no demonstration to show that the United States of 1865 differ very materially from the United States as they were before the Revolution of 1861. The animating principle in our institutions was that government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed.

At three of the polls opened in Washington for the Ohio election the Republican ticket had 119 votes and the Democratic 121.

Wendell Phillips' new lecture for the season is "The South Victorious." The perpetual grumbler! what will he do if they let him into Heaven?

Hereford V. Johnson, in Augusta, gave good advice to his friends. He told them to support the President and elect men as members of Congress whose antecedents can furnish the radicals with no pretext to oppose them taking their seats.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Express says of the 7,000 votes cast in the recent Baltimore election, it is stated, that 4,000 were Germans. Three-fourths of the American citizens are excluded from voting by the Abolitionist law.

Chief Justice Chase has returned from Ohio, where he has been the guest of Jay Cook, at his beautiful residence on Gibraltar, Put-in-Bay Island, Lake Erie, luxuriating in the magnificent vineyards in that locality, and while away the time, a la old Isaac Wallace, catching black bass.

We wonder whether the expenses of the Chief Justice are paid by the Government, as they were when he was on the steamer "Commodore Perry." Two or three days of pleasure on Lake Erie cost the tax payers two thousand dollars. Will our republican city contemporaries inform the public what they think of this business?

Another "loyal" individual has come to grief. Major John A. Haddock, of the Simira Military Depot, has been sentenced to be cashiered and disabled from holding any office in the service of the United States, and to pay a fine of $10,000 for fraud, receiving bribes, complicity with braud jumpers, &c. The work of clearing out the Augean stable of Black Republicanism is progressing as well as could be reasonably expected.

The other day President Johnson gave a bit of advice to a negro regiment which was far less applicable to them than to the radicals. He said: "It should be the duty of every patriot and every one who calls himself a Christian, to remember that with the termination of the war his resentments should cease, that every feeling should subside, and that every man should become calm and tranquil, and be prepared for what is before him."

The New York Express thus photographs the radicals: "If radicalism could only learn to cook its own eggs, boil its own oats, and let other people's pots and eggs and clothes alone, we could live in a peaceful, happy and contented country; but the real live radical will boil in everybody's pot, cook everybody's eggs, and mend everybody's clothes—taking all the eggs, pots and clothes, however, for doing the same."

The unity of the Republican party is charmingly demonstrated by the fact that Mr. Thurlow Weed, their most prominent leader in New York, is described by Tribune as "Judas Iscariot," while Gen. Banks, their most prominent candidate in Massachusetts, is politely indorsed by Wendell Phillips as a "ragrant mountebank." Decent people will do well to wash their hands of a party which paints itself in such colors.

The Ottawa Abolition paper accounts for the defeat of the Republican ticket in this manner: "A negro offered his vote in Harris township. This created so much excitement that the township was revolutionized, giving forty Democratic majority, when it should have given seventy-five Republican." What a pity the "big nigger" didn't attempt to vote in a thousand other townships.

At the gubernatorial election in Ohio in 1863, the Abolition majority was a few hundred over one hundred thousand! In just two years it has been reduced about seventy thousand. If the vote of the Abolitionists diminishes each year in the future, as it has during the past two years, their reign in Ohio is of short duration.

The radicals have become so even-tempered against President Johnson that they have begun to attack him with poisoned weapons. The New Nation says: "The blow which struck Lincoln has reached the heart of the North and given back life to the South. Johnson has done more for it than ten victories gained by Lee."

The Times and Tribunes are fighting savagely with one another to decide the "real issue" before the Republicans of New York. The radicals of Wisconsin have already settled this question. "Whoever votes for the Democratic ticket," says a leading paper, "votes for the exclusion of the black race from the ballot-box."

The Pittsburgh Chronicle, Republican, in a recent issue, says: "The decided gain of the Democratic party in such places as Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio, and in many counties in our own State, is to say nothing of the Connecticut matter, show that the oft-repeated assertion that the party is dead is simply romantic."

