THE COST OF GAS. - The citizens of Syracuse Tears complained of the extortions and anwance of the single gas company which for erly supplied that city with gas.- The price harged was $4 per thousand feet; the qualiof gas furnished was very moor. The citi ne, after a weary effort to secura fair dealing the hands of the company, resolved to help hemselves The leading citizens of the place arted a gas company on the mutual principle, al succeeded in distributing the stock among hublic proportionately to the amount gas used by them-respectively. At ngth the monopolists woke up to the conmence of the bad feeling they had created. a last resort they offered to sell their busia to the city at a fair valuation, but the uthorities refused to have anything to do nth them The new company is now supplyng the city-or rather the citizens are suptring themselves-and the cost of gas to them a one dollar per thousand feet. 🦂

Court Proceedings.

The regular February term of the Criminal ourt commenced on Monday afternoon, Jao. Vincent, Additional Law Judge, presiding. he list of cases is extremely large and the Court House has been crowded during most of he time to a greater extent than we recollect f seeing it in a long period. The Judge's harge to the Grand. Jury contained nothing f special interest, except his allusion to the red of providing additional accommodations or the coupty poor. - The Poor House, he tated, had become inadequate for the purpoes it was established, and over 800 persons re receiving outside relief, at a heavy addiounl expense to the county. The following re the proceedings of the Court : Christian Braun. Selling beer without a cense. Fined $35 and costs.
