CONGRESS .- The Dispatch gave notice in one of its issues last week that it cannot sup- pelled to say that no more definite informaport Mr. Scofield for re-election to Congress. ts reasons for this decision are thus succient ly stated :- `

"From certain intercourse which we have bad with Mr. Scofield indirectly, we are not may realize nothing. Every day the probabad with her could had her is a liability. We raise bility grows stronger that the worst will come a question in regard to his honesty. Let that he decided by those who are more famil iar than we are with the details of his official action. We only know that when a public * man is so long about determining whether he will or will not be a candidate for re-election as Mr. Scofield has been, he is evidently cal-culating the chances which may result from a combination of interests, and the character of the influence which may be brought to bear against him, making it a scheme of gambling which he wins who is able to control, b all means usually made use of in such eases the votes of the people. This plan involves the use of men in so selfish and unconditional manner that there is neither principle, or business fairness, to be expected of it, and we cannot encourage it in any one. We can condemn, with the utmost earnestness. any trickery or secret machinations that may b used to defeat an honest and able man who is candidate for position, but we will condemn with greater severity any such means when taken advantage of by the person who wishes to be represented as honest and reliable."

It concludes, further, that " Erie county i now entitled to the Congressman, and we shall use our efforts for the present, to that end, and we are not unwilling that Warren, or some other county, in that part of the Distriot, should be represented with some of the less important positions, and hope that an understanding to this effect may be entered into. These affairs can as well be amicably and satisfactorily adjusted in advance as to have them hanging fire until the last minute. and then creating dissension and disturbance. with which no one is satisfied." The views of our cotemporary will meet with the hearty approbation of nine out of ten of the people f our county. It is strongly and earnestly felt on all hands that the growing interests of our county imperatively demand that we firm. should at this time have a representative at Washington who thoroughly understands our needs, and will labor to secure the legislation to which are entitled. This sentiment is taking so decided a shape that we believe if the Republican District Convention fails to give us such a candidate as we require; our citizens will take up an independent man, and support him, without respect to party.