The Hon. John Cochrane, Attorney General of New York, for whose election the whole Republican party voted, has declared his intention to take the field for the Democratic ticket, and the glorious platform of patriotism and nationality on which it stands.

A WISE PUNTER IN GERMANY. A telegraphic dispatch from Aushlad, Ohio, says that a political preacher there has been held to bail in eight hundred dollars for false voting, and for perjury in putting it through.

Our Altered Government. It needs no demonstration to show that the United States of 1865 differ very materially from the United States as they were before the Revolution of 1861. The animating principle in our institutions was that government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed.

At three of the polls opened in Washington for the Ohio election the Republican ticket had 119 votes and the Democratic 121.

Wendell Phillips' new lecture for the season is "The South Victorious." The perpetual grumbler! what will he do if they let him into Heaven?

Hereford V. Johnson, in Augusta, gave good advice to his friends. He told them to support the President and elect men as members of Congress whose antecedents can furnish the radicals with no pretext to oppose them taking their seats.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Express says of the 7,000 votes cast in the recent Baltimore election, it is stated, that 4,000 were Germans. Three-fourths of the American citizens are excluded from voting by the Abolitionist law.

General Grant together with other leading officers, favors a decrease of the regular army to 75,000 men.

There is great excitement in Canada concerning the Fenian movement. It is asserted that the Fenians are transporting arms into the Province.

General Grant has recommended the discharge of all major and brigadier generals in the volunteer service who have not been discharged.

The report of a general amnesty to all political offenders appears to be premature for the present at least.

A. H. Stephens arrived in Richmond, on his way home, on Sunday.

Pierre Boule had a private interview with the President yesterday.

Items of Local Interest. The City Councils have ordered the repair of the old Pennsylvania engine, for the use of Co. B.

The Democratic ticket in Elk county is elected, with the exception of the candidate for county Treasurer, J. C. Chapin.

The loss by the burning of the freight depot of the Michigan Central railroad, at Detroit, on Wednesday, was $250,000.

Gen. Sherman has written a letter denying the charge of his connection with certain speculations in Mississippi.

Six thousand acres of land in Arkansas belonging to Gen. Pillow, have been restored to him by the Government.

The assistance of the court-martial which tried Gen. Paine, at Paducah, Kentucky, some months ago, has been approved by the Secretary of War.

The application of Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, for restoration of his property held by the Government, which was referred to Gen. Grant, has been refused by the latter. Wise declined to take the oath of allegiance.

Henry J. Raymond, of New York, is in Washington. He has made several unsuccessful attempts to obtain an interview with the President.

President Johnson recently telegraphed to Governor Holden, expressing the hope that North Carolina would repudiate her rebel debt.

President Johnson has, by proclamation revoked the act of July, 1864, in relation to Kentucky, so far as to declare that State no longer under martial law.

A man who gave his name as Robbins Sumner, a brother of Gen. Sumner, appeared at the White House last week, and demanded entrance to the President.

The North Carolina Convention has adopted a resolution submitting to the people the ordinance abolishing slavery and annulling the act of secession.

The dangerous property of Alexandria, valued at about $50,000, which was seized by the Government, has been restored to Mrs. Dufferin, by direction of the President.

Mount Hood, Oregon, has been in a state of eruption since Sept. 23. It is thought this may have had connection with the recent earthquake shocks in California.

The income of the Government from Internal Revenue, during the past week, amounted to $9,977,817, making a total of $106,909,149 since the commencement of the present current fiscal year, July 1.

General Grant is making himself useful. His order for the colored troops, rendered the 20th of Sept., and which reduced to 70,000 men, and this reduction will, it is said, be followed by another of 6,500.

On Friday, Messrs. Clay and Mitchell were transferred from their casemate cells in Fortress Monroe to the more comfortable quarters at Carroll Hall.

