DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET. AUDITOR GENERAL

CHAS. E., BOYLE, of Fayette Co. SURVEYOR GENERAL, W. H. ENT, of Columbia Co.

THE LATE ELECTIONS. The latest corrected returns from New Hampshire make the majority for Harriman 2,530. The House of Representatives will probably show 193 Republicans and 138 Democrats. The Lower House of the Legislature stood in 1867, 203 Radicals to 128 Dem ocrats; Radical majority, 75. The vote of New Hampshire for the three preceding years was as follows: 1865 4,656 3,146

The Biddeford (Me.) Democrat figures up the Democratic gains in the recent election in that State. In Biddeford the Democratic gain is 105 over last year; in Saco it is 103; in Kennebunkport it is 61; in Augusta, it is 80; in Gorham it is 154; in Lincoln it is 80; asked is reasonable and necessary. The pr in Lewiston it is 460. In most of the other towns the gains have been heavy.

The town elections held in New York all tell one story-overwhelming Democratic gains as compared with last fall, when the Radicals were everywhere beaten. With these facts before us, it is safe to say that were a Presidential election to be held now the Democrats would carry the State by a hundred thousand majority.

The Democracy of Orange, New Jersey, carried the city by a majority of 245, making a large gain and sweeping everything. Brunswick, in the same State, elects the Democratic ticket by 400 majority-a gain of 33 per cent. In Salem, the Democratic gain is 72. The Democracy of Bridgeton madea-sain of 112 over last spring.

At the election in Hollidaysburgh, Pa., tor borough officers, the Democratic candidates were elected by a majority of 65, being a gain of 40 over the vote of last fall. The election at Tyrone shows a Democratic gain of twenty-two over last year. In Pike county, the Democrats have increased majorities in every district. The gains are large, not only over the gubernational election of 1866, but over the late contest for Judges of the Supreme Court, The municipal election in Lock Haven resulted in a most gratifying victory to the Democracy. Every ward has been swept, not a single Radical candidate being elected. In the West Ward the Democracy have made astonishing gains and completely turned the tables. In Pine Creek and Elderton townships, Armstrong county, the Democratic gain is 40 over last fall.

The telegraph heralded a great Radical triumph in Memphis. The papers of that city, giving the classified vote of the various wards, show that of a total vote of 7.154, only 2.838 were whites: The negroes outnumber the whites nearly two to one-by a major ity of 1.478. Of the 2.838 whites, six-sevenths-a majority 2,022-voted the Conservative ticket. Of the 4.316 blacks forty-sixforty-seventh-a majority of 4.130-voted the Radical ticket. This is a striking evidence of the result of negro domination. Westfield, Mass., went Democratic last week by 130 majority, being the first victory for our party in that town for nine years.

THE COUNTER INDICTMENT.

We the people of the United States, pondering the events of the last three years-our interests neglected, our rights violated, our most sacred instincts outraged by the party in power-by virtue of our immortal soverfrom off the face of the earth, and by the authority inherent in free institutions, do now set forth the following charges; and set them forth, not as quibbling and wordy lawyers, but broadly and in the general, as befits masters speaking to their servants, to wit: First-We charge Thaddeus Stevens and his following with incompetency, incoherency, failure; in that, having exercised for three years all possible powers, they have accomplished nothing, save only this-that in the month of March, 1868, the country is more divided, its energy more depressed, its business more balting its finances and revenue policy, more disordered than each and all of them were in the month of April, 1865.

Second-We charge the said parties with having, throughout these months and years, almost without exception, subordinated the essential and permanent interests of the whole people to the temporary exigencies (real or supposed) of what is at best but a faction of Third-We charge the said parties with having, as political foot-pads, robbed the exceptive function of its most important attributes, conferring, or pretending to confer, them on a stalking horse unknown to our frame of Government, namely, a General-in-Chief.

Hendricks, Howe, Johnson, McCreery, Morrill (of Vermont,) Norton, Patterson (of Tennessee,) Saulsbury, Sherman, Sprague, Trumbull, Van Winkle, Vickers, and Willey—26.

Absent—Mr. Doolittle.

