

FOR GOVERNOR, HESTER CLYMER, OF BERKS COUNTY.

Exciting foreign news. The last steamer from Europe brought us tidings of a very important and exciting nature. The British Isles have been convulsed with a financial panic almost unparalleled in modern history...

The immediate occasion of all this frantic fluttering is the brief speech made by the Emperor Napoleon to the inhabitants of the little town of Auxerre. The part of that speech which has operated like an electric touch on the nerves of Europe...

The Democratic Revival. The glorious results of the election in the West on the first Monday of April, are being followed up by other triumphs still more marked. At the election in Quincy, Illinois, on the 16th, the Democratic majority was over 500—last year it was but 150.

The municipal election in Scranton, Luzerne County, resulted in a brilliant Democratic victory. Last year the Unionists carried that borough by a majority of about one hundred and fifty...

DAVIS AND THE RADICALS.

The knowing ones at Washington boldly charge that notwithstanding the clamor made, for popular effect, by the radical leaders for the punishment of Jefferson Davis, they are throwing every obstacle in the way of a trial before the civil courts.

For once the Radicals have been utterly silenced and confounded. The message of the President, returning to the Senate, with his objections, the bill erecting Colorado into a State, so completely exposed the scandalous character of this particular Radical scheme for perpetuating power in their own party...

It has often been a wonder to innocent people who are not well acquainted with the manner of transacting business at our State Capital, and the class of men who compose what is sometimes derisively styled the "assembled wisdom of the Commonwealth," how a couple private citizens, mere officers of a railroad corporation, could succeed in securing such an exalted influence as to be able to shape the entire legislation of a great people.

An important case has just been decided in Wayne county, in this State. Previous to the October election of last year, the Radical papers announced that election officers throughout the Commonwealth were bound to reject the votes of all persons who had failed to respond to drafts during the war.

The Washington correspondent of the Springfield Republican says that: "So far as I can learn every member of the Cabinet professes to agree with the President in private and in open cabinet meeting, and unless I am badly informed, Mr. Harlan is not an exception. The President certainly tells his friends so, and there are outside facts which seem to corroborate his allegation. In short, two or three members of the Cabinet are each trying to ride two horses. How long they will be able to keep it up without broken limbs one is naturally anxious to see."

It is a fact, as stated by a contemporary, that the Democratic party has always sustained every incumbent of the Presidential chair...

Several immense rafts of logs, averaging nearly a quarter of a mile in length, have reached this port, within the last week, from Canada. They are securely fastened together, and were drawn across the Lake by a tug...

The Councils on Monday evening promptly laid on the table Mr. Pennington's resolution proposing to close up State street, between the Parks, and throw both of the latter into one. There let it lie, and sleep the sleep that knows no waking.

The receipts of last winter's lecture course were $1,956, and the expenses $1,400, leaving a profit of $556. The large number of 2,324 letters was mailed from our post office on Monday, May 14th.

How it is Done. New Jersey has often been denominated the "State of Camden and Amboy," on account of the overwhelming influence which the railroad corporation of that name is supposed to have over her public councils.

While a carriage, containing six negroes, was passing through the streets of Memphis, the occupants drew a pistol and fired at the captain of an engine company standing on the sidewalk, barely missing his head.

Three hundred and fifty men are still employed at the manufacture of heavy iron gun-carriages for the forts of our extensive seacoast, the orders for which still continue unabated.

The Star of the Valley states how we women are disappointed in a young woman named Klinefelter, residing in Millville, who had lately volunteered starvation, having for twelve days and nights refused to take food.

The New York World says "the eight-hour movement has failed, and most of the numerous strikes of the workmen, in this and adjoining cities, ended by their returning to their old tasks, glad to get their old wages."

The Legislature passed an act last winter in relation to local boundaries to volunteers, which is now a law, having been signed by the Governor on the 1st inst. It provides that all veteran volunteers regularly re-enlisted and re-mustered under general orders number 131, from the War Department, dated June 20th, 1863, and extending to April 21st, 1864, who have not received any local bounty, nor their credit, shall be paid a local bounty of $300 to be paid by the proper authorities of such counties, cities, wards, boroughs and townships as received the credit of such volunteers.

The New Way of BARGAINING OUT CANDIDATES.—We have over and over again heard men complain of the degeneracy of the times, as exhibited in the rage for public office. That period, that fortune, and the "progress of good moral ideas," has passed by. Aspiring candidates for political station no longer disgust modest people by thrusting themselves forward for the suffrages of the community.

