President's Message.

Fellow-Cilizens of the Senate and House

Representatives: After a brief interval the tongress of the United States resumes its annual legislative labors. An all-wise and merciful Providence has abated the pestilence which visited our shores, leaving its calamitous traces upon shores, leaving its calamitous traces upon some portions of our country. Peace, order, tranquility and civil authority, have been formally declared to exist throughout the whole of the United States. In all the States civil authority has superseded the coercion o arms, and the people, by their voluntary ac-tion, are maintaining their governments in full activity and complete operation. The en-fercement of the laws is no longer "obstructed in any State by combinations too powerful to be suppressed by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings;" and the animosities engendered by the war are rapidly yielding to the beneficent influences of our free insti tutions, and to the kindly effect of unrestricted social and commercial intercourse. An entire restoration of fraternal feeling must be the carnest wish of every patriotic heart; and we will have accomplished achievement when, forgetting the sad events of the past, and remembering only their instructive lessons, we resume our chward career as a free, prosperous and united

It is true, it has been as uned that the existence of the States was terminated by the rebellious acts of their inhabitants, and that the rebellion having been suppressed they were thenceforward to be considered as merely conquered territories. The Legislative, Executive and Ju dicial departments of the Government have, however, with great distinctness and uniform consistency, refused to sanction an assumption so incompatible. sanction an assumption so incompatible with the nature of our republican system, Throughout the recent legislation of Congress the undeniable fact makes itself apparent, that these ten political communi-ties are nothing less than States of this parent, that these ten political communi-Union.
