mouths puckered to sing—"Hail Columbia, happy land!"

"If I could sell my little property I would not stay in the d-d county forty-eight hours, although our country is with us by a large majority."

"We can't help it—we are so 'biling' over with patriotism, that it fairly froths our faces out; let us again unite with us—'Hail Columbia, happy land!'"

"The wife of Mr. Parker, who recently purchased an interest in the Acacomas lime stone quarry, has been made cognizant of the terrible truth that she has within her stomach a living snake or lizard."

"On Monday last the attempt was made to dissolve the loathsome creature by placing a pan of heated milk near the patient's mouth and permitting her to inhale the steam."

"The Cameron Legislature which has just adjourned, gave evidence of the boldest system of robbery that has ever been perpetrated upon any body of people."

"The Commissioners of the Kentucky institution for the education and training of feeble minded children have just made a report to the Legislature, in which they call attention to the practice, which is quite common in Kentucky, of the marriage of blood relations."

"Not many days ago a Captain de la Mesa, who looks after Federal interests in Rome, Georgia, made an astounding discovery. While sneaking around the city he saw an obnoxious and disloyal sign—a rebellious board bearing on its face the representation of a lone star on a red ground! Armed with 'loyal' power, backed by the Free Man's Bureau and the Rump, he compelled the proprietors of the sign to remove it."

"The Raleigh (N. C.) Sentinel gives an account of the burning of a negro by four men, and two freed women named Collins, mother and daughter, who believed the child was a devil."

"In the latter part of 1825, a man named William Morgan, who lived in Batavia, N. Y., with a very good looking, yellow-haired wife, threatened to expose the secrets of Masonry, of which order he was a member; and it was currently reported that he had published a book for the purpose of carrying out his threat."

"Vulgar Language.—There is as much connection between the words and the thoughts as there is between the thoughts and the actions. The latter are not only the expressions of the former, but they have power to react upon the soul and leave the stain of their corruption there. A young man who allows himself to make use of vulgar or profane words has not only shown that there is a foul spot upon his mind, but by the utterance of that word he extends that spot and inflames it, till, by indulgence, it will pollute and ruin the whole soul. Be careful of your words, as they show your thoughts. If you can control the tongue so that no improper words are pronounced by it, you will soon be able to control the mind, and save that which would otherwise be extinguished by thoughts bursting out in language. Never utter a word anywhere which you would be ashamed to speak in the presence of the most refined female or the most religious man. Try this practice a little while, and you will soon have command of yourself."

"The New York Times says: 'In our judgment, the great pressing necessity of the Southern States is to get back into the Union—not theoretically, but actually—to demonstrate that they are there according to the Constitution, but to get there in such a way that they can be recognized, can send Senators and Representatives into Congress, can have a voice and vote in making laws and electing Presidents and shaping the action of the National Government. The sooner they can do this the better for themselves. Unless they do it, they are mere subjects of a power at extra-territorially separate and alien to them. They have no share in making the laws which force compels them to obey. They are utterly powerless, and must remain until by some means or other they can resume their actual representation in Congress.'

"Ignorance and Superstition.—Recently in the Senate of the United States, Mr. Ferry, a Radical, made use of the following language in attempting to explain the result of the late election in Connecticut: 'The vote of the Republicans was larger than that of last year. The Democratic vote was not so large as the Republican vote. Owing to this cause the Republicans always had a hard battle to fight. They must win concessions of Americans regard to their schools and churches, while the ignorance and superstition of the Old World are poured into the ranks of the party with which his colleague was proud to affiliate.'

"Whenever the Radical can insult and abuse our adopted citizens they unhesitatingly do so, and yet they are continually trying to get their votes at every ballot-box in the country."