Not voting—Mr. Wade. having, as political foot-pads, robbed the ex-Chief.

Fourth-Not content with degradation of the person for the time being invested with the Presidential authority, we charge the said parties with the intention and effort to reduce the position itself to a level with that of King of Great Britain, that is to say to an inert and empty title.

Fifth-Lastly, we charge the said parties with having attempted intimidation of the tribunal before which the official representative of the people's majesty is to be tried. For all and each of which high crimes and misdemeanors we cite the said parties and all their abettors to appear before the High Court of the People on the 3d day of November next, then to listen to our verdict-Guilty, or Not Guilty.

OUR CANDIDATES. Wherever our candidates for Auditor and Surveyor General are known, their personal qualities are unequivocally endorsed by the press of both parties. Mr. Boyle, from having served two years in the Legislature, has Gen. Ent, and of him the Radical press speak in terms of the most unlimited praise. As a sample, we quote from the Harrisburg State

"Mr. Charles E. Boyle, of Favette county the Democratic nominee for Auditor General is among the extreme men of the faction is among the extreme men of the faction to which he belongs, though it cannot be denied that he is a man of ability, that he is personally honest, and if elected Auditor General, would make a competent officer."

The Meadville Republican, whose editor. Mr. White, was a neighbor and intimate acquaintance of Mr. Boyle's, thus bears testimony to his qualifications for the place to which he has been nominated:

party in many years. Mr. Boyle is a r of Fayette county, was formerly editor of the Genius of Liberty, at Uniontown, and for the Genus of Liberty, at Unionown, and for the past two years has been a member of the lower House at Harrisburg. He is a gentleman of pleasing manners, amiable and affable, and his record as a legislator has been tree from any taint of corruption so far as we have observed it. He is really too good a man to be the candidate of a 'toul party.'"

THE Radicals have made more history since they have had charge of the government than any other party since the old Revever heard of, and now they are prepared to but it will be made a law over the veto, in wind up with impeachment and revolution. They are a lively party now, say what you will, and as long as the people will stand the

THE IMPEACHMENT SCANDAL.

The Senate Chamber was crowded from top to bottom on Friday of last week, with men and women, anxious to witness the At one o'clock, the Chief Justice took the presiding officer's chair, and, after some unimportant preliminary business, the managers and members of the House were admitted to seats in the Chamber. The counsel for the President occupied a table on the right of the Chief Justice and opposite to the managers, who were scated on the left, Mr. Johnon himself, not being in attendance. Mr. Stanbery arose and produced a paper, from which he impressively read, amid the profoundest silence, the following:

"In the matter of the impeachment of An lrew Johnson, President of the United States, Henry Stanbery, Benjamin R. Curtis, Jeremiah S. Black, William M. Evarts, and Thos. R. Nelson, of counsel for the respondent, move the court for an allowance of forty days for the preparation of the answer to the articles of impeachment, and in support of the motion make the following professional statement:

"The articles are eleven in number, involving many questions of law and fact. We have, during the limited time and opportuniy offered us, considered as far as possible the ield of investigation which must be explored in the preparation of the answer; and the conclusion at which we have arrived is that, 500; in Portland it is 900; in Windham it is with the utmost diligence, the time we have cedents as to time for answer upon impeachment before the Senate to which we have that before the Senate to which we have had opportunity to refer are those of Judge Chase and Judge Peck,

"In the case of Judge Chase time was allowed from the 3d of January until the 11th of February next succeeding, to put in his answer, a period of thirty-two days, but in this case there was but a single article. "Indge Peck asked for time from the 10th to the 25th of May, to put in his answer, and it was granted. It appears that Judge Peck had been long cognizant of the ground laid for his impeachment, and had been present before the committee of the House upon the examination of the witnesses and had been present to that body an elaborate answer to the charges.

"It is apparent that the President is fairly entitled to more time than was allowed in either of the foregoing cases. It is proper to add that the respondents in these cases were lawyers fully capable of preparing their own answers, and that no pressing official duties interfered with their attention to that business. Whereas, the President, not being a lawyer, must rely on his counsel; the charges involve his acts, relations, and intentions, as to all which his counsel must be fully advised upon consultation with him, step by step, in the preparation of his defence.

