She has furnished to the world her quota of great men, and if she was too poor herself to sup-port them she has given to every nation on Earth some of their bravest and brightest lustre. If our friend of the Dispatch thinks we are ambitious and blood-thirsty in trying to throw off the yoke of oppression, he must have changed his mind wonderfully since the time of freeing the blacks of the South, which he considered a most sacred course. But let him think as he please, I welcome the gun and bayonet as a sacred means of elevating the condition of a tyrannized and oppressed people, and if some time they have assumed the shape of the serpent by reddening the shroud of the oppressed to too deep a dye, they have as often burst forth into celestial flowers to deck the brows of freemen. I welcome them because at their blow Earth some of their bravest and brightes men. I welcome them because at their blow a mighty nation sprung up at this side of the Atlantic, and at the crippling magic of their quivering crimson light, these Colonies sprang into the attitude of a proud Republic, free, prosperous, limitless, and invincible.

TO EVERY DEMOCRAT.

POOR DIRECTOR.

All the information we obtain is of the most cheering character, and leads to the confident belief that if the Democrats turn Cameron ought to influence a single vote, out in their ENTIRE STRENGTH we shall win because they never have been questioned by a certain and overwhelming victory.

In this city the prominent men of the Opposition openly concede the State to the Democrats, and we are convinced that nothing but the most gross and culpable neglect of duty on the part of our friends can deprive us of success.

The great, and almost the only danger, rests in the probability that many Democrats who have:not given the subject proper reflection, or are unapprised of the encouraging prospects, see their way out at the ballot box, and we deeming the contest of little interest or feeling advise them to do it." disheartened over past disasters, may not visit the polls, and will thus allow it to go against us by default.

We would earnestly urge upon every Demshould devote as much labor as possible in the attention of our friends, and securing their presence at the polls on the day of elec-

We need scarcely remind you that this election is the key-note to the next Presidential campaign. Should we carry now, in the three great States of Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio, victory will be almost certain in 1868. A half dozen votes gained or lost in every election district will win or lose us the State. The cause is as sacred to every Democrat as the affection he bears to his family or friends, and we trust there are none in Erie county who are not willing to render any service that may be needed to promote its welfare.

THE LAST TWO DODGES.

The absurd and unscrupulous ends to which the Radicals will resort for success re ceives fresh illustration in the course pursued by them in the present campaign. Finding that upon the legitimate issues between the two parties they were certain of defeat, they have fallen -back upon the old plan of appealing to the hates and fears of How can our cotemporary reconcile its the public, and circulating false stories calculated to work their followers up to the highest stage of partizan excitement. The overshadowing questions of reconstruction, of taxation, of extravagance, of negro suffrage, of the proper mode of regulating the liouor traffic are left almost untouched by their press and speakers, and an attempt sought to be made to divert the notice of the people from them by unfounded representations of the President's intentions, and appeals to the worst qualities of their natures;

We have not seen a Radical editorial or heard a Radical speech for a month, which did not reiterate the exploded canard that in case of a Democratic victory in Pennsylvania, Mr. Johnson has determined to dishand the present Congress and order an election ident and his friends have experient the Presed the purpose alleged, that he does not possess the authority to do so, even if he wished. and that every man of good sense knows it collected. It is not true that not a dollar of would be a failure if attempted;—the "roor this amount was collected as a tax upon real back" is a "good enough Morgan" to suit the estate. In 1866 an act was passed remitting present campaign ends and would continue to the real estate tax, but there-is no evidence be difficulty circulated were a voice from that it has been discontinued." THE DISPATCH AND JUDGE WIL-After the determined antagonism of the Dispatch to Simon Cameron, and the clique of which he is the chief, it was no more than natural that we should expect it to be consistent in opposing the election of any or his faction to office in future within this Com- litical fortunes upon the wane, Mr. Grow monwealth. We confess, therefore, to some surprise at finding an editorial in its columns of Wednesday, in which the support of Judge Williams is vigorously urged upon its readers, and an attempt made to palliate the objectionable features of his record. Alluding to the familiar fact of his intimacy with Cameron, our cotemporary seeks to "swing around the circle" in the following ingenious

"The Democrats are making good use of Williams' intimacy with Cameron, to tell against him, for the well known reason that We hope that no Democrat will forget the vast importance of securing a full party vote at the election on Tuesday next.

