THE CHANGES OF FORTUNE.—A few months ago C. V. Culver was at the head of one of the most successful banking houses in New York, Culver, Penn & Co., and was establishing banks, building railroads, founding towns, and endowing colleges.

He was elected to Congress from the Twentieth Pennsylvania District, though he offered the Convention that nominated him $20,000 for party purposes if they would leave him to his business. But just then he was prosperous, rising, and popular, and it is in the genius of American politics to elevate such men to public offices.

A few weeks ago the dullness of the oil trade and the extent of his business ventures and speculations, necessitated the suspension of Mr. Culver's firm. Suits without number were brought against him, and he was forced to restore his business to conditions with a dozen law suits fronting him at every step, he has taken refuge in jail. He is the victim of excessive speculation, the inordinate haste for the achievement of wealth which has sadly characterized the past few years of our history.

He was imprudent and bold even to reckless. His investments and speculations, and hence his downfall. Gen. Burnside offered him a loan of $200,000 on the day he was taken over, enough to supply his present needs, but he refused it, lest it should prove insufficient to prevent his failure. The same spirit of ostentatious display has been witnessed in hundreds of thousands of dollars to himself and those connected with him. Let the fate of Culver be a warning to that large class in every community who base all their ideas of comfort and merit upon money.

The man who revels in wealth and luxury may be at the foot of the ladder tomorrow. ACCIDENT INSURANCE.—The advantages of accident insurance are daily being proved. The Venango Reporter has the following cases in that vicinity: David D. Grant was insured and was hurt a few weeks ago, while loading an engine on the Allegheny river. He received twenty-five dollars for his disability. Cyrus Clark, of New Castle, was hurt at the commencement of Allegheny College, and receives his fifty dollars per week. Thomas Linchener, of West Chester, was hurt while driving his team on his farm, and receives his ten dollars per week compensation.

These of our readers who may desire any information on the subject of accident insurance we refer to the Venango Reporter, at the Park and French street, under the Reed House) who are agents for a number of the best Life, Fire and Accident Insurance Companies in the country.

PRIMA CONVENTIO.—The gentlemen from Erie and adjoining counties who intend attending the National Convention at Philadelphia, on the 14th of August, are requested to leave notice at the Observer office on or before Monday, August 13th, and it would add greatly to the pleasure of the trip should such be the case. Efforts are being made to secure excursion tickets, and if they are successful, due notice will be given through our columns.

SUMMER TOURS.—We specially direct the attention of those who may be thinking of making an excursion trip during the present month, to the trip to the Adirondacks, upon our first page. The route proposed is one of the most attractive in the country, and the advantage of procuring tickets for the whole journey at the point of departure is too obvious to need comment.

INDIAN DOCTOR.—Dr. G. G. Gowg, so justly celebrated for his skill as an Indian Doctor, is at the residence of the late Indian S. A. Douglas, in our own township, at Brown's Hotel. We see his specialties embrace some of the following: Fits, palsy, rheumatism, dropsy, neuralgia and scrofula. He is truly an Indian. Go and consult with him.

DOCUMENTS.—We have a large number of political documents on hand, for free circulation, which will be given to any who call for them. Stop when you are in the city, and procure a lot for circulation among your Republican neighbors.