When the Bank of Crawford county closed doors on the 27th of March last, Mr. F. A. Howe, of this city, owed the bank $2,500. This bank refused to accept, and payment of the debt was refused. Mr. Howe still retained payment, and on Wednesday last made application to the Judge of the county for a rule on the bank to show cause why the judgment of the court against him (Howe) should not be opened after a full and protracted discussion, pro and con, was granted.

A Farmer's Opinion.

I read in some of the papers that the city authorities are going to fence off State street, at the Park. Now, I question their wisdom in doing so. It is a well understood fact that this Diamond, as it was called, was a place reserved for us farmers to stop at with our loads of hay, wood, lumber or whatever we had to sell, so as not to encumber the streets for the military to be taken to the training days.

Among the speakers in the Connecticut campaign was General Housaou, Republican member of Congress from Kentucky, who declared his intention to stand to the last by the President, between whom and the radicals he said the gulf had now become an impassable one.

Judge Abell, of the First District Court of New Orleans, has declared the Civil Rights bill to be unconstitutional. The Cork Constitutionals state that women are travelling from town to town in Ireland as Fenian emissaries.

While a carriage, containing six negroes, was passing through the streets of Memphis, the occupants drew a pistol and fired at the captain of an engine company standing on the sidewalk, barely missing his head.

Three hundred and fifty men are still employed at the manufacture of heavy iron gun-carriages for the forts of our extensive seacoast, the orders for which still continue unabated.

The body of John Danemann was found hanging on a tree near the foot of Ninetieth street, New York, on Thursday morning. The body of the supposed suicide was cut down and was ordered to be buried.

A man named Schultz was arrested at Chicago on Tuesday, on a charge made by his wife, that he had during the past few years, destroyed two of his children immediately after their birth.

The Star of the Valley states how we women are disappointed in a young woman named Klinefelter, residing in Millville, who had lately volunteered starvation, having for twelve days and nights refused to take food.

The New York World says "the eight-hour movement has failed, and most of the numerous strikes of the workmen, in this and adjoining cities, ended by their returning to their old tasks, glad to get their old wages."

The Legislature passed an act last winter in relation to local boundaries to volunteers, which is now a law, having been signed by the Governor on the 1st inst. It provides that all veteran volunteers regularly re-enlisted and re-mustered under general orders number 131, from the War Department, dated June 20th, 1863, and extending to April 21st, 1864, who have not received any local bounty, nor their credit, shall be paid a local bounty of $300 to be paid by the proper authorities of such counties, cities, wards, boroughs and townships as received the credit of such volunteers.

The New Way of BARGAINING OUT CANDIDATES.—We have over and over again heard men complain of the degeneracy of the times, as exhibited in the rage for public office. That period, that fortune, and the "progress of good moral ideas," has passed by. Aspiring candidates for political station no longer disgust modest people by thrusting themselves forward for the suffrages of the community.

When the Bank of Crawford county closed doors on the 27th of March last, Mr. F. A. Howe, of this city, owed the bank $2,500. This bank refused to accept, and payment of the debt was refused. Mr. Howe still retained payment, and on Wednesday last made application to the Judge of the county for a rule on the bank to show cause why the judgment of the court against him (Howe) should not be opened after a full and protracted discussion, pro and con, was granted.

Several immense rafts of logs, averaging nearly a quarter of a mile in length, have reached this port, within the last week, from Canada. They are securely fastened together, and were drawn across the Lake by a tug...

Several immense rafts of logs, averaging nearly a quarter of a mile in length, have reached this port, within the last week, from Canada. They are securely fastened together, and were drawn across the Lake by a tug...

VETO OF THE COLORADO BILL.

I return to the Senate, in which it originated, the bill which passed both Houses of Congress, entitled an act for the admission of the State of Colorado into the Union, with my objections to its becoming a law at this time.

Clark & Brother, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Confectionery, Oysters, Canned Fruit, Stationery, Yankee Notions, Bakers' Goods, Toys, Cigars, Tobacco, Pipes, &c., West Side of Peach Street, 1 Square South of the Union Depot, Erie, Pa. Also, Dealers in all kinds of Country Produce. Particular attention paid to filling country orders.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

THE BRIDAL CHAMBER.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.

Persons wishing to procure portraits of themselves or members of their families, should call on the gallery of Mr. O. Hillier, in Rosencrutz's block. His specimens of work convince us that he is an artist who has few superiors. The throng of visitors to his rooms are an indication that his merits are daily becoming better known and appreciated by the public.