Cameron does not command the full respect and confidence of the Republican party. Though we cannot by any means advise a party to elect their man at all hazards, let him be what he may, merely for the sake of power—[an evil power when in evil hands] —we do not believe Williams' relations with any but Democrats, and do not appear to go beyond such intercourse as ordinarily transpires between politicians. If he is of the true Simon Cameron stamp he ought to be crushed at once. Crushing him now however, would be the success of Sharswood, whose political affinities are far more objectionable than the Cameron school of shars. ionable than the Cameron school of shar-

The argument of the Dispatch that it would be better to elect Williams, bad as his record is than to have Judge Sharswood succeed, is as flimsy as its attempt to conceat his political associations. It is glaringly inconsistent with the theory of the editorial immediately preceding the one to which weallude, discussing the duty of Republicans towards Lowry, in which the following sentences occur: ... اب الأ

Now what objection can be nrged against Lowry that does not bear with the same control of the party for years in the future. force against Williams? Both are members of the same objectionable clique, and the election of either would be inited through-out the length and breadth of the land as a Cameron victory. We were told by the Dispatch last spring that every honest citizen owed a duty to his country to contribute to the defeat of the Cameron clan at every haz- boring for the success of Judge Williams ard, and that almost any event would be better than its continued retention in power, position at that time with its support of Wiliams now ? REDUCTION OF THE STATE DEST. The Radical papers, for some time past, have been making a wonderful ado over an alleged reduction of the State debt, which is declared by a Proclamation of Gov. Geary to have occurred within the past year. The amount alleged to have been reduced is some eighteen hundred thousand dollars, which, we are told, have been paid."without collect ing one single dollar from the farmer and tate." "RENO" GROW.

We cannot help but think that the Radicals of this county must be rather hard pressed for stumping material when they are compelled to resort to such a worn out political hack as Galusha A. Grow as their leading gun in the campaign. This Mr. Grow was formerly a representative in Congress from the Tioga, Bradford and Susquehanna district, of this State, and by some stroke of fortune was thrown to the surface as Sneaker of the House of Representatives. In making the apportionment of the State, a district was cut out for his express benefit, but his unpopularity had become so great that although the Radicals were supposed to have a certain majority of several hundred, he was defeated by an out-and-out Democrat, Finding his posought to obtain consolation in the speculative field, and the next thing we heard of him he was up to his eves in oil operations, as Presdent of the celebrated Reno enterprise. The character of this concern is too familiar to the public to need repetition, and it is sufficient indication of Mr. Grow's moral qualities that he should have lent himself to the promotion of Culver's fool-hardy experiments with a full knowledge of their internal weakness and rascality. The untimely fate of the Reno scheme left Grow high and dry, both as a political and business adventurer, and since hen he has been perambulating the country from East to West, vainly believing that by repeating his school-boy declamation and traducing his old time associates, the Radical party will be induced to take him up as its next candidate for Vice President. It is eminently appropriate, however, that a humbur in politics, and the President of the wildest scheme for humbugging the people out of their money that was devised during the speculative oil mania, should again appear upon the stage as one of the chief spokesmer of a party which is itself the greatest hum bug of the age.

THE Anti-Lowry Republicans must be blind if they cannot see that the main object of Mr. Lowry and his friends in the present campaign is to secure control of the party organization in so effectual a manner as to retain it as long as they choose in the future. They have already constituted the County Committee in a manner to suit their porposes, and in the selection of the Vigilance uttees the interests of the Lowry. clique have been kept as steadily in view. A glance over the list shows that three-fifths, not more, are Lowry's active supporters, and we have good reason for the belief that in receiving their instructions care has been taken to impress upon them the need of specially devoting themselves to securing as large a vote as possible for that candidate. Should his vote be nearly or quite as large as that for the remainder of the ticket, it will be made use of to show his popularity among the people, and the opposition element will be claimed to comprise a mere handful of the Republican voters of the county. We do not know what course the Anti-Lowry men propose to pursue, but if they allow themselves to be dragooned into his support under the circumstances, they will prove themselves richly deserving the fate that has attended them and be unworthy the sympathy of any class of the community. His success at the present time will make him more domineering than ever, and his enemies may rely upon it that henceforward he will show them no quarter. It is the candid belief of many of our most intelligent citizens that if the Anti-Lowry element were to remain away from the field, or vote for the Democratic candi date, Lowry's defeat could be easily secured. We put it to them, which course would b wisest to pursue—to give him his political death-blow at once, or by helping again to elevate him to power, enable him to wield The issue rests wholly in their hands and

Some of the friends of Gov. Curtin may be at'a loss to account for the neculiar zeal with which Mr. Lowry and his/s upporters are la-They have seldom been so active in past campaigns, and there are reasons, undoubtedly, which account for their exertions at present. Can it be that the motive lies in the fact that Williams is one of the famous Cameron clique, and that a large vote, is de sired for him here in order to show that the opposition to Cameron is not as strong a has been represented? It will be recollected that when Cameron was elected the friends of Curtin in our county set up a terrific would show their condemnation of the act at the polls when the opportunity offered. The Dispatch and Gazette charged Cameron with being the worst man in Pennsylvania and loudly called for a verilict against him and his friends from the people. The time has come when the coveted opportunity occurs and lo, instead of carrying out their boldly announced intentions, we find them fighting had been Cameron's allies all their lifetimes Is it likely that Mr. Lowry, who is one of Cameron's most intimate friends, wishes a heavy vote for Williams, in order that he many claim it as an endorsement of his course upon the United States Senatorship! We merely guess at the matter, but venture the prediction that in case Judge Williams receives the full Rudical vote, it will be received by Mr. Lowry as a vindication of himself and General Cameron, and so heralded