Letter from Corry. Corry, July 23d, '66. Mr. Editor.—A rather bold thief and the arrest of the thief took place here on Thursday night last. You will recollect that a Mrs. Holloway's house, at Lowville, was broken into some time the latter part of last April or first of May, and Mrs. Holloway and her daughter, who were asleep, were stupefied with chloroform by some rascals from Columbus, Warren county, named Henry Hall, Irvin Kennedy and others. The two were arrested, and they were taken to jail at Erie. Kennedy was soon bailed out, but Hall remained there until a few days ago, when he was bailed out and returned to his home for trial. Well, this young Hall had been back to Columbus and Corry only a few days, when he went to Fred Zelly's, a German butcher in Corry, and wanted to sell him some fat cattle and deliver them in the night. Fred understood that they must be stolen, of course, and entered into an agreement to take some of the cattle, on a certain night week before last, and as soon as Hall went away, Fred went to Justice Guignon and told him the whole transaction, and the information was given to the police and others were on hand to receive the young man and his stolen property, but they did not appear. In a day or two Hall saw Fred again, and a new agreement was made for another night. That turned out as before, though Hall was there, but they did not appear. The young man was taken until last Thursday night, when they met at the slaughter house, and Hall had brought a splendid three year old steer from Lucas, and he was taken to the slaughter house, and more than half a mile from the slaughter house. Policeman Drury was on hand, and arrested the young man. In getting him into the buggy he got away from him and ran. The policeman told him to stop or he would shoot him. He did not stop, so the policeman fired two or three shots after him, none, however, taking effect. He ran into a marsh, and there he hid, where he lay until he was taken to jail. He was there until the following morning, when he was taken to Columbus and tried before Geo. Cadogan, and then committed to the Warren jail. You will see I have made a long story of it, but I declare I could not make it shorter.

Local Paragraphs. Dr. Kayser, Federal Hill, South Erie, Pa., is an experienced Surgeon. A Methodist Camp Meeting is to be held one and a half miles north of Union, in McFarland's woods, commencing on Wednesday, the 29th of August.

It is the work of a true man to be ever improving his position, and laying aside his pride. The task is a hard one, and we admit, but it pays in the end. Base ball continues all the rage among the young men of this vicinity. Clubs have been started at Girard, Corry and Warren, and others are talked of at Weigelville, Swanton and Westleyville.

And what Erie county asks for in September this District will readily grant.—Judge by the result of past Republican conferences, it will grant just the reverse. The "Erie Journal" says the Democrats of that district feel confident of their ability to make a hard fight on Congress, and they should not do. Will both the Observer and other parties mind their own business? Try it, for variety's sake.—Gazette.

The Young Men's Christian Association proposed to renew its effort to establish a public library. The committee expect to secure a library of two thousand volumes for use next winter. Success to their efforts. The Morning Review is the name of a new daily paper just established at Corry. Its politics are Radical, and it goes in strongly on Protectionism—a combination which will surely many to harmonize.

The Corry Democrat hoists the name of Captain Hutchinson, of Girard, as the candidate of our party for Congress, subject to the decision of the district conference. There are a few better hearts here or sounder Democrats than the Captain.

Dan Rice, since he became a candidate for Congress, has cast aside his own rig, and appears the rest dressed in his Sunday go to meeting rig. A great crowd of politicians was spotted when Dan went into the show business. A Corry correspondent of the Titusville Herald writes that operations on the Cross Cut Railway have commenced—that the money is ready to build it—and the work will be completed as soon as circumstances will permit.

The Titusville oil section promises to be for some time the main point of attraction to speculators in that line. New "strikes" are constantly reported, and though there are no very large wells, all have produced in remunerating quantities. The tickets to the Pie-Nic for the benefit of the Erie Normal School will be sold at twenty-five cents, instead of two dollars, as in the prospectus issued in last week's paper. The charge is so reasonable that every man, woman and child in the city should buy one.

The fall term of the Edinboro Normal School will open on the 28th inst., and close November 20th. This institution during the spring and summer has continued to maintain its well earned popularity, and had an enormously large number of scholars in attendance.

The Common Council on Monday evening passed a resolution that the City Solicitor be requested to draft an ordinance under which persons fined for breach of city ordinances should be required to work out unpaid fines upon the streets. What a happy time they would have entering such an ordinance!

The steam tug Home, Captain Burko, has been thoroughly refitted, and is now claimed to be the best vessel of the kind upon the Lake. A grand nation of the kind upon the Lake. A grand nation of the kind upon the Lake. A grand nation of the kind upon the Lake.

