The Trustees of the First Presbyterian ris, Erie; Thomas Bemus, North Church have voted in favor of having the building freecoed. The work will be done by the celebrated painter, Garibaldi, of Buffalo, at a cost of about $1500. The interior of the edifice is peculiarly adapted for elegant freeco painting, and if completed according to the intention of the Trustees, will be one of the handsomest audience rooms in the country.

The large steam mill of Cobling & Allen, at Will Town, was destroyed by fire, on last Friday night, a week. The fire is supposed to have originated from the boiler. On the same night the cooper shop of Charles Mitchell, upon the creek road, in Le Bouff township, was burned down. The people in the vicinity of the saw mill got up a subscription, and nearly enough money was raised to rebuild it.