Hon. John Hickman, who was nominat the Republicans in Chester county for the Pennsylvania Legislature, made a speech in which he gives his opinion of Harrishurg in the following plain terms: in the following plain terms:

"I would rather spend three months in the poor house or prison of Chester county than in Harrisburg. No man can go there and come back with an unsullied reputation, and I am not sure that it is not my enemies rather than my friends that desire to send me there."—Dispatch.

The picture of official life in Harrisburg drawn by Mr. Hickman is anything but a respect. A man who is capable of giving complimentary one to his party friends. For more than seven years they have had entire control of the State Government, and if matters have grown to such a stage in that period that an honest man like Mr. Hickman is afraid of trusting his reputation at the Capital, what will they come to in case the same party remains in power a few years longer? We sincerely trust that when Mr. Lowry's friends read Mr. Hickman's representation of the frightful wickedness prevailing at Harrisburg: they: will desist from foreing him to spend his winters there for three years fonger. To meet the effects of this reckless extravagance and corruption, from one to two million dollars have been added to the personal tax levy of the various counties for the years 1808 and 1867. Six years I have labored in the Senate, with untiring zeal, pressing upon the people of the State the wants and growing importance of my District, and, I say it not in vain-glorying, I believe that the public men of the State and nation are more strong-ly bound to Eric through me than through any other agency, while her debauched press has but drawn upon her the storn and sorrow has but (174 m ppoil her the score and sarrow of all whose friendship is worth a rush to her or her commerce, and every vote she gives against me is a vote for Andrew Johnson and the devil, and will prove, as those of the past hour have been, rather expensive luxuries.

• I have stood for six years in the Senate battling for the rights of man and to hold in check incorporated respellix. in check incorporated rescality. It is my pride, during that time, not to have given one vote on any political question which does not now if it did not then, meet the approval of every Radical man and paper in the State.

of every Radical man and paper in the State, always excepting the Erie papers, and they, by their indecent and venomous abuse, have scored me without mercy, but not, as the re-sultanows, without profit to me, for they have disgusted thinking people, and won me the sympathy of many a true Radical id Erle and Erle county.

Weak and short-sighted men have slandered me because I refused to vote for Stevens for the United States Senate, who stood be-fore us in his grave clothes, and when I meet fore us in his grave clothes, and when I meet Stevens on the other side of Jordan, he will cheer me for my firmness and censure those who, at such a time, brought him to Itarrisburg on such an errant. I am responsible to a great extent for the election of Simon Cameron; and I glory in it. I feel that my work is not done, and those Republicans who have attempted to strike me down, will receive my foreigness before they receive their own my forgiveness before they receive their own. The war upon me in the newspapers at Erie, clear through, was unjustifiable, and I will live to hear my enemies and my country's enemies say so. It is said that the shares of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia are being disposed of with unexampled rapidity. The latest of all concealment, the honesty of purpose manifested by those who first in augurated the enterprise the fairness with which the proposed final distribution is to be conducted, and the patriotic purpose to which the entire surplus is to be applied, have taken firm hold upon public confidence. So large have the sales been thut far that the trustees hope to anticipate the time origin.

disaster upon thousands of families, cripple every honest industry, and bring upon the country a financial crash, such as the world has never seen."

We cannot help but think that the Democrat who will give Lowry his vote after the above declaration, must have a very meager attachment to his principles, or trifling self respect. A man who is capable of giving such a distorted, hypocritical and offensive statement of the issues at stake has no claim upon Democratic voters.

OSBORN'S Self Acting Wagon Brake AND DUMPING DEVICE 1

Selection of the selection of " Patented April 7th, 1867.

This truly wonderful invention is performed by means of a double reach, which contracts when the wagon presses forward and compels the action of the brake.

This brake can be used with all kinds of loading, as well with a load of hay as with a load of wood, and is consequently useful to both the farmer and teamster. Also, by means of the earlier contraction of the reach, which is done by the axidin of the team induc, the box may be dumped like a cart. These improvements may be attached to any wagon, efther combined or singly, at a trifling cost. Wherever it has been shown it has received unusual approbation. The agent for Eric county proposes to sell the county right, either by townships or as a county, to suit purchasers, and for this purpose will canvass the county and exhibit a wagon to show its bracited working, any who may wish to engage in a lucrative employment will do well to see him or address him at North East.