The Erie Academy will be re-opened the first week in September, under the supervision of Rev. J. Henry Black, who acted as principal in 1847-'50. Mr. B. takes charge for a term of years, thus obviating the difficulty which has, heretofore been created by frequent changes of principals.

A most delightful social gathering took place on Wednesday evening in the hall of the Liederhall, the occasion being the unfurling of their elegant new flag. Speeches were made by a number of persons, the chief of the highest order, and the music, singing, etc., were provided in abundance, and altogether it was an occasion long to be remembered with pleasure.

Cleveland county has appointed Ex Gov. Bigler, Hon. Wm. A. Wallace and Hon. Jas. T. Lounsbury delegates to the Democratic Congressional Conference at Ridgway, with power to select their own substitutes. This is a strong trio, and we should like to see the other counties of the district display equal care in appointing their delegates.

The Merchants Union Express Company have decided to establish an office in Erie, and secure a location opposite the Reed House, on French street. Our popular and enterprising young friend, C. H. Harris, (called Charley by the "boys") has been chosen agent—a selection that shows sound judgment.

Mr. Dawson of the Albany Journal, has sent his resignation to Washington, because he cannot support the policy of the Administration. We have heard no rumor that this example has been imitated by any Federal official in Erie county, although every one condemns the President's measures.

Jos. Eichenlaub has associated J. A. Eichenlaub with him in the boot and shoe trade, and the firm will hereafter be known as J. Eichenlaub & Co. They are the most extensive dealers in their line in Erie county, and the industry and enterprise they have shown has been attended by a richly earned success.

The Johnson Republicans held a meeting on Saturday evening and elected E. C. Wilson, Esq., delegate to the Philadelphia convention. We are informed that a number of our most influential Republican citizens participated in the proceedings. No office holder, however, was present—showing distinctly that we are of their sympathies with the Radicals, or at least are too timid to take open issue with them.

The following naval officers, formerly connected with the Michigan, and familiarly known to most of our citizens, have been promoted to the full grade of Commanders: James W. Shirk, James B. Joutel, R. B. Lowry, Francis A. Roe. Commander Shirk is now in the service of the Government. Shirk is now in the service of the Government. Shirk is now in the service of the Government.

In 1864 G. W. DeCamp was a candidate for State Senate, when he was indignously whipped by M. B. Lurvey. In 1865 he aspired to the Assembly, his "vaunting ambition" having a pug with the chances for Congress, and with as much chance for success as a frog would have to attempt to jump over the Rocky Mountains at one hop. As George is incited to be a candidate for something every year, it can be seen by this sliding scale about where his aspirations will place him. Next year he will, in all probability, be out for Assembly again; in 1868, he will try for Congress; in 1869, another nibble at the Assembly ball; then at Congress, and so on.

About the year 1860, he was likely to conclude that "all flesh is grass," "et cetera" and that he was not to be a candidate for anything in politics, but he was not content with the blessings of adversity. All other means having failed, the Erie Observer is induced to join in the attempt to elect and inaugurate a Cleveland county member in the Republican ranks here. We will endeavor to withstand even this pressure, and most respectfully decline to accept the Observer's authority for any candidate for anything in politics, but he was not content with the blessings of adversity.

The committee of arrangements for the great German Festival have adopted the following resolution. We urge that its suggestions be generally adopted: Resolved, That the business men and citizens generally are requested to decorate their buildings and residences with flags, and to wear appropriate badges of identification on the 21st and 22nd of August, in order that the Sangfests be held here upon those days, and to be observed in the same manner and with equal credit as other cities.

We cannot help but be reminded, after reading the list of Radical candidates in this county, of the youngster who wrote from the West to his father "down in New England": "Dad come out here. You will get along bully; mightly small get elected to office." The pressure of legal advertising crowds out much valuable matter for this week's issue.—Gazette.
