Heaven bless the man who immediately says, there was "some little projudice existing skates, say we! in the minds of many against him, owing to its being circulated that he led urierson's or Spring street, Titusville, on the morning of some other raid through the country. His January 2d. J. S. Hatsell's liquor store, P. friends knew it to be false, but to disabuse the & S. D. Simonds' wholesele and retail grocery public mind, he took occasion on Tuesday night to disclaim all connection with that or any other raid (except a raid on somebody's half dollars to see his trained mules or educa ted horses) and in that connection he also suggested to those who had not heard of Lee's surrender, that the war was over and has been some time. To the late Confederate and Fed. eral soldiers he simply said 'go on as you are now doing, cultivating friendly feeling. To the negroes he said 'the United States has i journal which was discontinued set you free, but you must work and be respectful to all, go back to the old plantations,' and as for going North, he said the Nerthern | gang of five counterfeiters, who had been people did not want them. That this was the climate for them, and they were needed to work the plantations, and a great deal more good advice to the same effect." The Hereld adds that Dan's remarks were well received, adds that Dan's remarks were well received, sind it expresses the opinion that although he fale, to Brie with the stuff, where he was facts the buffoon by contract, he yet does nabbed. A letter was then sent to Sewles, more, in various ways, to roften and smooth stating that Hale was sick, mable to deliver the asperities of the late war, than any one man in the country."

The perfected system of business practice, originated in this school, is winning for it a world wide reputation, and drawing to its halls the best class of young men in the states and Canada. Additional rooms have already been taken, and the pros pect is that others still will be needed.

> NEW YEAR'S DAY .- The observance of New Years in this city was very general, all the places of business being closed, and every. body seeming to be determined to enjoy themselves to the best of their ability. A greater number of people than usual kept "open houses," and the list of callers was equal to, if not larger, than upon previous occasions. A com mendable feature was the almost entire abolishment of the practice of offering liquors, and among collers were comparatively rare. The different fire companies marched in procession Harborerek.