"Carriages, valued under $300, are exempt from taxation under the new law. Dr. J. J. 'Expectant' notoriety, left over two millions worth of property. A negro recently refused to take the oath as Postmaster at East Depot, Virginia, because he 'sympathized' with the South during the rebellion. A Vermont, taking his family West, recently bought twenty-five railroad tickets. He got with him a family of thirty-four children—the latter including eleven pairs of twins. Helltown, Ohio, is agitated by a proposition to sell the town to Communists. A large portion of the Helltowners are in favor of retaining its old name, and the discussion is exciting. An ex-Secundus Adventist in New York State for ten years has been feeding a big dog for a feast when Christ should appear. He has starved the rest of his stock and spent his money in his property in purchasing food for that dog. Among the applicants for divorce in Chicago, on the 14th inst., was a man who testified that for more than two years past his wife had been an invalid, and that during that time he had been in the most unmerciful manner, and that on several occasions he had been necessary to call in the night to attend to her. Whether the justice should be punished for doing what the negro asked is puzzling the Alabama lawyers. The war stars and shoulder-straps in our Army on its peace footing is reported to be as follows: Major Gen. Sherman, $14,120; Major Gen. Halleck, $7,717; Major Gen. Meade, $7,717; Major Gen. Sheridan, $7,717; Major Gen. Thomas, $7,717; Brig. Gen. McDowell, $3,858; Brig. Gen. Canby, $3,858; Colonel, $1,929; Lieutenant Colonel, $964; Major, $478; Captain, $239; First Lieutenant, $119; and Second Lieutenant, $59.50. A resolution which has passed the Michigan House, requesting the regents of the State University at Ann Arbor to expel all students who took part in the rebellion, has greatly excited the students and the friends of the University. One of the former states that he recently handed to the regents a paper containing the subscription for a monument to the Michigan soldiers, and he subscribed more than any one else, saying of the matter: 'I know what heroes they are, and here's to their memory!' A young man was drowned in Arkansas during the recent flood while attempting to rescue his sister, who had taken refuge on the top of her house from the rising waters. Her swim in her own boat, but failed to reach the house and turned back, but receded by the rising water, and she was thrown from her house and sank and both perished beneath her sight. She remained on the house nearly three days before she was rescued. Mexico Bares.—An Alliance correspondent of the Canton (O.) Repository relates the following: 'Some days ago, there was a dancing party given for the benefit of the Fenians on the outskirts of town, and several of the ladies present had little babies, whose notary presence required special attention to allow their ma's to enjoy the 'shop.' A number of gallant young men volunteered to guard the infancy while the ladies engaged in the 'breakdown.' No sooner had the music begun than the Fenian boys, who were dressed in their homes several miles apart, started to the music before the party, and being far in the way before the party, they were in the most unmerciful manner, and that on several occasions he had been necessary to call in the night to attend to her. A young man was drowned in Arkansas during the recent flood while attempting to rescue his sister, who had taken refuge on the top of her house from the rising waters. Her swim in her own boat, but failed to reach the house and turned back, but receded by the rising water, and she was thrown from her house and sank and both perished beneath her sight. She remained on the house nearly three days before she was rescued. Mexico Bares.—An Alliance correspondent of the Canton (O.) Repository relates the following: 'Some days ago, there was a dancing party given for the benefit of the Fenians on the outskirts of town, and several of the ladies present had little babies, whose notary presence required special attention to allow their ma's to enjoy the 'shop.' A number of gallant young men volunteered to guard the infancy while the ladies engaged in the 'breakdown.' No sooner had the music begun than the Fenian boys, who were dressed in their homes several miles apart, started to the music before the party, and being far in the way before the party, they were in the most unmerciful manner, and that on several occasions he had been necessary to call in the night to attend to her. Whether the justice should be punished for doing what the negro asked is puzzling the Alabama lawyers. The war stars and shoulder-straps in our Army on its peace footing is reported to be as follows: Major Gen. Sherman, $14,120; Major Gen. Halleck, $7,717; Major Gen. Meade, $7,717; Major Gen. Sheridan, $7,717; Major Gen. Thomas, $7,717; Brig. Gen. McDowell, $3,858; Brig. Gen. Canby, $3,858; Colonel, $1,929; Lieutenant Colonel, $964; Major, $478; Captain, $239; First Lieutenant, $119; and Second Lieutenant, $59.50. A resolution which has passed the Michigan House, requesting the regents of the State University at Ann Arbor to expel all students who took part in the rebellion, has greatly excited the students and the friends of the University. One of the former states that he recently handed to the regents a paper containing the subscription for a monument to the Michigan soldiers, and he subscribed more than any one else, saying of the matter: 'I know what heroes they are, and here's to their memory!'