A negro in Alexandria, Va., having recently been deprived of a gun by a magistrate, in accordance with the laws of Virginia, Trovot, Judge Ambriok has been ordered to return the gun to the owner, and that by order of the Major General commanding the Department, the gun must be returned to the negro.

On the morning of the 18th inst., there was a serious conflagration in Charleston, S. C., destroying the Courier office and the building adjoining on Haystack. Several were killed by falling walls, and Capt. Hoffman, Chief of the Military Police, was badly and it is feared fatally injured.

The losses by the burning of the freight buildings, belonging to the Michigan Central Railroad, it is now ascertained, will not fall short of $1,500,000. The value of the fire alone destroyed was upward of $300,000.

It is reported from Washington that Joseph Davis, a brother of Jefferson Davis, has made a demand for the restoration of his property in Louisiana.

Within a few days the Freedmen's Bureau have made restitution to eleven parties in Loudoun county, Va., of property valued at over $200,000 heretofore held as the property of the late Jefferson Davis.

Alfred Lee, United States Attorney General under President John Adams, died on Thursday in Fairfax county, Virginia.

The people of Northern Louisiana have petitioned Governor Wells to take measures for the prevention of a negro insurrection.

The President has pardoned all the members of the South Carolina Convention.

The Fenian Congress, in session here, adopted a constitution, modeled upon that of the United States, and elected a President and Senators for the Irish Republic.

General Grant together with other leading officers, favors a decrease of the regular army to 75,000 men.

There is great excitement in Canada concerning the Fenian movement. It is asserted that the Fenians are transporting arms into the Province.

General Grant has recommended the discharge of all major and brigadier generals in the volunteer service who have not been discharged.

The report of a general amnesty to all political offenders appears to be premature for the present at least.

A. H. Stephens arrived in Richmond, on his way home, on Sunday.

Pierre Boule had a private interview with the President yesterday.

Items of Local Interest. The City Councils have ordered the repair of the old Pennsylvania engine, for the use of Co. B.

The Democratic ticket in Elk county is elected, with the exception of the candidate for county Treasurer, J. C. Chapin.

The loss by the burning of the freight depot of the Michigan Central railroad, at Detroit, on Wednesday, was $250,000.

Gen. Sherman has written a letter denying the charge of his connection with certain speculations in Mississippi.

Six thousand acres of land in Arkansas belonging to Gen. Pillow, have been restored to him by the Government.

The assistance of the court-martial which tried Gen. Paine, at Paducah, Kentucky, some months ago, has been approved by the Secretary of War.

The application of Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, for restoration of his property held by the Government, which was referred to Gen. Grant, has been refused by the latter. Wise declined to take the oath of allegiance.

Henry J. Raymond, of New York, is in Washington. He has made several unsuccessful attempts to obtain an interview with the President.

President Johnson recently telegraphed to Governor Holden, expressing the hope that North Carolina would repudiate her rebel debt.

President Johnson has, by proclamation revoked the act of July, 1864, in relation to Kentucky, so far as to declare that State no longer under martial law.

A man who gave his name as Robbins Sumner, a brother of Gen. Sumner, appeared at the White House last week, and demanded entrance to the President.

The North Carolina Convention has adopted a resolution submitting to the people the ordinance abolishing slavery and annulling the act of secession.

The dangerous property of Alexandria, valued at about $50,000, which was seized by the Government, has been restored to Mrs. Dufferin, by direction of the President.

Mount Hood, Oregon, has been in a state of eruption since Sept. 23. It is thought this may have had connection with the recent earthquake shocks in California.

Advertisement for photographic services, listing various locations and services offered.

Advertisement for a health product, mentioning its benefits for various ailments.

Advertisement for a health product, mentioning its benefits for various ailments.

Advertisement for a health product, mentioning its benefits for various ailments.

Advertisement for a health product, mentioning its benefits for various ailments.

Advertisement for a health product, mentioning its benefits for various ailments.

Advertisement for a health product, mentioning its benefits for various ailments.

Advertisement for a health product, mentioning its benefits for various ailments.