"It is seldom that a case requires such constant communication between client and counsel as this, and yet such communication lowed to the President from the usual hour. that must be devoted to his high official du-

"We further beg leave to suggest for the consideration of this honorable court, that as counsel, careful as well of their own reputation as of the interests of their client, in a the ordinary range of professional experience, where so much responsibility is felt, they submit to the candid consideration of the court that they have a right to ask for themselves such opportunity to discharge their duty as seems to them to be absolutely necessary. "HENRY STANBERY,

The eyes of all in the Chamber were turned to the managers as Mr. Stanbery took | back door, and even at the window. There his seat. Mr. Bingham, one of the House managers, arose and developed at once the startling tactics and indecent haste of the prosecution, by announcing that it was expected that under the eighth rule of those adopted by the court the President must file his answer this day unless otherwise ordered. This assertion created the most intense surprise to the President's counsel, and, in fact, seemingly to every one who heard it made. He insisted that if the President had failed to answer, as in fact he had, eignty, in the name of the Constitution to according to his construction of the rule; the which we all owe fealty, in the behalt of that trial would have to go on just as if a plea of liberty which has never yet quite perished "not guilty" had been entered; and the ac-A lengthy debate then took place between Judge Curtis and Mr. Stanbery on the President's side, and Messrs. Wilson and Bing ham on that of the House, involving substantially the same points as above given. Finally, the Senate retired to consult over the matter, and on its return, at 4 o'clock the Chief Justice said : "The motion of respondent's counsel for forty days' time in which to file their answer has been overruled, and the 23d day of March is fixed for said return." Mr. Bingham then moved that the trial proceed forthwith on said 23d day of March. The motion was lost by yeas 25, nays 26, as

Yays—Messrs. Anthony, Bayard, Buckalew, Davis, Dixon, Edmunds, Fessenden, Fowler, Frelinghuysen, Grimes, Henderson, Hendricks, Howe, Johnson, McCreery, Morrill (of Maine) Morrill (of Vermont) Norton

were made; but one, offered by Mr. Conkling, that the trial proceed immediately after the replication be filed by the House to the President's answer on the 23d of March was adopted by a strict party vote; yeas, 40; nays, 10. The latter were Messrs. Bayard, Buckalew, Davis, Dixon, Hendricks, Johnson, McCreery, Norton, Patterson (of Tennessee,) Saulsbury, and Vickers.

On the preliminary motion to fix different dates, none exceeding April 6, no votes were taken; but an hour's discussion took place against such a brief time, by Mr. Curtis for the President, and Butler for the Managers -for the shortest notice. The latter's speech was exceedingly partisan, full of low flingssuch, for instance, as one, "that the Lord destroyed the earth in forty days, and that it would not take any such time to try im- der by adopting as the 4th plank in its platpeachment." Mr. Nelson, of the President's counsel, handsomely rebuked the partisan- ing: ship of Butler, and spoke eloquently of the solemnities of the pending events, which, he solemnities of the pending events, which, he said in no spirit of compliment, were now all the bonds issued therefor should be paid a reputation more generally familiar than passing before the highest tribunal on earth.

The indications of the day all point to the selection of Hon. Geo. H. Pendleton, of Ohio, as the probable nominee of the Democratic opening ceremonies of the impeachment trial. National Convention for President, with Mayor Hoffman, of New York, or Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin, as Vice President. In our recent visit to the East we found the feeling in favor of Mr. Pendleton nearly unanimous, and some of his warmest supporters are gentlemen hailing from localities where it is not generally supposed that he has great deal of strength. Mr. Belmont, Chairnan of the Democratic National Committee, said to favor his nomination, and the friends of Mr. Pendleton allege that over half of the New York delegation are pledged to sustain him. We may be deceived in appearances, but if the current of feeling among the leading politicians of the State is a reliable index, there is little chance to go amiss in predicting who Pennsylvania's choice will be in the Fourth of July Convention. With place of safety by the police, who informed Grant as the representative of the bondholders, and Pendleton on a platform declaring in favor of count taxation, and the same kind of money for the poor as for the rich, we have no doubts as to the results of the con-
